WILSON FIXES THE PRICE OF PRINT PAPER

PRESIDENT ORDERS PRICE FIXED DOWN ON A FAIR BASIS

Will Serve as Important Precedent
Because Wilson Means Also That Same Price Is for Public.

SLASHES HALF-CENT FROM TRUST PRICE

Washington, Aug. 30.—In an order which newspaper publishers declare will serve as an important precedent, President Wilson has fixed a price of two and one-half cents on news-print paper for use in publishing the government's daily Official Bulletin.

The order fixing the price was issued by Secretary Baker at the president's direction under the national defense act, which empowers the government to commandeer supplies needed for war purposes. It was directed to the International Paper company, which has declined to furnish newsprint for the Bulletin at less than three cents a pound.

Newspaper publishers who learned of the order today voiced the hope that it might open the way to cheaper newsprint to publishers generally. They called attention to statements by the president that the administration's war policy would be one that provides the same price for the public as for the government.

At instance of Congress. The president's action was taken at the instance of the joint congressional committee on printing of which Senator Fletcher is chairman. When the bulletin first began publication, the committee offered bids for newsprint, and the cheapest price named was three cents. The committee decided it was too high and appealed to the International on patriotic grounds to sell its product to the public printing office.

INDIANA GIVES BELGIANS WARM GREETINGS SOON

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 30.—Richmond and Newcastle will be visited by General Le Clerc, a member of the Belgian mission to America, and his aide, Major Oesterich, on Labor Day, after they have been in this city as the guests of the citizens of Anderson at the farewell for drafted men. Arrangements are under way whereby a party of automobilists will motor to Richmond with the distinguished visitors placing them on an eastbound train for Washington. A stop will be made at Newcastle, where a fifteen minute demonstration will take place. At Richmond, a mass meeting of citizens will welcome General Le Clerc and Major Oesterich and they will be guests of Richmond for thirty minutes before boarding their train.

GOVERNMENT PLANS STORING A MILLION BUSHELS OF TUBERS

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Plans for purchasing and storing in Chicago one million bushels of potatoes, for use after January 1, next, were started today by the middlewestern section of the national food administration. The potatoes are to be sold to consumers at cost, the price to be fixed after all expenses, including interest on the capital required to finance the deal have been determined. According to the plans, the working capital for starting the project will be advanced in the form of a loan by

FIGHTS ALSO FOR GERMANS

Are Included in Aims of America.

PRUSSIANISM MUST GO, HE DECLARES Speaks at Ground-Breaking for New Government
Armor Plant.

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 30.—Secretary Daniels, speaking here today at the breaking of ground for the government armor plant and projectile plant, declared that America is fighting not only for the democratic nations of the world, but is waging the "battle of the people of the German empire themselves."

"Germany began this war for a place in the sun," said the secretary. "She has conducted it with the idea that it must have the place in the sun—and the only place. We believe that there can be no place in the sunshine for any nation on earth underneath the organized shadow of the Prussian eagle, no sunshine even for the people of Germany themselves."

Hoped Madness Would Pass. "Unmoved by possibility of material advantage or conquest, patient amid aggression and aggression, hoping against hope until the last moment that this madness of the imperial German government would pass away, America has at last taken down her sword, not only for her own rights; not only for her own existence, but for the very existence of freedom itself upon the earth, and it will not be sheathed until victory is won."

RUSSIANS IN SORRY ROL

Two Regiments Flee from German Attack and Are Dealt With.

HAVE BEEN EMPLOYED

Italians Repulse Counter At-
Gain Some.

Petrograd, Aug. 30.—A large proportion of two Russian regiments in the Fokshina region, on the Rumanian front, left their trenches and retired yesterday, says today's war office statement. The dispersal of one of the regiments was ordered and measures have been taken, it is stated, to restore the positions affected in the battle now in progress.

BEAT OFF AUSTRIANS.

Rome, Aug. 30.—Austrian counter attacks in force were made yesterday against the new Italian positions on the front above Gorizia, the war office reports. Everywhere the Austrians were driven back and at some points the Italians made further gains.

REPULSED AT VERDUN.

Paris, Aug. 30.—German attacks on the Verdun front last night were repulsed completely, the war office announced. The French penetrated German positions in the Champagne, taking prisoners and a machine gun.

RUSSIAN REVOLT PROMISED.

Copenhagen, Aug. 30.—Another attempt at revolt by the Maximalist faction in Russia which will bring them into power is prophesied by M. Kirkoff, a Bulgarian socialist, in an interview in the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin. Kirkoff recently returned to Berlin from Stockholm, where he had been associated closely with the Russian Maximalists there.

The signal for the revolt, he says, will be given from Kronstadt, which, as well as the Russian fleet in the Baltic, is under the influence of Nikolai Linene and his adherents.

TO CONSIDER PEACE NOTE.

Amsterdam, Aug. 30.—The commission appointed by the German chancellor to consider a reply to the peace note of Pope Benedict held its first session Tuesday, according to the Lokai Anzeiger of Berlin. Chancellor Michaelis presided at the meeting, which lasted about two hours and a half. The session adjourned until the results of the discussions over the note are available.

PEACE TALKERS TO TALK PEACE IF THEY DESIRE

Bismarck, N. D., Aug. 30.—In accordance with instructions of Governor Frazier, Attorney General Langer is on his way to Fargo today to "take any steps necessary to protect the members of the People's Council of America in the exercise of their constitutional rights of peaceful assembly and free speech and to prevent violence or mob action" in the event the members of the organization hold their convention in Fargo. The governor's instructions to the attorney general said the convention, if held in Fargo, will be under the eye of the federal authorities and if anything treasonable, seditious or illegal developed, it will be promptly and properly handled.

AMERICAN SHIP SUNK BY BOMBS OF GERMAN WARP

London, Aug. 30.—The American schooner, Laura C. Anderson, was sunk by bombs from a submarine on Thursday. All the members of the crew were picked up and landed at an English port.

The Laura C. Anderson was a four-master of 960 tons gross. She was built in 1911 at Bath, Maine, and was owned in Philadelphia.

SHOTS U-BOAT'S EYE OUT AND IS ABLE TO ESCAPE

Portland, Ore., Aug. 30.—How a steamer carrying a unit of the American medical corps to Europe for service smashed the periscope of a submarine with her guns and averted her own destruction is told in a letter received here today by Dr. J. W. Morrow from his son, Dr. Earl Morrow. "It was just after breakfast and I was standing aft," writes Dr. Morrow, "when I suddenly saw a periscope emerge 200 yards astern. Before I could shout a warning our chief gunner had espied the periscope and opened fire. His first shot struck and smashed it to pieces. It sank and we did not see it or the submarine again."

FINAL PAYMENT OF THE LIBERTY LOAN ISSUE MADE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—Nearly $400,000,000 was paid into the treasury today in the final installment of the Liberty loan. Approximately $1,015,000,000 already has been paid in representing principal and interest on the Liberty bonds. Today's payment completes the financial transaction with the issue of the bonds and it is thought likely that the bonds themselves will be ready for distribution within a short time.

Now that the first loan has been fully disposed of it is likely that an announcement concerning the second issue of bonds will be made shortly by Secretary McAdoo.

PRESIDENT WILL AGAIN ATTEMPT AID FOR RUSSIA

Washington, Aug. 30.—President Wilson again turned his attention to the situation in Russia at a conference today with Elihu Root, who headed the American mission. Mr. Root and other members of the mission have been pressing the immediate necessity of material as well as moral assistance to the provisional government, and beside the recent $100,000,000 credit, other steps already have been taken toward that end. Further action may follow today's conference.

MEMORIAL WILL BE ERECTED TO STUDY

Grade School Teachers Make Plans for Suitable Remembrance.

A memorial will be placed in the children's room of the public library to the late superintendent of schools, J. N. Study, according to plans made by the Grade Teachers Association of Fort Wayne meeting at the high school Thursday morning.

The funds to establish the memorial, the character of which has not been determined, will be raised by the teachers and school pupils of the city probably some time after the public schools convene. The action was taken after the meeting in which an appreciation of the life of the late superintendent had been given.

The committee which was selected to direct plans for the establishing of a memorial follows: Miss Margaret Murphy, chairman; Miss Bessie McCracken; Miss Mabel Bechtel and Mrs. Williamson.

FRANCE LIKES WILSON REPLY

Only Brief Accounts of Answer to Pope Benedict Received in Paris.

OPINION IS THAT IT IS CONCLUSIVE

Great Britain Also Has a
Good Notion of the Last
Word on Peace.

Paris, Aug. 30.—Only an eighty word summary of President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict has reached Paris this morning and consequently the newspapers are without extensive comment.

The Parisienne says it is clear owing to the length of time which has elapsed since the president received Pope Benedict's proposals that his answer was in no way improvised, particularly as every one is aware that it is his habit to meditate at length over every act.

"In rejecting the vatican's offer," the newspaper continues, "the president indicated the conditions under which a useful conversation might be taken up. Once more he gives important advice to the German people. Will he be heard?"

The Matin says: "From what we know of the text, Mr. Wilson has endeavored to enter into the views of the spiritual power which is regarded by millions of his fellow citizens as the highest religious authority in the world, but it is absolutely necessary that peace should be concluded only with absolute guarantees for the future, which the president believes cannot be given by the present rulers of Germany. He does not conceal the opinion which he had already expressed that the German people should free from the present regime before an agreement worthy of a conference can be made with them."

"The allies of the United States who have seen the German people at work can judge that they are united in support of the masters and have ratified their abominable enterprise in the hope of deriving immense advantages therefrom, but the president continues to hold the view that if permitted to speak these people would condemn the evil shepherds who would lead them astray. That is his opinion reached after deep reflection."

BRITISH OPINION APPROVES.

London, Aug. 30.—The text of President Wilson's reply to the pope's peace overtures is not before us as we write, but everybody in the United States has already read it by yesterday noon and summaries and comments from American newspapers leave us in no doubt

FLAMES MENACE VAST TRACT OF TIMBERED LAND

Misoula, Mont., Aug. 30.—Destruction of a stand of seven million feet of timber valued at many thousands of dollars is threatened today by a forest fire on the lower south fork of the Flathead river. Several crews of fire fighters have been sent to the scene in an effort to keep the flames from spreading into that region. With fires raging in the district about Deep Creek, Doris Creek and Pioneer Ridge this stand of timber is menaced from two sides and several hundred fire fighters are building fire lines to keep the flames from spreading to the south. The forest endangers is among the largest in the state and is estimated by forest service men to be the most valuable owing to the proximity to the navigable Flathead river and because of the unusually large trees.

OFFERS PRIZES FOR PATRIOTIC PLAYS

Washington, Aug. 30.—The Drama League of America, according to an announcement today offers prizes of $500, $250 and $100 for the three best patriotic plays suitable for performance by amateurs.

"The federal bureau of education," says the statement, "is so convinced of the need and value of plays of this character that it has offered its cooperation to the Drama League in sponsoring the contest."

in the War and Lambasts the

JAPAN AND AMERICA HAVE GREAT WORK

Washington, Aug. 30.—Japan's mission, headed by Viscount Ishii, was received by the senate at a ceremony in which Senator Saulsbury, president pro tem, welcomed the visitors in the absence of Vice President Marshall and Viscount Ishii made an address bearing a message of friendship and good will between the nations.

Viscount Ishii spoke warmly of the friendship of the two countries, pledged the sincerity of Japan and said the two nations had ahead of them great objects in common. Japan, he said, would fight on to the end of the war until its objects were attained.

Viscount Ishii's Message. Viscount Ishii, in his address before the senate, spoke in part as follows: "I grasp this occasion to say to you that the whole people of Japan heartily welcome and profoundly appreciate the entrance of this mighty nation of yours into the struggle against the insane despoiler of our civilization."

"We all know that you did not undertake this solemn task on the impulse of the moment; but that you threw your mighty weight into the struggle only after exercising a most admirable patience with a firm determination that this world shall be made free from the threat of aggression from that black shadow of a military despotism wielded by a nation taught with the mother's milk that human right must yield to brutal might. To us the fact that you are now on the side of the allies in this titanic struggle constitutes already a great moral victory for our common cause which we believe to be the cause of right and justice, for the strong as well as the weak, for the great as for the small."

"We of Japan believe we understand something of the American life, and we pay our most profound respects to it. Ideal is like America's. 'I assure you, gentlemen, that the Japanese idea of national life is, in its final analysis, not so very far removed from yours. We conceive of our nation as a vast family, held together not by the arbitrary force of armed men, but by the force of a natural development. We shall call the common force that animates us a passion of loyalty to our emperor and to our homes, as we shall call that of Americans a passion for liberty and of loyalty to their flag."

"You must be free to be Americans, and we must be free to be Japanese. But our common enemy is not content with this freedom for the nation or for the individual. He must force all the world to be German, too. You had hoped against hope that this was not so, but that noble hope fled, and your admirable patience was exhausted. You did not then hesitate to face the issue and the foe as you are facing it with that great American spirit which has loved and still loves liberty, which loves the right more than peace and honor more than life."

No Selfish Interests. "We of Japan took up arms against Military operations on the Franco-Belgian front continue to be of minor nature only in contrast with the penetrations of the lines north of Cauciers and in Flanders. Today's official reports from Paris show the situation along the French lines to be one of temporary deadlock with nothing more important taking place than artillery combats, trench raids and infantry operations of only local significance. In this last case were two German attacks last night in the Champagne region east of Teton, which the French repulsed, and similar attacks of the Germans to push back French posts in the Verdun region.

GERMANY READY TO LAUNCH WAR YEARS EARLIER

Petrograd, Aug. 30.—Germany's military preparation was known to the Russian war ministry and it was also aware that Germany contemplated a declaration of war in 1909 and again in 1913, according to the statement given by Gen. Michailovskiy with what power Germany hoped to ally herself in 1912 against Russia. The statement was made by the Russian embassy in Berlin from 1906 to 1911. He swore that he had reported Germany's military activities to the Russian war office.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

EMPTY CARS SENT TO THE SOUTHWEST

Wanted to Handle Grain and Food Products and Lumber for Government.

During the past ten days more than 7,000 additional empty cars have been ordered into the south and southwest to protect the movement of grain and food products and facilitate the transportation of lumber for the cantonments and shipyards.

The orders which the commission on car service of the railroads' war board have issued since the policy was adopted of moving empty cars from one railroad to another, regardless of ownership, in order to meet the abnormal freight conditions that the war has produced, have resulted in 113,420 cars being distributed where they were most needed. All of this movement has taken place since May 1.

As a result, despite the most terrific pressure to which the railroads of the country have ever been subjected, millions of tons of government supplies, including lumber, munitions and materials for government construction, have been transported by the carriers without a hitch this year, and without interfering to any extent with the regular commercial traffic of the country, which too, has been increased to vast proportions by the war.

Of the latest cars ordered distributed by the railroads' war board, 2,450 cars are to be placed in the grain producing country. Four thousand, five hundred and thirty-seven additional cars have been sent into the lumber states of the south and four hundred others sent out of the Atlantic Coast Lines to protect the unexpected increase in general freight traffic.

The lines to which cars have been assigned to protect the grain movement, together with the number of cars assigned to each, are as follows:

Chicago & Eastern Illinois, 500; Cincinnati, 500; Louisville & Nashville, 500; Mobile & Ohio, 350; Illinois Central, 350; Louisville & Nashville, 350; Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville, 250; Toledo, St. Louis & Western, 300; Gulf Coast, 200.

The lines to which cars have been ordered to assure the prompt movement of lumber include:

Central of Georgia, 100; Louisville & Nashville, 500; Mobile & Ohio, 350; Illinois Central, 350; Louisville & Nashville, 350; Navigation company, 12; Gulf, Florida & Alabama, 275; Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis, 300; Toledo, Peoria & Western, 150; Georgia & Florida, 75; Southern, 500; Atlantic Coast Line, 1,250; Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic, 75; Seaboard Air Line, 400; Charleston & Western Carolina, 300.

WABASH AGENT CHANGES.

Ben Harris to Huntington and Tom Johnson to Antwerp.

The Wabash announces the transfer of Ben Harris from Antwerp to Huntington to fill the vacancy in the agency there caused by the death of Agent Keller two weeks ago. Tom Johnson, agent at West Union, has been transferred to Antwerp to take the place vacated by Mr. Harris. According to a paragraph written by The Sentinel's correspondent, Mr. Harris is very popular at Antwerp. It reads as follows: "The many friends of Ben Harris, Wabash agent at this place the past six years, will be somewhat fussed up when they learn he has gone and left us, which is a fact. He has been given the Wabash agency at Huntington, Ind. Ben was a good sport, and one of the best agents this town has ever had, courteous and obliging at all times. He accumulated a big bunch of friends here, who regret his act but join in wishing him the success due one with an endeavor to please both patron and employer. He will move his family to that city in a short time."

WILL CONTINUE CONCERTS.

The employees of the General Electric works and the hundreds of people residing in the vicinity of McCulloch's park, who go there Thursday nights to enjoy the concerts of the General Electric works band, will be pleased to learn that the concerts will continue for some weeks, instead of closing today, at first arranged. The attendance at the concert today was immense, almost every available space near the band being occupied. Because of the concert, many of the families the heads of whom are employed at the works prepare luncheon for all and take it to the park to be eaten while the concert is in progress. There were scores of groups of this character at the park today.

FIREMAN RECEIVES SCALP WOUND.

John Hensler, of 1814 High street, a Nickel Plate fireman, sustained a painful scalp wound yesterday in the yards at Bellevue, as his train was entering them. Mr. Hensler was leaning out of the cab window and his head was struck by a projecting board on a car on another track. The wound is not serious.

MOVING IN HIS NEW HOME.

William F. Melching, employment agent at the General Electric works, laid off today to assist in the transfer of his household effects and the members of his family to their handsome new home, just completed, on Oakwood Drive. Moving under ordinary circumstances is not very pleasing to Mr. Melching, but under present circumstances, he enjoys it very much.

TWO EMPLOYEES PROMOTED.

Loren Klingman, foreman of the transformer testing department of the General Electric works, announces the appointment of E. Shuerenberg as assistant of the department and R. J. Hobart head tester to succeed Mr. Shuerenberg. Each appointment is a promotion for the man affected and is complimentary to their abilities.

WILL VISIT OLD HOME.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

In connection with a trough of low pressure which overlies the Atlantic states the weather is generally unsettled in that region, and during the last 24 hours showers have occurred quite generally over the sections to the eastward of the St. Lawrence, Ohio and central Mississippi valleys and on the Gulf coast. Except that there were local showers in the Canadian northwest provinces, the weather has been generally fair in western districts. As a rule, moderate temperatures obtain, but the weather is generally cooler than the normal in north-central sections and in the plains states.

CONSERVATIVE ELEMENTS OF RUSSIA CAN'T LOOK BACK FAR ENOUGH TO SEE BRYAN, SAYS RUSSELL

Big New Republic Can't See Our Notion That a Democracy of Farmers and Workmen Should Be Ruled by a "Better Class" of Lawyers and Corporation Boosters.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

I perceive that many of my esteemed fellow Americans, and particularly those of the Stone Hatcher school of thought, are much perturbed that the Russians are a sad, bad lot and the duty of the United States is to teach thing to the benighted citizens of the new democracy.

These eminent thinkers seem shocked at the spectacle of men from the plow handle and the work shop sitting now in the national legislature and deciding the national policy.

They are grieved and hurt to learn of a country in whose governing body there are no lawyers, bankers, capitalists or millionaires, but just plain farmers and workers.

They are sure that any nation with such a legislature must go to the dogs. Nothing, it is well known, can save any country from going to the dogs except plenty of lawyers and corporation agents in the legislature.

What is needed in Russia, therefore, is a liberal course of instruction in our own superior ways about these things. We ought to show to the lowly Russians some of the men we send to the house of representatives and senate, and bid them do likewise.

News of Our Neighbors

GERMAN HELD AS SUSPECT.

Believed to Have Placed Paris Green in Hog Pasture.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 30.—Otto Yarnsey, who says he is a German, is held in the Huntington county jail suspected of being the man who planted paris green in the hog pasture of George Sheets, a RockCreek township farmer, last week. He is said to be the same man who was caught by Wells county farmers, just east of the Sheets farm, two days before the poison was found.

Yarnsey was taken in Jefferson township today by Jacob E. Davis, county sheriff, after complaint was made that the man had frightened several farmers' wives by entering the yards and wandering about the houses. He was poorly dressed, and carried some old clothes in a bundle. He wore the typical kaiser mustache and had several weeks' growth of beard.

The authorities are wondering what to do with Yarnsey, no decisive evidence having been found against him. It is probable A. H. Sapp, prosecutor, and Clifford Jackson, who represents the government in conscription work, will ask instructions from federal authorities.

SULLIVAN DISCHARGED.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 30.—James Leonard Sullivan, who was thought to be in the American expeditionary forces in France, turned up in Huntington, Monday, after an absence of a year. He told his mother he had been in the regular army, but was honorably discharged when the officers found he was under age. Sullivan is now old enough to enlist, and probably will enlist again after visiting his parents.—DeForest McLin, son of Dr. G. H. McLin, has been promoted to be top sergeant of his company after eight weeks in the regular army. McLin has some previous military training. He is now at Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., and is detailed to join the new national army as an instructor.—Members of Company C were entertained Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Felter.

OATS AVERAGES 80 BUSHELS.

Roanoke, Ind., Aug. 30.—George Faust, of Roanoke, threshed twenty acres of oats, the average for the twenty acres being eighty bushels. Four and one-half acres of the twenty yielded 460 bushels, an average for the four and a half acres of 102½ bushels per acre. Mr. Faust lives in Roanoke, and the farm from which he obtained this remarkable result is situated in Whitley county, four miles north of Roanoke.

FORT WAYNE MAN FINDS BODY.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 30.—Grant Strieby, of Fort Wayne, found the body of Clyde Sensibaugh, 20 years old, Wednesday afternoon, in his tailor shop at Syracuse. Sensibaugh committed suicide by drinking poison. Domestic trouble is said to have caused Sensibaugh to end his life. He leaves a 2-year-old daughter.

LIGHTNING KILLS HORSES.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 30.—A team of horses belonging to Jacob Earhart were killed by lightning on the Earhart farm, one mile east and one and one-half mile south of Markle.

FINED FOR WHIPPING BABE.

Angola, Ind., Aug. 30.—Because he cruelly whipped his little son, less than two years old, Louie Shaffer, of Freedom township, was fined $5 and costs in the court of Justice McCrory.

Daily Doings in South Wood Park

VICTOR F. REA BUYS IN SOUTH WOOD PARK.

Victor F. Rea, superintendent of the plant of the Dudio Manufacturing Co., has purchased a handsome lot in South Wood Park facing Drury Lane. The sale was made by Carl J. Getz, for Hilgeman & Schaaf.

LANDENBERGER CHOOSES SOUTH WOOD PARK SITE.

John M. Landenberger, vice president of the American Road Machine Co., has purchased one of the handsomest wooded lots in South Wood Park. It fronts upon the junction of Maxine Drive and Drury Lane, and a broad parkway, containing a score of large trees, separates the sidewalk line from the pavement. The sale was handled by A. L. Kapp, for Hilgeman & Schaaf.

DR. BARLOW, LINCOLN LIFE, BUYS IN SOUTH WOOD PARK.

Dr. B. A. Barlow, assistant medical director of the Lincoln National Life Insurance Co., has chosen a home site in South Wood Park, a choice wooded lot fronting on Indiana avenue south of its junction with Pembroke Lane. F. W. Miles handled the sale for Hilgeman & Schaaf.

HERMAN LINDENBERG'S NEW SOUTH SIDE HOME SITE.

Herman Lindenberg, of 1223 Stophlet, has purchased a choice lot in South Wood Park. The property is wooded and fronts on Drury Lane. A cross-walk, connecting Drury Lane with Pembroke Lane, borders the lot on the west. The transaction was handled for Hilgeman & Schaaf by the J. W. Miller Realty Co.

BUTLER WOMAN WEDS MICHIGAN FARMER

James C. Reed and Mrs. Anna S. Beerer Are United in Wedlock.

Butler, Ind., Aug. 30.—James C. Reed, a farmer of Scottville, Mich., and Mrs. Anna S. Beerer, of West Depot street, were quietly married at Auburn Thursday at 9 o'clock by the Rev. S. E. Slater, pastor of the St. Mark Lutheran church at Auburn. The ceremony was performed at the Auburn parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. Reed left at once for their home near Scottville, where they will reside on his farm.

Butler Short Notes.

Mrs. Catherine Miller, of Smithfield township, was admitted to the insane hospital at Richmond the first of the week. Mrs. Miller has been confined at the county jail at Auburn since April 27th, waiting to be admitted at Richmond.

Frank Farley, of Auburn, who has been very ill for the past three weeks with inflammatory rheumatism, was taken to the Kneipp sanitarium at Rome City Tuesday, where he will receive treatment. Mr. Farley is the brother of Mrs. J. W. Brown and Wash Farley, of this city, and well known in Butler and vicinity.

Miss Louise Mason entertained the following young people to 6 o'clock dinner Wednesday evening: Miss Margaret Tubbs, of Bryan, Ohio; Gardner Hodson, of Lancaster, Ohio; Elizabeth Mondhank, Kermit Oberlin and Millard Tyson, of Butler.

Mrs. Grace Campbell and son, Gardner Hodson, of Lancaster, Ohio, who have been spending a week with W. J. Mondhank and family, at Cold Springs, expect to leave the last of the week for Toledo and Finley, Ohio, to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Sneyd and children, of Auburn, will spend the latter part of the week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rudd. Mrs. Rudd is quite poorly.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church met with Mrs. J. W. Brown Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. J. C. Brown. Mrs. L. Kiplinger gave a bible story from the fifth chapter of Second Kings. The opening of the mite boxes followed and $12 was the result. Tea was served at 5 o'clock.

J. E. Brown and wife, of Toledo, O., come to Butler Wednesday to visit their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brown. They have been spending the past three weeks at Edon, Ohio, with their nephew, Harry Millman. They will remain over the Brown-Miller reunion, which will be held at the country home of Henry Snyder, of near Hudson, Sept. 2nd, and will attend the Bowersox singing anniversary, Sept. 10th.

that certain American newspapers print solemn aided stuff about the horrors of the Russian National Council of Workmen's, Soldiers' and Peasants' delegates, (which is the only governing power in Russia,) telling how the conservative elements in the land are about to rise and overthrow the terrible radicals.

The conservative elements in Russia! Excuse these smiles. Conservative! Do you know what a conservative is in Russia? He is a man that in this country would be regarded as such a dangerous and fire-eating radical that his neighbors would avoid him, a respectable press would blacklist him, and most persons would refer to him only with a shudder and a groan.

The most conservative man in all Russian politics or public life has gone so far in advance of the average American's political and sociological creed that looking back with great care the hindmost Russian on the march can just make out the top of William J. Bryan's hat. Sometimes he isn't quite sure it is a hat. Maybe it's a gopher. Anyway, it looks like something moving away down the road there.

Overthrow the radical element! Why, there is nothing else. That is the hard fact for the reactionary American to swallow, that is what all but suffocates the American and English colonies in Russia, so sadly deprived of a court in which they could prank about. The whole country is radical, radical to its finger tips, filled with enthusiastic faith in a political and social program that would shake American society with panic alarm.

Do you know what the real split in Russian politics is about? Do you know what the issue is between these elements that the American newspapers call the extreme left and the conservatives?

The extreme left want the government to put into effect at once the extreme program of sweeping, radical social reforms.

The conservatives want the government to put into effect the extreme program of sweeping, radical social reforms, but not at once.

As to the wisdom and necessity of these reforms there is no dispute in Russia. All of the political parties that cut any ice proclaim and affirm them. Anybody that should question them would be viewed as a curiosity. He would be classed with abnormal persons that dispute axioms and self-evident facts. But they are changes that in this country would be deemed the impossible dreams of fanatics.

You can see, therefore, why the new Russian democracy will never be popular with the American reactionary and his obedient press. You can see why all the agencies he controls are busily engaged in forecasting the failure of the Russian democracy and trying, in his funny little sniping way, to bring it about.

The American reactionary's view of democracy is a state wherein the farmers and the workers, although constituting the majority of the population, leave everything to the better classes, to the corporation, the railroads and their attorneys.

It is also a state wherein the people are content to stop with the forms of political democracy—merely with the forms.

That isn't the Russian's idea of it. He wants to see the farmer and the workman, in their shirt sleeves, running the whole machine.

And he wants to see democracy carried into everything—politics, government, industry, society, the education, everything.

He is not much impressed with this better classes idea. He doesn't see where it fits into the democratic scheme. He has never been able to take very kindly to the theory that what is needed in every country is some powerful leader that will take in hand the common, untalented crowd and show them what is what. He is not at all disturbed by the fact that his country at present has no leader and is not likely to have one. His idea is that in a democracy the only leader is the thought of the whole people, and if we are going into the leader business we should never have fired our kings.

He says that the ideal state of society is not one where one man tells

REUNION IS HELD AT COLUMBIA CITY

Survivors of 88th Indiana Volunteer Infantry Meet Here Next Year.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., Aug. 30.—The thirty-fifth annual reunion of the Eighty-eighth regiment, Indiana volunteer infantry, organized with 1,050 men at Fort Wayne, August 20, 1862, and sent to the relief of Cincinnati and Louisville, afterward engaging in one of the most strenuous campaigns of the war, was held at the Commercial club hall here Wednesday, thirty-five of the old "vets" being present. Rev. L. A. Luckenbill addressed them at the Commercial club in the afternoon, and in his speech pointed out that the work of the "boys" of the 80's will have been some in vain if America does not continue to fight for democracy in the present world war until the enemy of freedom, Germany, is vanquished. Rev. Luckenbill enumerated the causes and overt acts which drew America into the maelstrom of war, and prayed for a speedy victory for the allies.

At the business session it was decided to hold the next meeting at Robleson park, Fort Wayne, August 20, 1918, and Thomas A. Pattee and Joseph Kickey, of that city, were named adjutant and assistant adjutant for next year. Caldwell W. Tuttle, of this city, was the adjutant for the present year.

The following members of the Eighty-eighth regiment signed the roster, as well as soldiers from other Indiana and Ohio regiments who came from within the county to attend the reunion: Co. A—J. D. Woods and A. A. Kester, of Auburn; William Krantz, of Butler; Park Seborts, of Cornum; Co. B—James Vinebrenner, Auburn; Samuel Forker, Albion; J. M. Pearson, Kendallville; Co. C—Joseph Krickley and Noah Knepper, Fort Wayne; Oliver Grayless, Columbia City; Co. D—Thomas Pattee, Fort Wayne; Amos Hilkey, Auburn; Amherst Miller, New Haven; Co. E—Samuel Karriger, Fort Wayne; G. W. Geiger, Chubbuck; Co. F—Capt. F. F. Boltz, commander for life of the regiment, Knightstown; Josiah King, Fort Wayne; Isaac Miller, Michael Huss, Mortimer H. Broughton, Samuel Miller, Fort Wayne; Thomas B. Davis, Kimmel; Forbes Broughton, Volcottville; Samuel Keever, Roann; Co. H—O. H. Widney and John Freeman, Auburn; Will Deems and Daniel D. Diehl, Butler; Co. I—Austin F. Corpe, Kalkaska, Mich.; Edgar S. Corpe, Colfax, Ind.; D. E. Long, Elkhart, Ind.; Co. K—C. W. Tuttle, Columbia City; Jesse E. Grimes, South Whitley; A. C. Brossman, Larwill; Alex. Bayman, Piercetown.

The following nine comrades were called beyond during the past year: John Shookman, Co. F; Adam Bowers and Milton Thompson, Co. B; John H. Cook, Co. C; M. Cutler, Co. D; George Lewis, John B. Selder and John Middleton, Co. I; William H. Pence, Co. K.

A drum corps made martial music for the old vets as they paraded down the business section of the city, to and from dinner and supper, which was enjoyed at the M. E. church, and a photo was taken of them and their families on the court house lawn. Co. G was the only company in the regiment not represented at the reunion yesterday. Last year at Auburn there were over seventy members present. The Eighty-eighth regiment was mustered out of service June 7, 1865, and disbanded thirteen days later, after participating in the grand review at Washington, May 24, 1865.

The Eighty-eighth regiment participated in the following engagements: Perryville, Ky., October 8, 1862; Stone River, Tenn., December 31, 1862; Duck River, Tenn., June 28, 1863; Tullahoma, Tenn., July 1, 1863; Elk River, Tenn., July 3, 1863; Dug Gap, Ga., September 11, 1863; Chickamauga, Ga., September 19, 1863; Lookout Mountain, November 24, 1863; Missionary Ridge, November 25, 1863; Ringgold, Ga., November 26, 1863; White Oak Ridge, Ga., November 27, 1863; Tunnel Hill, Ga., February 22, 1864; Battle With Snow, March 22; Chattanooga to Atlanta, May 7; Resaca, Ga., May 13; Kennesaw Mt., June 10; Peach Tree Creek, July 20; Utoy Creek, August 7; Jonesboro, September 2; pursuit of Hood, October 3; march to the sea, November 14; Savannah, Ga., December 22; through the Carolinas, January 20, 1865; Averysboro, N. ## NOT ALL OUR OWN WAR WASTE.

Speeches in congress and statements in newspapers allude to "twenty billions for the first year of the war," and "thirty millions a day," and the like assemblages of staggering figures in a way calculated to disconcert the unthinking and uninformed. The probability is that for the first year of the conflict this nation may have to provide some twenty billion dollars and the fact is that from twenty-five to thirty million dollars are about the daily expenditures of this government. These sums are not, however, "total loss."

A great part—the greater part, indeed—of American expenditures so far have been in loans to our allies. These are not really expenditures. At all events, they are not irrecoverable war costs. Some time, though a good many years hence no doubt, the financial obligations of the allies to the United States will be paid back. In the case of some of the smaller nations, like Belgium, Serbia and Rumania, that have been or may be helped with American money, there may never be a reimbursement and it will not greatly matter. To have aided to free those nations and to have assisted to set them on their feet will be compensation enough, if the war aims of this country shall at length be achieved in the peace that must come.

Other expenditures of huge bulk are for things of permanence, like the money that is going and will continue to go into mercantile shipping. Realization of the great program to replace the world's destroyed tonnage will leave America after the war in possession of a large merchant marine, which long has been one of the insuperable needs of this nation. We shall also have vast aerial fleets, indisputably the world's second navy and an uncontested supremacy in destroyer strength. We shall have equipment for great armies, the means of producing armor and ordnance and a tremendous organization necessary to the mobilization of the nation's resources for war.

Should the highest hopes of humanity be the fruitage of this great conflict and the world at the end of it be able to take secure hostage against a recurrence of wars, some of these things will be useless enough, no doubt, but no one will reflect grudgingly upon the prodigious cost of them if the expenditure shall have made them useless. If peace shall fail in establishing guarantees against war, then America will be prepared to defend herself in any conflict against any foe.

So it is that whatever falls out, the United States will have many important material offsets to the huge expenditures imposed by the strife we are in and that part of the billions that never will come back will be no loss if the burning of them in war's flaming blast bring permanent peace to this land and "make the world safe for democracy." But "thirty millions a day" and "twenty billions a year" surely stress the mind for adequate comprehensions.

THE TAX LEVY.

Badly as the municipal government is off for money, there can be no harsh criticism of the city council for declining to increase the tax rate. The time to have proposed an increase was not this year, but years earlier. Fort Wayne has been getting along precariously on an insufficient income for a long time with the result that there has been no preparation to meet the sort of a financial pinch which has come as a result of the war and the extinction of revenues from liquor licenses.

There can be no feeling but of regret that some things that ought to be done must now remain undone for want of funds. The slashing of the park levy is a matter of sorrow—a thing that ought not to have been done if there was an alternative, and we believe that elsewhere might have been some little saving that would have spared the park fund this raid to make possible more money for other needs. The park funds have never been adequate. It has taken more than a quarter century to accomplish what development there has been of Fort Wayne's park system. Of course there can be no development in the coming year. The funds produced by the diminished levy will answer for no more than a precarious maintenance. At the earliest day possible the park levy should be restored—increased, indeed—and the betterment and expansion of the park system allowed to go forward.

But with the general government put to necessity for raising vast sums by all sorts of taxations, excises and imposts and all of it going into the cost of living, the raising of local taxes, badly as money is needed by the city, would have incurred no good will from any quarter. The people doubtless are quite as ready to approve retrenchments and denials even in the manner of their municipal housekeeping as they are to practice imperative economies in their domestic housekeeping. There should be an understanding, nevertheless by the people and by the next administration which comes in, that this city cannot maintain itself on the revenues it gets, much less make progress. The city in a day not remote will have to see to this or reconcile itself to more than the present evidences of decay.

JUSTIN N. STUDY.

After twenty-one years of unbroken service to the public schools of Fort Wayne, Prof. Justin N. Study has laid aside that and all other burdens and entered into rest. The death of Prof. Study, while having been more or less prepared for in the public mind by reports of critical illness, will be the source of sorrow and regret throughout the city. Many hundreds of persons who had never known him in any manner of personal acquaintance, knew him in a way that answered almost for such a bond. He had been for more than a score of years at the head of Fort Wayne's public school system and his relation with the people was intimate even if it was not a face to face acquaintanceship. His work here had impressed itself on thousands of young lives that came under his charge and of these a great host are the men and women of today. During the long period of Dr. Study's superintendency the Fort Wayne schools have made great advancements. In this work he has been a directing intelligence, and the progress of the schools has been in large part due to him. The public schools of this city have a far and high repute and as their head the late superintendent shared the honor of that fame. He was widely recognized in educational circles as a highly capable and profoundly sincere public school man. His loss is more to Fort Wayne, for as a member for twenty years of the state board of education he has had an important part in framing the policies and marking out the progress of the entire system of public education in Indiana. He will be much missed here, no less for qualities of citizenship and personal character than for his splendid capacity for the great public work he performed.

There will be a fine and bloody mess in Russia if the way be not soon found to get the factions thinking together upon what is best for Russia. The makings of the finest outbreak of anarchy in the record of time are heating up right now in that new land of rejoicing and the worst of it is that some six or eight millions of them are well trained in the use of arms and more disposed to raise Cain and other by-products of a disordered society right at home than they are to poke the muzzles of their guns into the faces of invading Germans. There must be settling down soon or there will be blowing up.

Negroes in a Chicago suburb showed symptoms a night or two ago of aspiring to emulate the murderous fury of the colored troops at Houston and hinted as much. The intelligent and cool-headed leaders among the negroes can engage in a good work by exerting their influence to nullify the poisons that enemy agents have been instilling into the minds of negroes in many parts of the country. It will do a deal for the future of the colored race in America.

If President Wilson's note could get a popular circulation in Germany and go to the German people unmutated and uncorrupted by Junker revisions and interpretations there would be some stir in the kaiser's empire at an early day. But the hope that such a document will be allowed to get to the popular intelligence is about as remote as that the Hohenzollerns will abdicate before they are driven to it.

The next installment of war money will come in a nice little bulk of twelve billion dollars. But what's twelve billion if you've got it!

"Fare, please! All the glad ones, and the sad ones, all the good ones, and the bad ones—get on here!"

Song of the Raw Recruit.
I'm something of a raw recruit—
Come have a look at me!—
I've passed the docs, and drawn my suit,
I am the busy bee;
I've read the manual of arms,
With me let no one trifle;
I'm cognizant of war's alarms,
I'm practiced with my rifle!

I've donned the khaki and the kit,
Which no man should refuse,
I'm starting out to do my bit,
In bright new hob-nailed shoes;
I've left my useful little churn,
My cow I've said goodbye to,
I'm off to put the frightful Germ—
At least I'm off to try to!

I'm fed up on blood and slch,
I'm full of fuss and fight,
And if the kaiser drops a stitch,
I'll ravel him all right;
Of great maneuvers now I rave,
No foe can battle me;
Ben Battle was a soldier brave,
But he was nothing to me!

I've put my plow behind the barn,
I've left my foolish flocks,
I'm wearing things built out of yarn,
I've got on six-ply socks;
I've kissed my faithful wife farewell,
I've grabbed my battle-bag;
I'm off to Sherman's place called—well,
Where there's no gas nor taxes!

U. S. Can Turn the Tide of the War

BY BASIL M. MANLY.

Can the nations, deadlocked on the battle lines of Europe, continue to fight indefinitely? Is it true, as often stated, that both the central powers and the allies have more boys coming to military age every year than their actual losses, and can therefore carry on this war, if they will, for ten, twenty or fifty years with ever-increasing armies?

With such enormous forces as are in the trenches on the western front, will the addition of 500,000 or even a million, American troops have any appreciable effect?

In order to get the correct answers to these questions I went first to war department officials. They know, because they have been given the exact facts by our allies; but they are under the strictest orders not to tell.

"We can't talk," they told me, "but we can tell you where to get what you want. In the military journals of the different countries you will find articles by military authorities who discuss these questions as accurately as we could if permitted. There is Col. Feyler, of the Swiss army, one of the world's greatest military authorities, Hilaire Belloc, of England, who has been given remarkable access to the information of the British war office, and a number of others, whose information and judgment can be relied on. Bring their statements together, analyze them and you will have more exact information than you can secure from any other available source."

Here then are the facts as I have gleaned them from these military authorities. They are not my views, but simply my analysis of their conclusions.

Neither group is in the slightest danger of collapse as a result of permanent military losses in the form of killed, prisoners and incapacitated. Out of the wounded and sick now in hospitals, and the young boys who can be called up each year, they can fill in the gaps.

But there is a wide difference between the situation of the two groups in this respect.

At the present rate of casualties the German powers can maintain their armies at about their present strength for an indefinite period. But they cannot increase their size without crippling their industries and checking the flow of food and munitions to the trenches.

Great Britain, France and Italy, on the other hand, without the assistance of the United States can annually increase their armies by half a million men without encroachment on their present labor forces.

So much for the numerical manpower. How about their actual fighting power?

Both groups of nations are losing their fighting men at such a rapid rate and are so largely replacing them with men weakened by wounds, shell-shock and disease that by next spring their actual fighting power for defense or attack will be only a fraction of what it has been. Germany, Austria and France have already used up their reserves of fresh troops and have only the young boys who will be called up but they are not numerous enough even to replace the permanent losses, much less the partial disabilities which unfit a man for first line work.

While Germany can replace over a million men next year, 450,000—nearly half—of these gaps must be filled with men now in hospitals—patched-up and disease-weakened wrecks to take the place of vigorous men now in the front trenches, who will die or be sent to hospitals in the next year, lost forever as first-line fighting men.

In the armies—2,500,000 for Germany, 1,500,000 for France—will pass out of the armies through the hospitals next year. Sixty per cent of them will return to service, but what will they be worth for strenuous attacks or tenacious defense? Military experts count a "hospital return" as worth a good deal less than half an unwounded man.

Remember, that wounds, shell-shock, death and capture, fall almost entirely on the front line troops, the pick of the army, and you will understand why, although each of the armies is larger than ever before, it is merely a shell of its former self with a rotting core.

This loss of fighting men is hitting Germany harder than any other nation. In order to meet it she has been forced within recent months to form "storming troops," specially picked from the best in all the regiments and reserved for attacks, because the mass of the German army has reached a stage where they cannot be depended on for strenuous action.

Remember, too, that age is telling on all the armies. Men of 45 who joined the army in 1914 are now 48, and this three years has told on them more than ten years of peace will do; yet no nation permits them to be mustered out. So while men over forty made up only 15 per cent of the armies of 1914-15, today they are 22 per cent of the whole.

By next year, therefore, Germany, Austria, and France will each have only a few hundred thousand fighting men who have not been weakened by wounds, shell-shock or disease, and England will have made large inroads on the fresh troops now in her depots or training camps.

For this reason, if the United States can put 500,000 fresh troops on the western front for next year's campaign, they may have an important if not a decisive effect. In this I am, entirely apart from the effect that their presence will surely have on the morale of the allies and the central powers.

Five hundred thousand American troops would be numerically only one-tenth the German army, but they would equal practically all the fresh troops the kaiser can secure in the first half of next year from all possible sources. Germany from the military standpoint is in the position of a prizefighter who has fought twenty rounds with an antagonist of equal size and skill and now sees a fresh heavy-weight, your Uncle Samuel, stepping into the ring with blood in his eye and a knockout wallop in his right.

In a chess game it is not necessary with experienced and far-sighted players to accomplish an actual checkmate, but merely to demonstrate assured and unbreakable strength of pieces and pawns to bring about the capitulation of the antagonist.

It is the same way in war. It is easily within the power of the United States to make the demonstration of assured and unbreakable military and industrial superiority so clear within the next half year that it will convince not only the German people, but even the war lords.

Full-speed-ahead in America's war program will bring Germany to the surrender point before this time next year.

SEDITION SHOULD BE SQUELCHED

(Indianapolis Star.)

A warning to the country has been issued by the Patriotic Education Society that German propagandists are endeavoring to bring about an uprising among the colored people of the United States. The trouble-makers are said to be stirring up colored men to arise in revolt and are promising that there will be no color line when Germany rules. The report would be incredible had not German propagandists undertaken so many absurd efforts that it is easy to believe anything that may be credited to them.

It is almost unbelievable that anyone would be so foolish as to expect to make any headway with an effort at stirring the colored people into revolt. The propagandists, of course, do not expect their dupes would succeed. They did not expect Mexico would be winner in the game of getting back its "lost provinces." The point was not to help Mexico, nor is it to improve the condition of the colored man, but to make any trouble that might be possible for the United States. If a few thoughtless colored men could be misled into starting disturbances that is all Germany could hope and the disturbers would be left to pay the penalty.

Starting trouble is Germany's long suit, as a matter of theory, but has won little in fact. At the outset of the war Turkey was induced to get in on the Teutonic side and a "holy war" was declared in the expectation that Mohammedans in India, Egypt and elsewhere would begin the wholesale slaughter of Christians. The Mohammedans declined to engage in any such undertaking. Then Sir Roger Casement was dispatched to his fate, merely in the hope that he would cause some trouble and without expectation that he would be successful in the program mapped out in Berlin.

The colored man in the United States will resent even the intimation that he could be induced to become disloyal. There is no hyphen in his family. He is all-American and pro-American. Furthermore, he will not fail to notice that the propagandists are promising what will be conditions "when Germany rules." They are not assuring him of an opportunity to get control, but merely asking him to help the kaiser and crew to take charge. The proposal is an insult to his intelligence as well as to his loyalty.

The whole thing, of course, will come to no more than would an appeal to all those with red hair or to the left-handed men to arise in revolt. It is stupid and based on stupidity. But those responsible for the attempt should be brought to account. Unquestionably someone is trying to incite insurrection and should be punished for that intent and attempt. Let those who are responsible be run to earth and made to pay the penalty for sedition. It is about time for something drastic in this nation of good-natured tolerance.

Uncle Harry Talks About the "German" Colonies

"Whenever there is talk about peace and Germany giving up Belgium, Serbia, Rumania and that part of France occupied by the German armies, something is always said about the German colonies in Africa, but you've never told us about Africa," said Joe.

"The question of the German colonies in Africa, that are now in possession of the allies—England and France principally—is a very important one," said Uncle Harry. "Whether some of allies return all those captured colonies in Africa, and that Germany in turn give up all the countries and parts of countries that she has captured in Europe."

"Who is in control of these African colonies now?" asked Helen.

"The British and French governments," said Uncle Harry. "In the first few months of the war there was sharp fighting in Africa between the English and French soldiers and the natives who were loyal to them, on

"these colonies, or all of them, will be retained by the allies after the war, or whether they will be returned, in part or in whole to Germany, will be one of the big problems that will have to be settled, and settled intelligently and fairly, or else the control or possession of them will cause more war in the future."

"Are these African colonies very big?" asked Helen. "I remember studying in my geography that Germany had possessions in Africa, but I don't remember whether it said how big they were."

"About one-fourteenth of the entire continent of Africa was owned by the German empire when the war started," said Uncle Harry.

"And they have lost all of these African colonies, haven't they?" asked Jimmy.

"They have for as long as the war continues," said Uncle Harry. "and maybe for all time. It depends, of course, on what the peace terms are. Some of the proposals that have already been made provide that the one side, and the German soldiers and other natives who were loyal to Germany, on the other side. You see the European governments always keep soldiers in Africa, and when war was declared, they began fighting, the Germans to retain their territories and the French and English, both of which nations have had big colonies of their own in Africa for many years, aiming to capture the German colonies. The allied fleets prevented Germany or any of the other central powers from sending additional troops to Africa and so the allied troops soon had control of the German colonies."

"How much land did you say the German colonies in Africa cover?" asked Joe.

"About one-fourteenth of the entire continent," said Uncle Harry. "or about 831,460 square miles, which is equal to almost one-fourth of the size of the United States."

"The people are mostly Africans, aren't they?" asked Jimmy.

"Almost entirely," said Uncle Harry. "The total population of all the German colonies in Africa is about 15,280,000 and not more than 25,000 are white men. These white men are principally soldiers, government officials, engineers, doctors, traders and missionaries."

"Where are the German colonies located in Africa?" asked Helen.

"Well, the biggest, German East Africa, as it is called, is located on the east coast about midway in the continent, and facing on the Indian ocean," said Uncle Harry. "The next biggest colony is German Southwest Africa, which is away down toward the foot of the continent, just above the British Cape Colony, and facing the Atlantic ocean. The two smaller colonies are Togoland and Kamerun, which also face on the Atlantic ocean, and are located in what you might call the elbow of Africa, that is, just where the coast line changes from north and south and starts west."

"What are in these colonies, besides native Africans," asked Joe.

"They are rich in agricultural lands, and have more or less mineral wealth," said Uncle Harry. "Under the direction of the Germans the lands produced large quantities of palm oil, cocoa, rubber, cotton, indigo, fine woods."

"Are the African colonies the only German colonies?" asked Helen.

"Oh, no," answered Uncle Harry. "There are a number in the Pacific ocean and one small one on the coast of China."

"Tell us about these," said Jimmy.

"The colony in China, the province of Kiao-Chow, was captured by Japan early in the war," said Uncle Harry. "The Japanese fleet also took possession of the Pacific islands belonging to Germany. These colonies are all being held by Japan. The best known of the Pacific colonies are the Samoa islands, covering about 1,000 square miles, and having a native population of about 35,000 and less than 600 whites. The other German colonies in the Pacific are, Solomon, Marshall, Marianne, Caroline islands and Bismarck archipelago and Kaiser Wilhelm land. We must keep these German colonies in mind because they will undoubtedly play an important part in the peace settlement."

Three Fort Wayne Men Try Above Ingredients—Didn't Mix.

New Haven, Ind., Aug. 30.—When is a man intoxicated?

How much does it take to make him intoxicated?

These were the perplexing problems brought before Squire Daley in police court Tuesday evening. The defendant, Girardot presented Fred Rogge, Henry Mullenbruch and Frank Blust, the latter being held as witness, and later turned loose.

The men were arrested for driving an auto while intoxicated, after they had zig-zagged their way through town, they having later been found a short distance east of town, the machine a total wreck, having turned over, but the men none the worse for their experience.

After some questioning, the men admitted they had three drinks, five drinks, seven drinks, three bottles. After such conflicting evidence and the condition the men were in at the time of giving it, it was decided by the court the men were intoxicated while driving an auto on a public highway, and they were given fines of $5 and costs. They went to jail.

THIS MAGIC SIGN GUARDS A GILDED GARDEN OF WAR

(Staff Special.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—"Warning! Anyone trespassing in this garden will be shot at sunrise. If not up, will be shot in bed."

That's the magic sign that protects Indianapolis' war garden de luxe, in the heart of the fashionable residence district.

Lettuce, onions, peas, potatoes, cabbage and even the bean—all are safe from marauders, and flourish.

The garden is composed of four city lots—each 35 by 85 feet. The men plowed it—and now the women till it.

What men? Bankers, brokers, doctors. They stop off on their way home in their limousines. Perhaps, if not tired from a day's "gruelling grind," they condescend to give the garden its evening drink.

But the weeding and hoeing—the city's blue book furnishes a roster of the women gardeners who, for this, forget party decollette and come out in gingham and sunbonnets.

In the blue book they appear as Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Fatout, Dr. and Mrs. F. Hess, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hess and Mr. and Mrs. Will Roberts.

But now, by day, Mesdames Hess, Fatout et al are out in the sun picking potato bugs, spraying, weeding or hoeing—accumulating the tan they were wont in other summers to have applied at seashore or mountain resort—but after all by the same brush of Dame Nature.

You're often heard youngish Harry use the expression, "Yer always pickin' on me!"—huh?

Didn't ever stop to think about it, maybe he was right? Why sure he was. Lma making him wash his face every time he comes to bed. When he wakes up in the morn'g, he's all washed up.

awful thing to do. Don't scrub their ears so strenuously. You'll hurt their hearing and how do you suppose they can learn new slang when their hearing is on the bum? Let them wash 'em themselves. What's that, do I hear you laughing? Well, anyway, why should their ears and feet be washed? They only get dirty again. As Shakespeare never said: "Seems to them, to wash up, is quite a hopeless case."

They get dirty once again, and wash the same old face."

INDIANS ON WARPATH! GERMANS TO HEAR REDMEN'S SCALPING CRY

In the shadow of the feathered war headdress and the painted face, and in the echo of the scalping war whoop, the new Indian preserves the fighting spirit of his ancestors. Here is how the Indians training for the United States army look today, compared with the fighting Indians of early days.

Staff Special.

St. Regis Falls, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Look out, Kaiser Bill! The Old Crow dance, the wild war whoop, the head-dress of rooster plumes and the painted face! These terrors are likely soon to be added to the weapons Pershing can match against German frightfulness, and use in the American drive against the Horrible Hun.

For Lo, the poor Indian, is about to mingle his strain of blood with the assorted races now walloping each other in the world war.

A full company of the fierce and noble red men is now drilling near Hogsburg, N. Y.

The contingent of aborigines, recruited from the St. Regis and Chautauque reservations, will be captained by Chief Rolling Thunder, whose martial exploits have reverberated through the hills of the legislative committee on Indian affairs and who was decorated, for one of those exploits, with 90 days in the Franklin county jail.

The announced intention of the Frontier Fusiliers (the reservations border the Canadian line) to go to the front is approved by the white citizens of the neighborhood, and the leading hencoop owners are raising a fund to take the Indians to a southern training camp.

The Indian, not allowed to vote, cannot be drafted, but nothing prevents the president's acceptance of any volunteer Indian contingent.

These warrior Indians measure up to the belligerent traditions of their fighting forefathers—and then some. First Lieutenant Joe Hen Feather is the same son of a chief who routed an entire grand procession at St. Regis one Sunday in 1914—alone and unaided save by an unbottled pint of squirrel. Sergeant Pete Leaping Pickle is known to fame as the lone ex-Plute who held up McCaffrey's speakeasy near Musuna Point, in spite of twenty customers.

Osaunamphaya, chaplain of the Fusiliers, did for four constables, a deputy sheriff and three enlookers during a raid on the chaplain's blind tiger on the St. Lawrence, receiving in recognition of his valor the decoration of the Iron Bars.

And fearless? Temporary owners of personal property near the reservation can testify unanimously to such a fearlessness as would enable the redskins to walk right into a German trench in broad daylight and steal a 20-centimeter gun.

Citizens who keep chickens, or have paint around for painting their houses or blanket their horses in winter have killed a move to have the Indians scare the Germans to death by appearing on the battlefield in oldtime war regalia.

Every one of these Indians is an expert la crosse player, some of them able to hurl a la crosse ball a quarter of a mile, and what they will do to the German trenches with their hand grenades!

It President Wilson will sanction scalping as a revenge for U-bat atrocities the world is made safe for democracy.

Information reaching Captain Rolling Thunder that the act authorizing the president to buy up all bonded spirits was meant to insure the redskins a bountiful supply in the trenches leads him to promise every eligible male will soon be on the firing line in France.

NEXT REUNION WILL BE HELD IN WABASH

Wm. Henley Elected President at Meeting of 47th Indiana Volunteers.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 30.—Wabash was selected as the next place of meeting of the survivors of the Forty-seventh Indiana volunteers at the reunion here Wednesday. Captain William Henley, of Wabash, was elected president and E. B. Ayres, of Huntington, was selected as secretary for the ensuing year. The date for the next reunion will be selected by the secretary. Sixty-three veterans with as many more friends were present at the meeting here Wednesday. Rain prevented an automobile trip about the city, so after a big dinner the aged men spent the afternoon in visiting.

Rural Route Courier Hurt.

John Sowards, rural carrier on route 2, received a fracture of two ribs at the John Dubach farm near Domestic. Sowards stopped at the Dubach barn to get the names of members of the family for his route list and accidentally stepped through a hole in the floor. His assistant, Will Dewey, who was with him at the time finished carrying the route.

New Teachers Selected.

Homer Brumbaugh and Miss Maro Beck have been selected as teachers in the city school to fill the vacancies made during the summer. Miss Beck, who taught in the Oeslian school last year, will teach mathematics in the high school and Mr. Brumbaugh, who was principal of the Dedham, Ia., school last year, will teach history in the central school.

Married at Decatur, Ill.

Miss Opal Orr, of Prospect, went to Decatur, Ill., and there met Wayne Ferguson, of Centralia, Ill., and were married Wednesday evening. Mr. Ferguson has been traveling as agent for the Gold Medal Flour company, and will locate at Centralia. Miss Orr is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Orr, and has been teaching in the Jefferson township schools. Mr. Ferguson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ferguson, of Ossian.

Bluffton Brief Items.

Mrs. Noah Runyan was severely scalded Tuesday evening when she stumbled over a boiler of water which splashed her left foot and leg.

Seven men will leave Bluffton, September 5, in the first group of 5 percent of the total quota.

The Bluffton church will give a reception for the young men of Wabash county taken in the draft. A committee composed of P. A. Allen, Dr. Louis Severin, Alfred Saurer and M. M. Justus has been selected to arrange details.

G. Rollin Osborn has resigned as history teacher in the central school to teach in the Mt. Zion school.

Raymond Burgen has written to his mother, Mrs. Edith Burgen, stating that he has been moved from Fort Benjamin Harrison to Fort Arras, Mass., and that he has been made a corporal in the medical department.

Bluffton people were invited to a reception that will be given Thursday evening at Decatur in honor of Company A, which is soon to leave for Fort Benjamin Harrison. Company A came to Bluffton by automobile Tuesday evening and gave a public drill. They were then marched to the Elks' club, where luncheon was served. They were then entertained at a theater party.

Frank Willis has gone to Arlington, Ind., to be at the bedside of his father, George Willis, who is in a critical condition.

Traffic on the C. B. & C. railroad was delayed Tuesday evening and Wednesday, when three cars of a freight train were derailed at the Union traction crossing.

Homer Mitchell and family are arranging to move from Hartford City to Bluffton.

Homer Fetzner, of Lafayette, visited in this city Tuesday en route to Nashua, Minnesota, to teach in the high school there. He taught at Bear Lake, Minn., last year.

J. S. Murrell, of Port Arthur, Tex., is visiting his daughters, Mrs. Chauncey Drago and Miss Azalia Murrell. He had not seen his daughters for five years until he arrived here this week.

N. E. Jackson and family, of Pennsylvania, W. Va., are moving to Oeslian. Harriet Hiestler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hiestler, has returned from Newcastle, where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russell.

ANTWERP NEWS.

DEATH CALLS SCHOOL HEAD

Prof. J. N. Study Succumbed to Heart Attack After Brief Illness.

LED CITY SCHOOLS TWENTY-ONE YEARS

Was Educator of National Repute and Mason of Highest Degree.

Death has turned the last leaf in the text book of life for Prof. Justin N. Study, superintendent of the Fort Wayne schools for the past twenty-one years.

Prof. Study died in his easy chair, in his home at 624 East Wayne street, at 6:30 Wednesday evening. Heart failure was the cause of his demise.

PROF. JUSTIN N. STUDY.

He had been ill but three weeks and during the past two days was thought to be rallying. His wife and his three children, who had been summoned to his bed side, two weeks before, and who were filled with hope of the father's recovery, on Wednesday, were with Prof. Study when he passed away. He had talked but a moment before. Death came with a tick of the hall clock.

A student, scholar, school man for nearly fifty years and a thirty-third degree Mason, Prof. N. Study led a life of advancement and usefulness to the hour of his death. He was seventy-one years old last February.

Three hours before he expired Prof. Study held a conference with E. W. Cook, of the Fort Wayne school board. He confirmed the list of teachers for the city schools, which had been prepared by the board. The action seemed to take a weight from Prof. Study's mind. He slept for more than an hour after Mr. Cook had gone.

Had National Reputation. Prof. Study held a national reputation as an educator. He served one year as vice president of the National Educational association. He never failed to attend the February meeting of the national organization, in which school superintendents were given special consideration.

He had been a member of the Indiana board of education since he came to the Fort Wayne schools, twenty-one years ago. Only W. V. Parsons, president of the state board, had been a member of the state organization longer than Prof. Study.

Professor Study was a prominent Mason. He took his final degree in Boston in 1912. He served as eminent commander of the Fort Wayne commandery, Knights Templar, in 1902 and 1903. He was a member of the Royal Arch and other Masonic orders. The blue lodge at Richmond, Ind., bears his name.

He was also a member of the finance committee of the senate of the National Union, an insurance organization.

Born in Indiana. Justin Nelson Study was born on a farm near Warsaw, Wayne county, Indiana, in February, 1846. His parents moved to Hagerstown, Ind., when he was a small boy. He attended a private academy at that place. From early boyhood he was interested in educational pursuits.

When a young man J. N. Study started to college at Ohio Wesleyan college, Delaware, Ohio. He obtained his A. B. degree in 1871 and his Master of Arts degree in 1874.

In 1874, a few months after his graduation from college, he married Isabella Wiggins, of Hagerstown, who survives as his widow. He went into a law office to continue his reading of law, which he had followed during his school vacations. He was about to open up a law office in Anderson, Ind., when he was offered the position as head of the Anderson schools, in September, 1871.

Professor Study was head of the Anderson schools for ten years. In 1874 he was granted leave to return to Ohio Wesleyan college and to obtain his Master's degree.

Organized Fraternity. In 1881, Professor Study went to Greencastle to take charge of the city schools. He was at Greencastle three years. While there he organized a chapter of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity in De Pauw university.

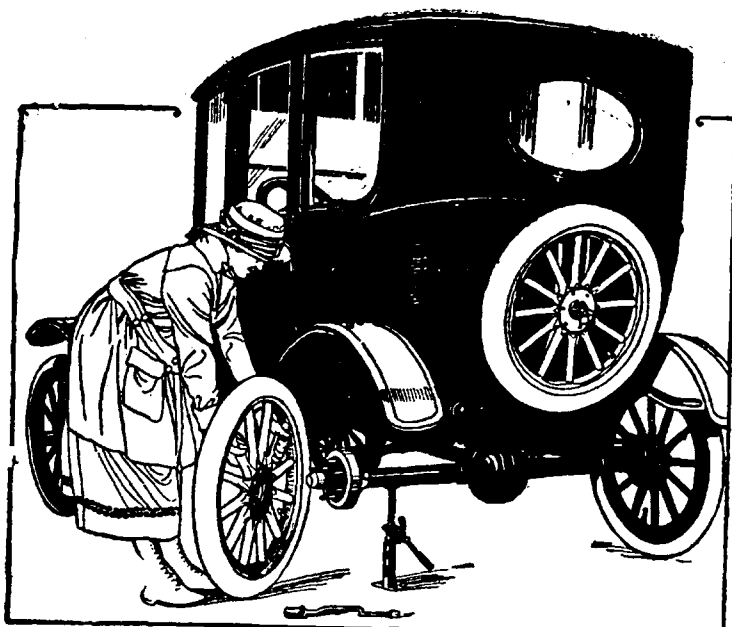

He accepted the superintendency of the Richmond schools in 1884. For twelve years he led the educational plan of that city. It was his efficient work in Richmond which made him the subject of a call from Fort Wayne.

Built City Schools. Professor Study has virtually built the present Fort Wayne city school system. Hardly a school building is standing which was here when he came to the city to take charge of education.

There were fourteen grade schools and the high school building in the city when Professor Study took charge here. Today there are seventeen grade schools, an enlarged high school, a vocational school, an open air school and a normal.

The school attendance in the city has been nearly doubled in the years that Professor Study has controlled the educational plan. There were 1,001 pupils

IS TOUGH ON BOY EMPEROR

The Off-Again on Again Off-Again Ruler of China is Suffering.

STRENUOUS GIVES A NERVOUS SHOCK

Youngster Did Not Want to Return to Throne, It is Proved.

Peking, July 27.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Hsuan Tung, the 12-year-old boy emperor, who was unwillingly dragged back upon the Manch throne in the interest of ambitious military leaders, and quite unceremoniously deposed again, suffered a bad nervous shock as a result of the bombardment of the forbidden city by the republican forces and was quite ill for some time. The little emperor has recovered, however, but is very unhappy over the proposed cancellation of the preferential treatment for the royal family.

Did Not Want to Return. Edicts were issued by Gen. Chang Hsuan in the name of the child emperor making it appear that he was willingly returning to the throne. This was quite untrue. Neither the young emperor nor any of the members of the Tsing household started the monarchical restoration. They realized that it was untimely and ill-supported, but lacked strength to resist. Prince Pu Lun, who is really the head of the Tsing household and the guardian of the emperor, was especially active in his opposition to the monarchical restoration.

Would Cancel Allowance. Republicans are emphatic in their demand that the annual allowance of $3,000,000 silver given to the Tsing household shall be cancelled. They ask also that the imperial family be banished to some interior point, deprived of all titles and imperial rights and guarded carefully, that it may not again become the prey of ambitious military leaders. Kang-Ku-Wei, the tutor of the boy emperor, who was one of the chief conspirators with General Hsuan, is a refugee in the legation quarter in Peking. The republican forces are especially indignant at Kang-Ku-Wei and are making strong efforts to have him punished for his part in the monarchical fiasco.

LOCKRIDGE IN THE CITY. Ross F. Lockridge, secretary of the Citizens League of Indiana, was a business visitor in Fort Wayne Wednesday. Mr. Lockridge was a former resident of this city. He is now located at Indianapolis.

AT THE MAJESTIC

"THE 13TH CHAIR" TONIGHT.

Company to Play Here is Same That Goes to Chicago.

Manager Essig takes pleasure in announcing that the company which will present "The 13th Chair" at the Majestic theater tonight is the same one that will offer the play at the Garrick theater in Chicago for a long engagement commencing Sunday night. The production will be the same as was seen for a solid year at the 48th street theater in New York, where the play enjoyed the distinction of being the biggest dramatic hit of the past season. Annie Russell, the best beloved stage favorite until she retired four years ago, resumes her footlight career by appearing in the central role. Her reputation together with the record established by the play in Gotham should pack the Majestic tonight and tomorrow night.

"The 13th Chair" was written by Bayard Veiller, author of "Within the Law," and the New York critics declared that his latest work is his best, a very significant statement when it is considered the enormous popularity enjoyed by the former. William Harris, Jr., is the producer. The play derives its name from the fact that the occupant of the thirteenth chair at a spiritualistic seance during which a murder mystery is being investigated is murdered precisely as was the victim of the other crime. There are thirteen persons present and they are seated in a circle, each holding another's hand. Rosalie La Grange, an aged medium, is conducting the seance and she is being pried with questions concerning the first murder by the occupant of the thirteenth chair. Suddenly moans and cries of anguish are heard and the lights are snapped on, revealing the dead body of the questioner on the floor. The doors and windows had been fastened before the seance began and the medium had been tied securely in her chair. The plot of the play revolves around the investigation and solution of this mystery. As can be surmised, thrills and surprises follow in rapid succession, relieved occasionally by mirth-provoking incidents. Throughout there is a delightful love story in which a man's staunch devotion is put to severe test. Miss Russell enacts the role of the medium, while DeWitt Jennings will be seen as the inspector of police. Others in the cast are Esther Cornell, Ryder Keane, Fred Eric, Reginald Carrington, Belle D'Arcy, Millard Vincent, George Shaeffer, Constance Beaumar, Judith Ives, Cliff Worman, May Jennings, Kenneth Miner and Helen Freeburn.

AT THE PALACE

FRANCES KENNEDY AT PALACE.

Distracting Comedienne Tops Bill Opening Today.

Miss Frances Kennedy, the distinguished singing comedienne, whose vivacious, cheerful manner, charming voice and power of mimicry have won her a decidedly warm spot in the affections of local amusement seekers, tops the bill that opened this afternoon at the New Palace for the remainder of the week. This ebullient personage a year ago established a new record for laughs at the New Palace and judging from the inquiries received at the theater Fort Wayne has been looking forward eagerly to a return engagement.

The bill has several other prime favorites with local folks. The versatile quartet of black face funsters, two girls and two men known as Fay, two Coleys and Fay, also are on this program as is La Graciosa the divinely formed girl, whose poses this season are to be done with some exceptionally brilliant lighting effects. Booth and Leander, the cyclist and the nut, in their knockabout comedy acrobatics; the four American Beauties, a rich travesty number, and Hingham and West, two smart talking and singing folks, are others on the bill.

AT THE GRAND.

"The Vengeance of Durand," featuring Earl Williams and Edith Storey, will be shown today for the last time.

The large crowd that attended the show yesterday was more than pleased with this fine production. The story is one of Rex Beach's most famous novels, and portrays it in such a straightforward way that any child can understand it. Next week a two-reel comedy entitled "A Regiment of Two" will be presented. In this subject "seven great stars" will appear. Don't fail to see them.

HUNDREDS OF CHILDREN ARE AT ROBISON PARK

The fact that the annual Romp day celebration at Robison park was postponed from Wednesday to Thursday on account of rain had no effect on the attendance. Hundreds of children were at the park early to take part in the day's festivities. One of the big features of Romp day was the greased pole. The first boy climbing to the top will be awarded five hundred copper pennies for his trouble. Many other amusements have been provided by Manager C. H. Williams.

CHEESE AND GREENS ROLL.

Cook two quarts of spinach, Swiss chard or other greens. Drain and dress with one tablespoonful of butter. Chop and add one cupful of grated cheese and bread crumbs enough to make a mixture sufficiently stiff to form into a roll. Place in oblong pan and cook in moderate oven for twenty minutes. When cold the mixture may be sliced in one-half inch pieces and serve on lettuce leaves with salad dressing. If desired leave the mixture more moist and bake in casserole or baking dish and serve hot.

An oil useful in the manufacture of soap is obtained from grape seeds in Argentina.

Active pall-bearers will be all 33rd degree Masons and will be as follows: Gaylord M. Leslie, Charles A. Wilding, William C. Geake, Charles E. Read, Willis E. Hattersley and Ed C. Miller. Six Knights Templar will act as guard of honor while the body lies in state. The remains will be shipped over the G. R. & I. road at 12:25 (standard time) for Hagerstown, Ind., where the body will be interred.

LIVE WIRES
SESSION ENDS

Insurance Salesmen of the Lincoln Life Leave for Their Homes.

EXPECT TO DO EVEN BETTER NEXT YEAR
Annual Banquet at Anthony Featured by Addresses of Officers.

The three day convention of the Lincoln Life Insurance company's live wires came to a close here Thursday with the ending of the morning session. The entertainment for the big salesmen of the company reached its climax in a big banquet at the Anthony hotel Wednesday evening at which time talks were made commending the work done by the members of the company.

The program of Wednesday afternoon which was to have consisted of a baseball game, outdoor sports and an auto tour of the city, and postponed until Tuesday because of wet weather was curtailed because of the desire on the part of many salesmen to make early afternoon trains in leaving the city after the actual business sessions were over.

Thursday morning the salesmen were instructed in the lines of the various departments of the Lincoln Life Insurance company with a view of placing them on a more intimate basis with the work being done by the men in the home office. Beside the program of instructive speaking which was carried out as arranged the work of various departments was gone into the men individually. The morning's program, which was started Wednesday afternoon, was finished and the event scheduled for the afternoon's session, a talk by Walter T. Shepherd, vice president and manager of agencies, on "The L-M-L" agency organization, was given. The various departments were represented by the managers, which included the executive department, by Arthur F. Hall, medical, by Dr. H. C. English and Dr. B. A. Barlow; actuarial, Franklin B. Mead; policy, by Miss A. H. O'Rourke; auditing, by E. H. Redding; R. J. Stoner and East L. Corwin; legal, D. B. Nind; agency, by Miss E. S. Sweeney.

The keynote of the banquet, which was one of the best of the annual affairs ever given by the company, according to those present, to its salesmen, was enthusiasm, and it fairly bubbled over in the speeches and actions of all officers and salesmen of the company. It was a meeting of those successful in the sales end of the company, and to their enthusiasm each attributed his degree of success, and this formed the theme for a great many of the after-dinner speeches.

President Foster Toastmaster. Samuel M. Foster, president of the company, presided at the banquet and introduced the speakers. Mr. Foster told the banqueters that there were two school of educators and that they divided along the lines of a classical or a cultural education and a practical one. He declared that the same thing held for the insurance business and that it was the practical men who do the things that make the wheels go around. He told the salesmen that they were present because they had the right to be and had won that right.

Arthur F. Hall, vice president of the company, told briefly the history of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company and sketched its growth in twelve years. He declared that several men got together twelve years ago and decided that they ought to have a company for their own home town, one that Fort Wayne could be proud of, but were told by the skeptical that it could not be done. Mr. Hall pointed out a few salient features of the company's organization, saying that there is no such thing as stock control and that the entire board of directors owned only forty-one per cent of the stock of the company. He said that consequently no one held positions except by merit, and that no relation or friends of officers were handed out positions. The company had built up such an organization that it would be entirely unaffected by the death or removal of any of its members. He declared that the company had built for permanency.

Hanna on Program. Robert B. Hanna was introduced by the toastmaster as one of the best postmasters the city ever had. Mr. Hanna talked on perpetual organization, and declared the lack of continuity in municipal offices for periods of four years who did not build for years to come.

T. D. Hughes, vice president and manager of the Northwestern agencies, of Fargo, North Dakota, spoke briefly from some of his experiences in the insurance business in the west. Irving Williams, editor of Rough Notes, a trade magazine published at Indianapolis, was the last speaker of the evening. Mr. Williams praised the standard set by the Lincoln Life Insurance companies as one of the highest in the country, and pointed out the fact that its growth was almost unparalleled by any western insurance company.

The vice president, Mr. Hall, presented the gifts donated by the company.

Mr. Fowler was presented the Hall loving cup for the biggest amount of business done by an agency in the month of May. This same organization has received the cup twice, once before in 1911. The third awarding means it becomes the property of the agency.

Guy J. Gilbert and Harry Askew, of the same agency, were given similar las for the business they had secured. Mr. Gilbert, Lawrence Johns and Edward Larrievier, of North Dakota, received traveling bags for "having perfect batting averages." Mr. Fowler was given another prize, a loving cup for writing the largest amount in premiums in May.

Mr. Gilbert and O. F. Gilliom received checks of $100 each for the big business done.

ELKS WILL DISCUSS WAR RELIEF FUND
Local Assessment is $3,300 or $2.50 for Each Lodge Member.

At the regular meeting to be held Thursday night at the temple, members of the lodge of Elks will discuss raising Fort Wayne's share of the $1,000,000 war relief fund. Fort Wayne's assessment is $3,300, or about $2.50 per man. Another matter that will probably be discussed will be conducting a referendum among the members to determine whether the new Country club shall be purchased.

The social committee of the Elks, together with the men who helped them in the arrangement for the big picnic which was held in July, met in a get-together dinner at the Elks Country club last night. Harry Volrol's mandolin orchestra furnished music and talks were given by Harry Hogan, exalted ruler; Charles A. Spanley, chairman of the social session committee; Harry A. Hattersley, Frank Hamilton and others. Those present were: Harry G. Hogan, Charles A. Spanley, Guy W. Kite, Gaylord S. Morton, Stephen A. Callahan, Louis F. Crosby, Dr. A. G. Emrick, Henry J. Taylor, Robert Dickson, H. Van Ausdel, Maurice L. Niesz, Charles S. Hanna, H. A. Hanes, Victor Blough, Ed H. Schuckman, John W. Thompson, Charles G. Lee, Gates D. Horton, J. Eugene Martin, William A. Bayer, Dr. Charles J. Rothschild, Robert Ormiston, John J. Alt, Harry Volrol, Harold Clark, Frank G. Hamilton, Harry A. Van Ausdel, Otto Nalwood, Ben J. Ankenbrun, William Ruchel, Jules J. Agne, J. J. Cavalier, Clem J. Lanterier, Louis C. Blase, H. C. W. Shafer, Frank Kloe, A. J. Moeller, M. Comineavish, Jr., W. H. Moeller, W. J. Ungemach, William F. Ranke, William C. Schrier, C. B. Bryson, Clem Fox, Otto E. Strodel, George C. A. Ortleib, Charles E. Crum, Edwin F. Sander and A. C. Heckler.

W. R. C. Meets Friday. The Woman's Relief corps of Zion S. Bass post, G. A. R., will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Coleman. Another patriotic tea will be given on the first Friday in September. Two applications were received and favorably acted upon at the last meeting.

To Resume Sessions. Following an intermission in August because of the hot weather, the sessions of Sarah C. White tent, Daughters of Veterans, will be resumed Saturday night.

TO BE OUT IN MONTH OF BLUSHING BRIDES

Lewis Beamer Has Habit of Taking Money and Must Pay the Penalty.

When the blushing brides are led to the hymeneal altar next June Lewis Beamer, a lifelong resident of Fort Wayne, will emerge from the bolted doors of the state penitentiary. He was fined $100 and sentenced for 180 days to the farm in police court Thursday morning on a charge of petit larceny. He had had three previous convictions, two for petit larceny and one for grand larceny. For the latter offense he served time in the state penitentiary.

Beamer was arrested after the Maier Fur and Hide company missed $2.85 from the company's cash drawer last Monday. Beamer told that he was in the habit of taking things, but could not account for his actions. He said he had been trying to lead a good life.

Cases Continued. The case against Everett Cary, charged with child neglect, was continued to Friday morning, bond fixed at $100. Cary was brought back from Detroit by Ed O'Connor, police clerk.

The court also continued the case against Alex Betley, who is charged with petit larceny. His case will be heard Friday morning.

Attacked by Brother-in-Law. Mrs. Jenkins, who was assaulted and beat up by her brother-in-law, appeared in court with evidence of the beating. She carries a highly discolored right eye where it came in contact with Jenkins' fist. The case will be tried Friday morning.

Other Cases. The "drunks" were disposed of as follows: Charles Strohm was let go; Charles Graft, $1 and costs; Blair Wormons, $5 and costs; Arthur Brown and Ira Sibbel will appear before the judge Friday morning.

AUSTRIA BARRED TO LARKIN. Melbourne, Aug. 25.—(Delayed.)—Queensland in parliament today concerning a report that James Larkin, head of the Transport Workers union in England, and well known as a strike leader, is on his way to Australia. Premier Hughes said instructions had been given to prevent the landing of Larkin anywhere in Australia.

SOCIAL TONIGHT. A social will be given this evening at Weisser park by the Jefferson drum corps, the proceeds to be used for the purchase of uniforms and equipment for the organization.

ACTING ON CITY LISTS

Appeal Board Starts Work of Examining Claims from Second District.

TO RETURN DOCKETS AS SOON AS POSSIBLE
Selection of First Five Percent Will Then Be Made by Boards.

Work of examining the appeals from the three city districts was begun Thursday morning by the appeal board of the Second Indiana district. The appeal board will conclude its work on the city appeals as soon as possible and they will return the dockets to the various boards as early as possible so that the selection of the first five per cent of men who are to leave can be made.

It is known that one of the boards in the city has already selected several men who have had experience and who will be included in the first five per cent of men to go to Fort Taylor at Louisville, Ky.

Now He Isn't 21. The members of the county board run onto a strange case which they have deferred action on not knowing what decision to make. A certain young man who is employed at the Fort Wayne Electric works registered on registration day. He was called in on the first call and passed the physical examination. He had no claim for exemption to make. Now he comes to the board with his mother, father and some more relatives who carry with them a bible and family records and swears that he is not 21 years of age.

He stated to the board that his reason for registering when he was not 21 years of age was in order to hold his position which required that he be 21 years of age. Some of the members of the board call it "a little game."

Appeal Board. The appeal board for district No. 2 has announced the following findings:

Men Held for Military Service. Ora Hewitt, Ligonier. John Henry Bogess, Kimmell. Linville Henry Myers, Albion. Fred Crothers, Avilla. Charles Leroy Jewett, Avilla. Bartley Snowden Crandell, Albion. SCHOOLBOYS IN FEDERAL JOBS
GET THEIR PAY

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 30.—Probably the first payment ever made by the United States government to school boys for army contract work was recorded today when a war department check was received here to pay high school students for the manufacture of tent pegs supplied several weeks ago. The check for $125.87 is drawn on Charles C. Heyl of the civilian service and labor department of the Pennsylvania committee of public safety. Dr. Heyl, superintendent of the West Philadelphia high school, obtained the tent peg contract for the boys of the several high schools in this city and 10,458 wooden pegs were turned out in the school wood working shops of the government. Five pegs or "pins" as the soldiers call them, are supplied to each infantryman and are used to peg down the "dog" tents furnishing shelter in active campaigning.

BREAKS ANKLE AT HOSPITAL.

Mrs. C. S. Ridenour, county president of the W. C. T. U., is suffering with a broken ankle, which she sustained while at the Hope hospital watching the operation on her grandson. She was overcome by the fumes of ether and fell to the floor, a fracture resulting. All of her engagements are cancelled for the present.

WILL GRANT ROLLS
TO TOTAL $29,958

Board of Works to Pass on Eleven Improvements at Session.

Assessment rolls totaling $29,958 will be confirmed by the board of works at their Tuesday night session. Six paving jobs are included in the eleven improvements to be passed upon by the board.

The final action will be taken on the following improvements: Cement sidewalks on both sides of Ohio street, from Maumee avenue to Hayden street, and on the east side of Pauline street, from Taylor to Hale avenue, and on the east side of Beaver avenue, from Federal street to Rudisill boulevard; paving of Thompson avenue, from Guthrie street to Eagle street and Hoagland avenue, from Cornell circle to Lexington street, and Pasadena drive, from Cornell circle to Hoagland avenue, and Oakwood drive, from South Wayne street to Indiana avenue, and Hamilton avenue, from Hanna street to Oliver street, and paving the alley south of Creighton avenue, from Fox avenue to Minor street, and sewers in the alley north of Rudisill boulevard, from Beaver avenue to Indiana avenue, and in the alley between Smith street and Oliver street, from the alley north of Rudisill boulevard to Eckart street.

SURE GO. Band Concert is Expected to be Given This Time.

There will be no more delays in the giving of the last band concert of the season. The program, which will be rendered Friday night by the Citizens' band, under the direction of Paul Rietzsch, follows:

Birth Record. Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Bahlinger, 1822 Broadway—a boy. To Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Paulus, 1918 Garden street—a boy. To Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomas, 1236 Jones street—a girl.

Many Coming. Letters are rolling into the park board office announcing the intentions of park heads of Indiana cities to come to Fort Wayne for the state meeting September 16 and 17. There should be several score of park officials at the gathering, which will convene at the Anthony hotel.

MANY INQUIRIES
REGARDING CLASSES

Prospective Students Consult With Prof. Shockley About Branch University.

Since the opening of the office in the court house relative to the opening of a branch of Indiana university in this city this fall, hundreds of people have called upon Prof. F. W. Shockley to make inquiries.

Few people realize that the Indiana university center, established in this city, will serve as a junior university to the high school graduates who cannot leave home this year to continue their studies. Many educators advocate the maintenance of one or two years' university work in large cities as an extension of the high school. They claim that it is economical and will encourage more young people to start a college career.

The extension center has arranged its courses so that a high school graduate may take the college freshman work at home. The following courses are given: English, English composition, two hours a week; English literature, three hours a week; American history, three hours a week; Elementary French, five hours a week; and mathematics, five hours a week. The university permits freshmen in residence to carry fifteen hours work each semester, but any ambitious student can carry enough extra work to graduate in three remaining years.

Many young people just out of high school, have to work a year before entering college. This necessity may not permit carrying a maximum amount of extension work. They should, by all means, take one or two courses, so as to keep up the habit of study and enter next year with advanced credits. The classes will be held in the late afternoon and evening for the accommodation of those who have to spend the day at some gainful occupation.

FRENCH SUBMARINE LOSSES.

Paris, Aug. 30.—Out of the 920 ships which entered and the 1,013 which cleared from French ports during the week ending August 26, three ships of more than 1,000 tons and one vessel of less than 1,000 tons were sunk by submarines or mines. Four vessels were attacked unsuccessfully by submarines in the same period.

FIRE IN RUSSIAN CITY.

Petrograd, Aug. 30.—Many persons were injured in a fire which broke out in the city of Kasan, on the Kama river, 480 miles east of Moscow on Monday. The flames spread rapidly and caused much destruction. Many lives have been lost.

STUDY'S DEATH
MEANS LOSS

Dean Barr Tells Teachers of Nation Wide Regret.

WAS PROMINENT AS NATIONAL EDUCATOR
Representative of Defense Council on Institute Program.

Dean W. G. Barr, of the Allen county institute, in addressing the teachers Thursday morning, deplored the untimely death of Prof. J. N. Study, superintendent of Fort Wayne schools.

Dean Barr told the teachers that Superintendent Study was an educator of nation-wide prominence and that his death was distinctly felt all over the United States, as well as in the city of Fort Wayne.

As a special tribute to Superintendent Study, Mrs. Anna M. Philley, teacher and dramatic reader, was asked to read Kipling's poem, "Let We Forget" to the assemblage of teachers for the afternoon's program. An announcement was also read at the afternoon meeting from the city board of education saying that all teachers who wished to attend the funeral services of the late superintendent of schools, J. N. Study, at the Scottish Rite cathedral Friday morning, might report at the usual time for the institute and go from there, and that all teachers who attended the services would be counted present at Friday morning's session of the institute. The announcement was signed by Prof. F. W. Miles.

Talks of Council of Defense. Approprios of the Boys' Working Reserve movement in the state of Indiana, Rev. Alfred H. Backus, of Dunkirk, representing the government and the Indiana State Council of Defense, addressed the institute on the relation of questions of vital importance of the day and what the attitude of the teachers would be. He declared that any teacher who remained passive and unwilling to put himself out at this time is a slacker teacher just the same as any business or factory which was only putting out half of its possible output was a slacker factory. The speaker said:

"What sort of emphasis are you going to put on that these people have been living under the benefits of the Stars and Stripes for a good many years but that when the time for service comes to the flag they were ready to shift the responsibility. He told the teachers to impart the truth to the pupils whom they would face soon to start the year's work, and make them realize when the time comes to defend their country."

Keep Children in School. The speaker urged that the children be kept in school and not be lured away by the financial rewards of industrial work now because of the greater opportunity which would come later and the great need which the country would have for these same pupils if they went through the right training, which he said was in line with President Wilson's idea on the subject. Rev. Backus preached conservation to the teachers and told them to teach the pupils conservation and the doctrine of "clean plates." He said that through the efforts principally of Governor James P. Goodrich, Indiana had been placed at the head of all states in the boys' working reserve work together with Connecticut.

Dr. Gordy's subject for the morning address was "Representative Men and Typical Events." Singing, led by Professor Stophar and readings by Miss Philley featured the program. The invocation was delivered by Rev. C. Claud Travis, D. D. of the Wayne Street Methodist Episcopal church.

Mr. Blount has considerably exceeded the expectations of his father, who said at the time of his boy's enlistment: "I want my son to account for five Germans."

KUCHER IMPROVES.

T. J. Kucher, of the Curdes Realty company, who has been on the sick list for the past two weeks, is much improved and expects to be able to resume his duties within a short time.

Rev. H. B. Hostetter and family have returned from their summer vacation spent at Beach Lake, Pa. Hostetter will speak at the church on Sunday.

GERMAN SUBJECTS
NOT TO BE CALLED

County Clerk David Stout Gets Notification from Washington, D. C.

Subjects of Germany are not to be notified to appear in court to secure their second papers of naturalization on September 4, according to word received Thursday by County Clerk David C. Stout from Fred J. Schlofeldt, acting chairman of the naturalization examining board.

When Deputy Wilson, of Chicago, was in this city he conferred with Judge Eggeman on this subject and it was agreed that no German subjects would be allowed in the courts during the war.

With this ruling in effect it will probably require but a day to examine the remainder of the applicants for citizenship papers.

SUCCESSOR NAMED.

Calvin H. Brown Becomes Chief Deputy Auditor Under Will Johnson.

County Auditor Will Johnson feels highly elated and considers himself fortunate in securing the services of Calvin H. Brown as a successor to Jay Brown, his son, who resigned and will become associated with the Tri-State Trust and Loan company.

Calvin Brown served as deputy auditor for four years and then was elected as auditor for four years, during which time he learned the business from beginning to end.

Bids for Hospital.

The county commissioners will receive bids for the erection of the county tuberculosis hospital on October 23. Two previous attempts to let the contract have failed and the commissioners hope that the old adage of "third time is charm" will prove true in this case.

Big Mortgage Released.

The Equitable Trust company, of New York, has filed a mortgage release with the county recorder which involves $1,600,000. The mortgage was held on the Bass Foundry and Machine shop. The mortgage was recorded January 15, 1915.

Report is Favorable.

The viewers of the Bandeller road in Jefferson township has filed a favorable report on the vacation of the road.

Contract is Awarded.

A contract for the bridge on the St. Joe road sometimes known as Notes-tine's bridge, was awarded to Herman Tapp by the county commissioners, Thursday morning on a submitted bid of $810. There were four bids submitted. The repairs on the bridge came about as the result of a washout.

Nagged and Found Fault.

Blanche E. South has sued Walter A. South for divorce, alleging that the defendant continuously nagged at her and found fault with everything. She also complains that he called her vile names and profane names and ill-treated her in many ways. She asks for $1,500 alimony and an order restraining him from molesting her and enjoining the G. R. & I. Railroad company from paying the defendant his wages.

Court House Personal.

Art Leont, deputy clerk of the superior court, has returned from a brief outing at Lake George and brought with him a small mouthed bass which weighed four pounds and ten ounces.

Charles Rulo, deputy sheriff, is reported as spending the day at Robinson park romping with the children.

Deputy Clerk Elmer Steiner is spending a few days' vacation at Rome City.

Marriage Licenses.

Hugo E. Herbst, farmer, to Gladys E. Smith. Frank Ganz, furnace puddler, to N. M. Summers. Delta H. Reeb, farmer, to Irene M. Bennett.

VOTE REGISTRATIONS

COME IN SLOWLY

More Than 22,000 Citizens

Must Sign to Reach City Quota.

With the voting force of Fort Wayne yet 22,000 short of its full quota there was a lull in the activity of ballot signers on Thursday morning. Only a dozen men appeared at the city hall and registered for their vote privilege.

Registration clerks make the request that notary publics, who have been added in the signing work, bring their filed lists to the central office. This action is needed in order that it may be ascertained how many more blanks must be purchased.

Registration places for Thursday night are as follows:

Meyer Bros. drug store, 2002 Broadway, corner Taylor. Albermeyer drug store, 1402 Wells. D. F. Michaelle drug store, 2617 Lafayette, corner Pontiac. F. W. Steinhorn drug store, 1023 High.

Meyer Bros. drug store, 1420 Calhoun. Wayne Pharmacy, Harrison and Berry. Dreier Bros. drug store, Calhoun and Columbia. Also any day or evening: Phil Koehlinger drug store, 901 East Washington. Jacob Bill drug store, 1401 East Creighton.

Lakeland Pharmacy, Columbia and Jay. Joe Bergward. Joe Kramert drug store, 1415 West Main. The following are the names of the signers who have been added to the list of signers since the last report.

LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON

Major Thomas F. Ryan, of Recruiting Station, Off for National Capital.

OFFICIAL BUSINESS
HIS SOLE MISSION
Marching Orders for Two Companies Have Not Arrived as Yet.

Major Thomas F. Ryan, in charge of the United States regular army recruiting station in Fort Wayne, left for Washington, D. C., Thursday afternoon. Official business is his mission to the national capital and he expects to return to Fort Wayne by Saturday.

His exact mission to the national capital is not disclosed, due perhaps, to war censorship.

Marching orders for Company E and Company B have not been received as yet. At least they had not been at a late hour this afternoon. Men and officers are alike anxiously awaiting the order and the general opinion prevails that the boys will leave Sunday or Labor day.

Twenty-five men were sent from the Fort Wayne recruiting office to Fort Thomas, Ky., Wednesday evening.

Company E received a new recruit Thursday morning by the route of the regular army recruiting station. He is Anthony F. Berkley.

E. L. Conklin, of this city, and a member of Company B, signal corps, was seized with a severe attack of appendicitis Wednesday and he was immediately removed to St. Joseph's hospital, where an operation was performed by Dr. H. O. Bruggeman, of the officers, medical reserve.

Members of the signal corps now encamped at the Lincoln school were engaged Wednesday and Thursday in drawing maps of the country surrounding the school.

The company also reports that after trying all kinds of stoves for cooking purposes that they have now cooked upon a coal range which is giving satisfactory service.

Company E members have begun the organization of a society within their ranks. The organizations are to be known as the "Jassers" and the "Scruffs." The societies are to be partly military but the main purpose is for social enjoyment. The men think that much good can be accomplished and the officers are to bear military titles from colonel on down.

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE.

Virgil Weaver Writes a Letter to His Parents.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weaver, of 637 Prospect avenue are in receipt of a letter from their son Virgil, who enlisted Feb. 1, 1917, and is one of the younger soldiers of this city in active service "somewhere in France." He is 16 years of age. An extract from the letter follows:

"I am well and enjoying myself, although I wish I was back in the good old U. S. A. I can't tell you much about the people here or where we are, but it seems strange to hear people talk and you can't understand what they say only by signs and motions."

"They have a fine Y. M. C. A. here, and plenty to read. You don't feel so very lonely after all. They have a French class at the Y. M. C. A. in the evenings, and you can learn French well enough to buy things at the stores and be understood pretty well. The towns have so many windings that you are always mixed up."

"We are having fine weather so far and as much as I have seen of France I like pretty well. I suppose I'll have to close for this time as I don't know of anything else to write."

Weaver is a member of the Sixteenth infantry, Company F.

GOES TO BALTIMORE.

Dr. W. W. Carey Will Undergo Six Weeks' Intensive Training.

Dr. Willis W. Carey, of 2525 South Calhoun street, has been ordered to Baltimore, Md., where he will undergo six weeks of intensive training at the Phipps clinic, Johns Hopkins university. Dr. Carey has a commission as lieutenant in the medical corps. He left Wednesday evening for Baltimore.

Dr. Carey is a graduate of the Western Reserve university and has done his graduate work in the John Hunting dispensary of Cleveland. He was intern at Lakeside hospital, and studied at the Harvard medical college. He was a member of the A. M. A. state and county, and of the Academy of Medicine.

LIST OF TEACHERS TO BE ANNOUNCED MONDAY

Several New Teachers Will Be Appointed as Members of High School Faculty.

The list of teachers for the Fort Wayne public schools for the 1917-18 term will be announced Monday afternoon at a meeting of all the teachers which will be held at the high school auditorium.

Several new teachers will be added to the high school faculty this year and several changes are to be made in the lists in the various grade schools. It is understood that several new teachers will be added to the high school faculty this year and several changes are to be made in the lists in the various grade schools. ## Wolverines Cinch Pennant by Third Win Over Fort Wayne

No Chance for Rapids to Lose Goufalon of 1917.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 30.—When Grand Rapids defeated Fort Wayne here yesterday 5 to 3 the pennant in the Central league was put beyond the reach of all the other clubs for the season of 1917, which winds up on Labor day. Grand Rapids clinched the rag beyond any possibility of losing it. While the leaders were winning from the Chiefs, Springfield, the nearest rivals of the Michigan club, was engaged in a split with Richmond, which ended the hopes of the Resisters of overhauling the leaders. Grand Rapids can now lose all the remaining games on her schedule and Springfield can win all those remaining on her schedule without changing the result. The win yesterday was the third straight by Grand Rapids over the Fort Waynes besides being the eleventh straight for the leaders and the twenty-second victory of the season for Pitcher Paul Carpenter.

Fort Wayne put up a better fight in yesterday's battle than the day before, and led the league throughout the game except at the place where it counted, that is, at the end. The rally which won the game for the flag winners came in the eighth inning when they scored three runs and with only one run needed the Chiefs failed to come across and tie the score. Carpenter was in superb form and this factor counted largely in the winning by the champions. Carpenter was hit thirteen times but the hits did not come close enough to threaten him in two innings. Carpenter pulled himself out of several tight places which should have won the game for Fort Wayne had some other Central league pitchers been on the mound against the Chiefs.

Fort Wayne scored her last run in the fifth inning when Breaux doubled, which was followed by singles on the part of Miller and Smith, allowing Breaux to score. In the eighth inning with one down, Miller tried to throw the ball away in his effort to get Mathes, who came to third and came home on the drive. Miller doubled, sending Edgington to third and both scored when Jantzen's drive went over Hoffman's head. The leaders got a one run lead, enough to win, for the Chiefs were through scoring for the day.

It was understood at the time Hanneker was married that he would not return this fall, but he has written saying he will be back to lead the scarlet eleven.

George McAlevy, track athlete, who was married several weeks ago, has returned to this city and intends to enter college when it opens Sept. 26.

Gloom that has been hovering over Notre Dame's prospects for even a mediocre football team this fall was further intensified when Athletic Director Harper announced that Ray Whipple, two times a monogram end, and who had been counted on for yeoman service this fall, will not return to Notre Dame. "Hard" Whipple, as the veteran end is known on the campus at Notre Dame, though holding one of the last numbers in the conscription lottery, has accepted a position.

Skat, kind sir, is a game—not a catfish. If any restaurant wants an experienced waiter, Jack Granly is the man. Any American league pitcher will attest to that.

If the Baltimore Feds got Washington's place in the American league, what would happen to the American league without Walter Johnson?

The navy is going to play football next fall—with the Kaiser's helmet, we hope. "Tain't fair to let the Athletics and Pirates go along playing ball without appropriate them—even if it's giving them a cellar door for shelter.

It's the same old song, "We can win yet, it—" Sung by the Pirates and Athletics.

FINAL DAY OF TOURNEY.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 30.—Interest in the second and final day's play in the national patriotic tennis matches by the national stars at the east side tennis club here today centers in the match between Mary K. Browne, of California, and Molla Bjurstedt, national woman champion in the woman singles, and clashes between John Strachan, of the Pacific coast, and Harold Throckmorton, of New Jersey, in the men's singles. Men's doubles will end the competition.

MURRAY REIGNING KING OF THE TENNIS WORLD SHOWN IN ACTION

When the deeds of 1917 are written down in the lawn tennis histories the name of Robert Lindsay Murray is certain to be placed before that of every other player. Murray clearly earned this honor by his defeat of German player, who, in the last round of the national Red Cross tennis.

LINCOLN LIVES HAVE TWO HARD BATTLES

George Mullin Will Hurl for Delphos Against Insurance Men.

The Lincoln Life team has two hard games ahead, one on next Sunday and the other on Labor day, when they meet the first Delphos team at that place. George Mullin, ex-Detroit star pitcher, will be on the mound for the Ohio team in at least one of the games, and is certain to give the insurance men a hard fight.

Because of the fact that the Peoria games were transferred too late for the cancelling of the games at Delphos, the Lincoln Lives will not be back on the home lot until a week from Sunday. On that date will begin a big semi-pro city championship series. A number of teams have shown a desire to get into this series, including the All-Nations and Bude Meyers' new team.

The insurance men are confident of coming out on top in the games with Delphos Sunday and Monday. Wagner, former Central league, will probably start Sunday's game, with Oestermeyer on the mound Monday. Hargrave will probably be in shape to catch one of the games after a lay off on account of a broken finger. Hines will catch one of the games.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.
Millers Drop Two.
Minneapolis, Aug. 30.—St. Paul won two games from Minneapolis here yesterday, both by the same score, 7 to 4. The second game went eleven innings before a decision was finally reached, when Sawyer, with what should have been an easy double play, heaved the ball away, allowing St. Paul to score and starting the deluge which was halted only after the Saints had scored four runs. Kaws in Split.
Kansas City, Aug. 30.—Kansas City took the first game of a double-header here with Milwaukee yesterday but lost the second, the scores being 6-1 and 11-2. The Blues used three pitchers in the second game. "Lefty" Karsen started the second game and allowed four men to walk and was then retired in favor of Smith, who could not hold the Brewers. ## Dope Running True to Form in Women's Golf Tourney

Precocious Youngster May Prove Upset to Best Calculations.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Four matches, each containing a champion or former champion of a more or less extended territory, were staged today in the third round of the seventeenth annual championship tournament of the Women's Western Golf association at the Flossmoore Country club. Play thus far has been close to par and brilliant spurts by the feminine link artists have speckled score cards with birds and eagles.

Mrs. Fred Letts, present champion in the upper half of the draw, today met Miss Elizabeth Allen, of Rock Island, Ill., Iowa champion, for the fourth time in championship tournaments. The two played matches in the national championship in a previous western meet and in the finals of the Iowa championship. Miss Allen was victor on all these occasions. Both have played well thus far. Miss Allen scored 42, two under par on the second half, while Mrs. Letts was scoring what could well have been a par 88 for the 18 holes when she won her match on the 14th green.

The other match in the upper half was between Miss Vida Llewellyn, western champion in 1909, and Miss Lois Stumer, 18 years old, who has exhibited precocious golf, downing the experienced Miss Marjorie Edwards yesterday with a better than par for the 15 holes played. In the lower half Miss Frances Hadfield, champion of Wisconsin, met Mrs. F. Colburn and Miss Elaine Rosenthal, north and south champion, crossed cleeks with Mrs. J. W. Douglass.

OH! OH! BILL! LISTEN TO WHAT THE BOYS ARE SINGING ABOUT YOU

New York, Aug. 30.—When the American soldiers go into battle they will not sing any highbrow oratorio stuff set to reinforced music, as the Germans used to do when things were going their way. They will yell parodies of familiar American tunes and zippy march songs written by men they understand, like Sousa.

The war department is getting out a book of camp songs. Half a million copies are being run off the presses. "Nobody is going to try to write popular songs for our soldiers. They won't have them. The boys are making their own songs," says Kenneth S. Clark, formerly of "Musical America," writer of Princeton Triangle club, football and reunion songs, who has done the collecting. The songs most in favor now in the army and navy camps according to Clark treat the Kaiser in a shockingly disrespectful manner. Here is the biggest hit:

"WHEN SAMMY COMES DRIVING HOME."
When Sammy goes driving to Berlin,
Hurrah! Hurrah!
With a spirit that's always bound to win,
Hurrah! Hurrah!
Old Kaiser Bill will cry for help,
But he's all in; just let him yelp,
And we'll give three cheers
When Sammy comes driving home.
This is another strong favorite, sung to the tune "Dixie":
In khaki suit and army visor
All aboard to see the Kaiser
Look away! Look away! Look away,
Germany!

TO REVISE SCHEDULE OF PASSENGER RATES

The Decatur Traction Line Wants to Have Straight Two Cent Basis.

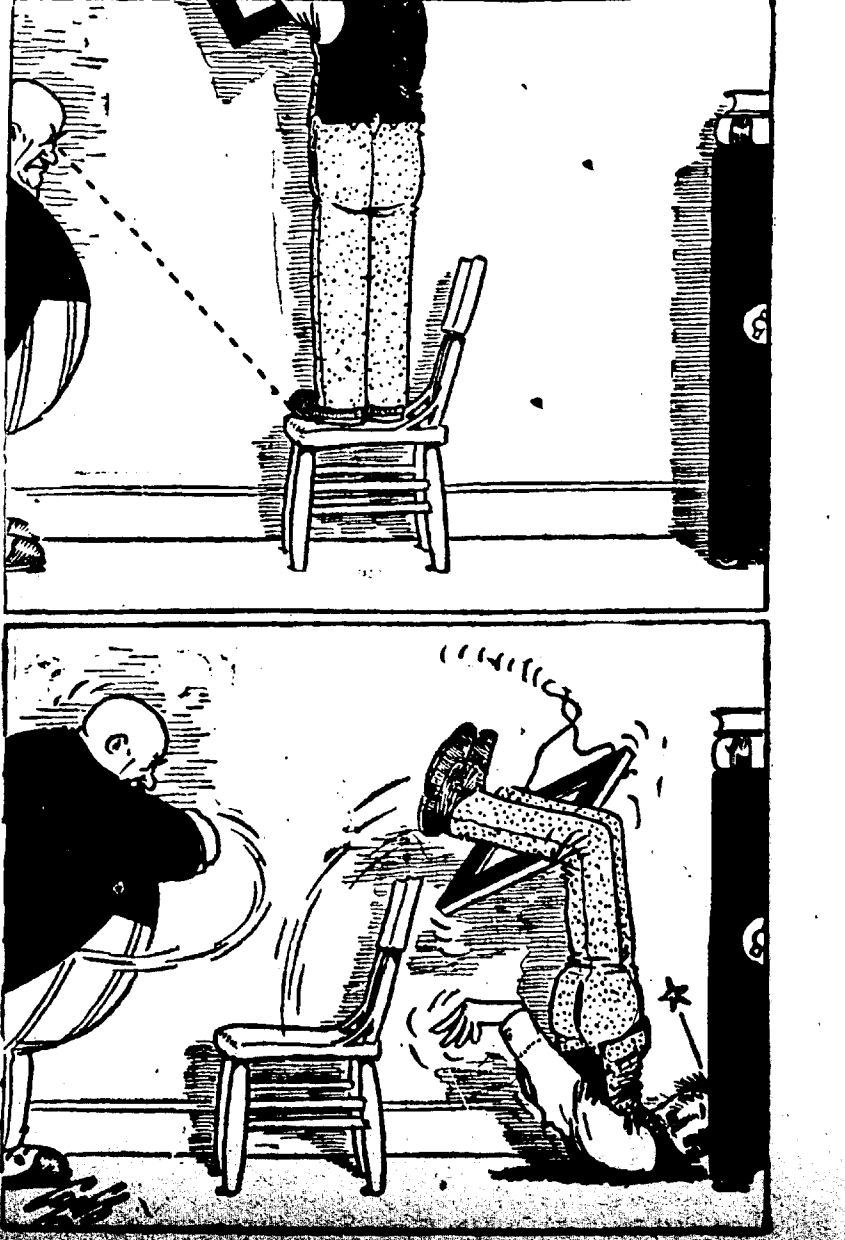

In order to establish a straight two cent a mile basis, the Fort Wayne and Decatur Traction company has petitioned the public service commission at Indianapolis for authority to revise its schedule of passenger rates.

Among the things which the traction company wants to put in force under the new schedule is a minimum fare of five cents. The sale of round trip tickets for an amount less than two full fares would be discontinued.

COUNCIL RATIFYS GARBAGE CONTRACT

Rendering Company Will Take Care of City Waste for Ten Years.

Fort Wayne garbage will be taken care of by the rendering company for at least a period of ten years at no cost to the city, according to the contract between the rendering company and city officials and which was ratified by the council Wednesday evening.

The terms of the contract were agreed to by members of the board of works, Mayor W. J. Hosey, the city attorney and John F. Johnson, president of the Fort Wayne Rendering company, Wednesday evening, at 5:30 o'clock, after a conference of five hours.

There was no dissenting vote in the council when the matter of the contract was presented before the body by Councilman "Gene" Smith, vice president of the body and who acted as head of the organization in the absence of William Bayne.

Provisions of the contract are as follows:

"The rendering company is to dispose of the city garbage for a period of ten years.

"All garbage that is now collected and disposed of at the municipal incinerating plant is to be collected by the city as heretofore and to be delivered to the company's rendering plant east of the city. To make up for the extra distance from the present crematorium to the rendering plant the rendering company agrees to pay to the city the sum of $1,500 toward the purchase of additional vehicles. The rendering company has the exclusive right to dispose of the city's garbage and no other person or firm shall receive any of the city's garbage during that period.

"During the same period the rendering company agrees to respond promptly to all calls for removal of animal stock, dead or alive, which the city desires to be killed or disposed of. The company also agrees to construct and maintain for the benefit of the city and animal pound where animals impounded by the city may be kept until called for by the owners or ordered to be killed by the city. A fee for feeding these animals is to be paid from the pounding fees collected by the city.

"The company also agrees to accept, separate from garbage, tin cans, junk, waste paper and other waste material, and must accept garbage and dead animal matter that may be delivered by private citizens and dispose of the same without expense to the city and citizen.

"The company promises to maintain its plant in good condition, to keep the roadways upon its premises in possible condition and use modern and practical methods in disposing of the garbage and all other matter delivered at its plant.

"The city is given the right to make rigid inspections of the plant by competent men and demand an annual report on January 1 of each year. This report is to contain detailed information as to the tonnage of garbage, etc., disposed of at the plant during the past year and all other desired information.

"Within ten days after ratification of the contract by the city council the rendering company is to execute a bond of $10,000. From this bond the city is to recover $1 for each ton of material the company fails, neglects or refuses to accept or dispose of at its plant."

The war has shut off the European trade in firecrackers and fireworks generally out of Hong-Kong, but the United States continues to take perhaps $250,000 worth of such goods out of the Hong-Kong field annually. The trade the last year has been hampered by high freights and particularly by a lack of service of sailing ships from Hong-Kong to New York. Usually there are sailing ships on the berth in Hong-Kong, for the east coast of the United States and because of the cheap freights and other advantages they offer they almost invariably carry a large quantity of firecrackers for the American market.

SAVE for the SAILORS

Your Spare Change Put in a Navy League Bank
Will Provide Comforts for the Boys at Sea.

NAVY DEPARTMENT
WASHINGTON
May 18, 1917.

My dear Mrs. Fraser:

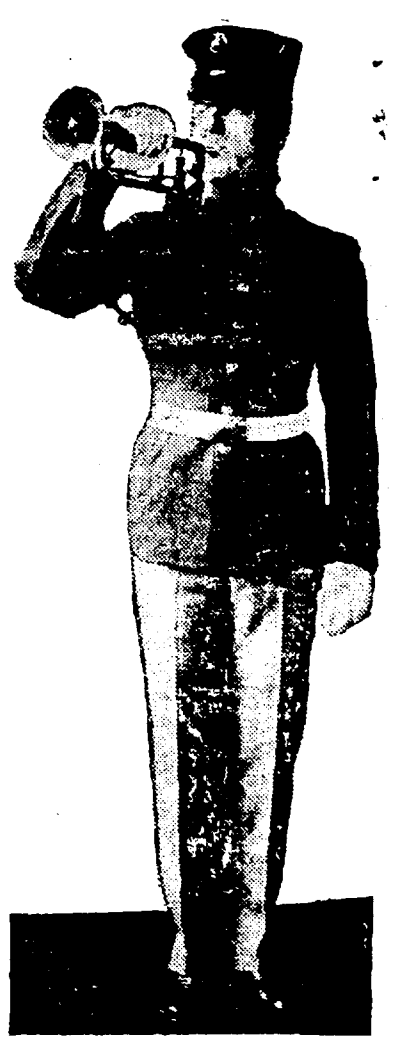

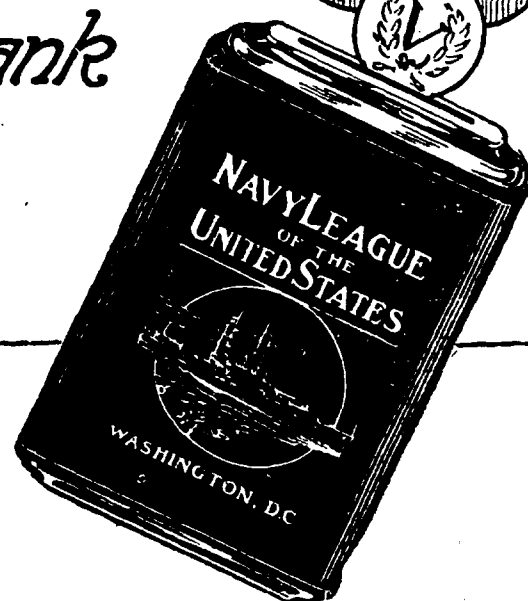

The enlisted men on board the American destroyers now in European waters were generously furnished by your Comforts Committee with sweaters, mufflers and wristlets prior to their departure from the United States; and I am sending this letter to let you know that the same were most acceptable and genuinely appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

James Carroll Fraser

Secretary of the Navy.

Mrs. James Carroll Fraser,
1516 16th Street,
Washington, D.C.

SAVE FOR THE Sailors and Marines." Is the appeal now made by the Navy League of the United States to the American people. Money is needed to increase the Comforts Fund, which the League administers to provide for the welfare and comfort of the men of the U. S. Navy and the Marine Corps.

This fund provides those enlisted for the Nation's defense with extra woolen clothing for war service that is sorely needed in the cold, camp climate of the submarine zone, and by the Marines in the trenches in France. It gives the men of the Navy such comforts as kit bags with buttons, spoils of thread, scissors, and needles handily assembled to make it easier for Jack to get along aboard ship without the attentions of the ministering angels he has left behind at home. It provides them with comfort bags containing everything from soap to candy and from tobacco pouches to paper, pencils, safety pins, scrub brushes and playing cards. It gave the men of the Atlantic Fleet a 110 acre athletic field with baseball diamonds and every provision for outdoor recreation when the Fleet was ordered to a secret base upon the declaration of war. Had it not been for this athletic field, the sailors would have had no place ashore where they could go for clean, healthy sport. All this and much more the Comforts Fund does for the men of our Navy; sometimes providing for their small comforts, sometimes adding to their recreation, and oftentimes, as when woolen garments, sea boots and rubber coats are given the men of a destroyer ordered to the war zone, making an important contribution to their health and fighting efficiency.

Now the Navy League needs more money to carry on this good work. War enlistments are increasing the personnel of the Navy and Marine Corps to three times their size six months ago. The exigencies of war service have also greatly increased the demands upon the Comforts Fund. Therefore the Navy League is calling for 10,000 patriotic Americans to help it raise money for the Comforts Fund. The League is distributing coin boxes all over the country asking persons to drop into them their spare nickels, dimes and quarters and to solicit such small contributions from their friends. If you want to help provide for the welfare and comfort of the men of the Navy or the Marines, write to the Navy League Headquarters, 1301 Sixteenth street, N. W., Washington, D. C., asking for one of these coin boxes. The League will write you, telling you how you can obtain one of them, and giving you directions for turning your savings over to the welfare fund of the sailors and marines.

In many cities the League has made arrangements with certain banks to have on hand for distribution a supply of these coin boxes. Ask at your bank for one of them, and if your bank is an agent of the League, you can get a coin box there, together with the directions sent out from the Navy League Headquarters. But the League has no other authorized agents than these banks. Be certain, therefore, that you do not turn your coin box, when it is filled, over to anyone except to the Navy League Headquarters in Washington, or to a bank which is an authorized agent of the League. The League will inform you whether there is a bank in your town that is authorized to act as its agent.

If only five cents a day is dropped into your coin box, in two months' time you will have saved enough money to buy the wool to make some sailor's complete outfit of woolen garments, which will mean a great deal to him when he goes to sea and perhaps to spend months and months on patrol duty on a destroyer in the North Sea or in the war zone where the climate is both cold and excessively damp. Good woolen clothing, with a helmet that he can pull down over his head to his shoulders, a warm sweater, a muffler and wristlets will make life much cheerier for him.

Recently the Comforts Committee of the Navy League has undertaken to supply some of these woolen garments to British, French and Russian sailors. The women of England have been engaged in this work for a long time, but the needs of the British navy, with the thousands and thousands of men they have placed in their anti-submarine patrol service, has made the demand so heavy that they welcome this assistance from their sisters in America. Also there is a very great need of these garments in some cases among French and Russian sailors. Not many of the French sailors are in northern waters, but those who are need this help from America. The Russian sailors have work to do in bitter weather, particularly those in the northern fleet and the League is sending garments for these men to Archangel. If you like to feel that your money has gone to help the lot of these brave sailors of our allies you may so direct and the Navy League will follow your directions.

work with the Navy League have built up, in the short period of four months, a nation-wide industry in which more than 100,000 American women are engaged. Navy League units are in every State in the country and in every city of consequence, from Maine to Florida, from New York to California. It is a tremendous task to keep this organization going and supplied with materials. Most of the women engaged in the work, of course, buy their own materials, besides giving their labor to the making of the articles. But many of them cannot afford this. Consequently the League buys the material for them, which it is able to secure at the lowest prices, and then with their labor given to the work the sailors are provided with comforts of every sort.

Unless you have had service on a warship, in war time, in foreign waters, it would be difficult for you to appreciate how much the sailor man needs the endless number of small comforts that at home were provided for him—he knew not how. Some of these things he very badly needs to preserve his health—woolen clothing, for instance. Do you know that Congress does not appropriate money for the sailor to buy any renewal of his uniforms or clothing? When he enlists he is given a complete outfit, although that outfit does not include the woolen garments the League supplies him, and when that outfit is worn out he has to buy his own. You can do it if you will write to the Navy League and one of these coin boxes does not get any too much pay for his services.

In time of war the wear and tear on uniforms is much greater than in peace time. Even if a sailor is wounded, when he throws away his blood-stained and torn clothing, he must pay for the uniform he purchases to replace it out of his own pocket. In a great many instances, no doubt, the comfort garments which the Navy League will provide the sailors, will go to men who have been wounded to outfit them when they leave the hospital.

Besides these things that the sailor needs for the sake of his health, there are many comforts that he wants to make life cheerier for him. Suppose that a few nickels of yours had bought a pack of playing cards that a sailor fished out of a comfort bag one day when he was off duty for a few hours over on the other side, wouldn't those be about the most worth while nickels you had ever earned if they gave four sailors an hour or two of fun. Or if the needle and thread and button that your contribution to the coin box bought for him, helped that sailor keep his outfit trim, that would be worth while, too. These are presents you would like to make. You can do it if you will write to the Navy League and one of these coin boxes

FORT WAYNE & DECATUR WOULD REVISE RATES

Petitions Utilities Board for Authority to Make Changes of Fare.

The Fort Wayne & Decatur Traction company has filed with the Public Service Commission at Indianapolis, a petition asking for authority to revise its schedule of passenger rates on the general basis of two cents per mile.

Under the new schedule, a minimum fare of five cents is provided. The commutation ticket books are to remain in force as formerly, also the use of the One Thousand Mile mileage book. The sale of round-trip tickets at amounts less than two full fares is to be discontinued. The fares for children between five and twelve years of age, according to the petition, to be based on one cent a mile. The petition filed with the Commission states that the application of the rule for the computing of fares at present by the two cent fare law, leads to many inequalities and inconsistencies. All of the discriminatory rates charged at the present time will be eliminated; in other words, the passenger will pay for just exactly the number of miles he travels on the basis of two cents per mile. This system of charging, it is believed, will meet the approval of the public in general and will eliminate the criticisms and complaints that are frequently made, of unjust and unfair charges, made by patrons adversely affected.

Statement Made by the Company.

The following statement concerning the petition filed with the Public Service Commission has been made by the Fort Wayne & Decatur Traction company:

The new schedule of interurban fares for which the Commission has been petitioned, introduced what is known as the "Copper Zone" or "Penny Zone" system, in place of the "Nickel Zone" or "Five Cent Zone" system, which has been in use on the interurban lines as well as on the steam roads in Indiana. Under both systems, the rate of fare is two cents per mile. By the "Nickel Zone" system, the fares are computed in multiples of five, the fare being the multiple of five reached by multiplying the rate by the distance and determining the distance, the law requires that fractions less than one-half mile shall be disregarded and all other fractions counted as one mile. As a result of the calculating fares in this way, the actual rate per mile traveled varies greatly, for instance: The fare for a ride of 3.4 miles is five cents, or a little less than 1 1/2 cents per mile; the fare for a ride of 3.8 miles is ten cents, or about three cents per mile. A ride of any distance no matter how short, beyond the point where the fares change, adds five cents to the fare. The discriminatory rates which have thus been created, have been the source of many complaints, particularly in the cases of the interurban companies whose passengers are largely short distance travelers. A number of instances showing discriminations have been presented to the Commission.

Under the petition asking for the establishment of the "Copper Zone" system of fares, all fares will be calculated at the former rate of two cents per mile, but half mile zones will be calculated at one cent, instead of two and one-half miles at five cents each. As a result, passengers will pay at the same rate as nearly as possible for the distance traveled. The addition of one-half mile to the ride will make a difference of only one cent in the fare paid, instead of five cents as is frequently the case under the present system.

Taking the cases referred to, a passenger who travels 3.4 miles will pay 7 cents, instead of five cents, while a passenger who travels 3.8 miles will pay 8 cents instead of 10 cents. The increase in one cent and the decrease in the other will be 2 cents. Both passengers will pay the same rate per mile as the other, instead of one paying almost twice the rate per mile as the other.

The change in fares which the new system would effect will be in some cases to increase and in other cases to decrease the present rates, while in still other cases, no change will be made.

The principal reason for the change at this time in the tariff has been due to the enforcement of the portion of the Public Utility Act which refers to "discrimination." The new system will do away with the discrimination existing under the "Nickel Zone" system, but the practical objections to computing fares in odd cents have made interurban officials slow to adopt the "Copper Zone" system. The great number of just complaints concerning cases of fare discriminations under the "Nickel Zone" system, have caused the "Copper Zone" system to gain favor and it is now being used by several interurban roads in the state, while other interurban roads have on file with the Commission at the present time, petitions asking for the establishment of the "Copper Zone" system.

It is the belief of the officials of the Fort Wayne & Decatur Traction company that the new system will be generally approved by the public, as it will eliminate discrimination.—Advertisement.

THE MAN WHO WILL RUN WHEAT SUPPLY

Barnes, Uncle Sam's Grain Boss, is Big Enough for the Job.

Staff Special.

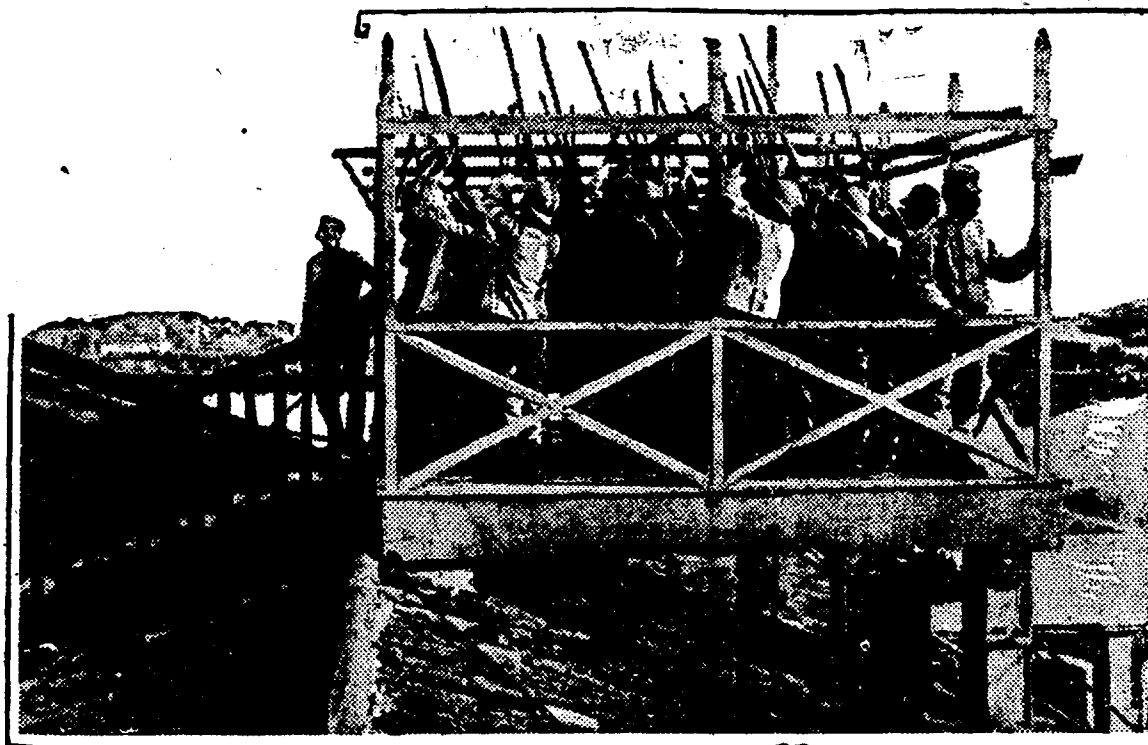

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—Julius H. Barnes, of Duluth, selected by President Wilson to head the $50,000,000 grain corporation organized under the food administration, looks big enough for the job.

He is tall, broad-shouldered, athletic, and after watching him in action a few minutes, listening to his orders, seeing the dispatch with which

trade. He developed his own concern—Barnes-Ames Co., of Duluth, Winnipeg and New York—until it was the largest wheat exporting firm in the world.

Following the declaration of war, however, the firm withdrew from business for the period of the war and Barnes volunteered his services to the government. He was placed in an advisory position with Hoover in the food administration, pending passage of the food control bill, and is now at the head of the corporation upon which the real work of stabilizing prices and distribution of wheat and flour will rest.

Next to business, Barnes' chief interest is in good sports. In 1895 he was No. 1 stroke in the Duluth four-oared crew which won the cup at the regatta of the Winnipeg Rowing association. One mark of his interest in this sport is his gift of a fine boat club house to Duluth. Last year he promised the club, then having 1,500 members, that if it came through the regatta to be held that fall without a deficit he would give the club a natatorium. The club made good and Barnes has just turned over to it a great natatorium costing $70,000.

One hundred grain traders were at a meeting in Washington a few days ago at which Barnes' plans were revealed. All dealing in futures was to be eliminated. A large number of grain men were to be put out of business and the dealings of others greatly narrowed.

Nevertheless the plan was unanimously endorsed, although many dealers would suffer.

Before any man can become a part of the food administration, he must divest himself of any interest in the grain or food business and must serve without pay. Barnes, in picking his assistants, the men who will have charge of buying grain at terminals, for instance, simply decided on the men he would like to have, tapped them on the shoulder and asked them to volunteer.

Without exception these men gave up their businesses and stepped into the ranks to serve with Barnes. He had their confidence, their trust.

HICKSVILLE NEWS.

Hicksville, Ohio, Aug. 30.—The tenth annual reunion of the Miller family will be held at the home of Frank H. Miller, four miles southwest of Edgerton, or one mile north of the Henry bridge, on Sept. 8, 1917. G. W. Miller is president and Candace H. Miller is the secretary.

The Crowl property, on West High street, was sold Saturday by sheriff's sale to Jacob Hook, his being the only bid, at $1,200. It was necessary to sell the property by this method as one of the heirs could not be located.

Tenants of the old Phillips property on the corner of Main and Bryan streets have been notified to vacate it and it is reported that the house is to be overhauled and remodeled. It is the property of Mrs. Mary P. Lynd and Mrs. Carrie A. Dowell.

Miss Elma Beerbower, who has been a teacher in the Hicksville school for a number of years, has resigned her position here and accepted a similar one at Plymouth, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hattery and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Overholt left Monday to attend the state fair and visit Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Overholt.

Bruce Crowl, of Aurora, Ill., is here looking after business and visiting with relatives and friends. Mr. Crowl moved to Illinois about eleven years ago.

FORT WAYNE SOLDIER BOYS ARE GIVEN SOCKS

by Hoosier Women.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—The thoughtfulness and love that Indiana women have for sons of the state who are ready to serve their country were represented in the countless stitches required to knit the 3,612 pairs of wool socks, which were presented to the 1,806 men and officers of the First Indiana Field Artillery regiment, soon to go overseas, in a simple ceremony at Fort Benjamin Harrison yesterday afternoon.

After Charles A. Bookwalter's address, which was received with hearty applause, the men, who had stood in massed formation, were marched to the head of their respective battery and company streets and there they received the socks from committees of women.

Trained soldiers are universally courteous and polite, and as each one of these sons of Indiana stepped forward to receive two pairs of socks he either doffed his hat or saluted. The courtesy extended won the admiration of the women.

"Size 12, please," smiled a six footer of Battery D (Fort Wayne) as he received two pairs of the socks from Mrs. W. H. Coburn. Assisting Mrs. Coburn was Miss Florence Hanckel.

"I thank you so much," exclaimed a dapper young man of Battery B (Fort Wayne) as he stepped forward, raised his hat, and received his share of the socks from Miss Carolyn Conde.

Every man of Battery A (Indianapolis) lifted his hat and expressed his sincere thanks as he received two pairs of socks from Mrs. Hervey Bates, Jr., and Mrs. C. C. Kryter.

The same courteous expressions came from the men of Battery C, Battery E, Battery F, the Headquarters company and the Supply company.

at two and one-half cents. The company complied, and for a time furnished the paper, but later decided increasing production costs compelled it to raise the price to three cents.

Got the Figures.

Senator Fletcher went to the federal trade commission for its cost of production figures, and the committee decided the International could sell for 2 1/2 cents and still make a fair profit. The situation then was laid before President Wilson, who asked Attorney General Gregory for an opinion as how far he could go under the defense act.

The attorney general held that a supply of paper for the Bulletin was necessary for war purposes, and recommended the paper be taken if the two and one-half cents was a fair price.

The result was that the president directed Mr. Baker to go ahead, and the International was ordered to supply a sufficient amount of paper to print the Bulletin at two and one-half cents.

Germany because a solemn treaty was not to us a scrap of paper. We did not enter into this war because we had any selfish interest to promote or any ill-conceived ambition to gratify. We are in the war, in fact, because we believe in the righteousness of the cause for which we stand, because we believe that only by a complete victory for that cause can there be made a righteous, honorable and permanent peace, so that this world may be made safe for all men to live in, and so that all nations may work out their destinies untrammelled by fear.

"Mr. President and Gentlemen: Whatever the critics, half-informed, or the hired slanderer may say against us, in forming your judgment of Japan we ask you only to note the splendid abilities that guide this great nation. The plotter against our good neighborhood takes advantage of the fact that at this time of the world's crisis, many things must of necessity remain untold and unrecorded in the daily newspapers, but we are satisfied that we are doing our best. In this tremendous work, as we move together, shoulder to shoulder, to attain victory, America and Japan must have many things in which the one can help the other. We have much in common and much to do in concert. That is the reason I have been sent and that is the reason you have received me here today.

"I have an earnest and abiding faith that this association of ours—the proving of ourselves—in the highest, most sacred and most trying of human activities—the armed vindication of right and justice—must bring us to a still closer concord and a deeper confidence one in the other, sealing for all time the bonds of cordial friendship between our two nations."

Senator Saulsbury's Welcome.

In presenting Viscount Ishii to the senate, Senator Saulsbury, of Delaware, president pro tempore of the senate and acting in the absence of Vice President Marshall, declared the occasion "symbolizes complete international fraternity, which common consciousness of international honor has brought about."

Referring to German propaganda, Senator Saulsbury said evil attempts had been made to breed distrust and hatred among friends of the United States. "Japan," he continued, "joins our great young nation in pledging anew a continuance of our old friendship."

ship, which the trouble makers of the earth has tried so hard to intensify. "We now know how industriously insidious attempts have been made by the Prussian masters of the German people to bring about distrust and hatred in the world. We know what evil attempts they have made to breed hatred and distrust of us among our friends, and we welcome this opportunity to heartily congratulate our old friends who honor us today that by the capture of Tsing Tau and the German islands, Japan has completely removed from the far eastern world the only threat, as we believe, to peace and prosperity, the only threat to lasting peace in eastern Asia.

"Made in Germany."

"The 'yellow peril' was made in Germany and Shanghai was seized; the Slav peril was made in Germany, and Serbia was overwhelmed and Russia was invaded, but the thick witted, smug, self-centered supermen of Germany entering their last attempt at conquest, have roused a real peril—a real peril to themselves—and the free nations who believe in international honor, in the binding force of treaties and in the pledged word and grimly, though so sorrowfully engaged in creating, perfecting and bringing to successful issue an alliance for the benefit of all earth's people which will protect the rights of nations, small and great, and enable them to lead their lives in peace and lead them unafraid.

"Let us never permit hereafter that evil tongue or wicked propaganda shall cause even the simplest minded among our people to forget the ancient friendship of our nations or weaken the ties of mutual respect and regard in which we hold each other."

No False Peace Possible.

"Let there be no fear that rumors of peace or possibilities of a cessation of the struggle will cause us to remit one moment of our activities on sea and shore," he said. "Not until the peace treaty is actually signed will we remit one single item from our program of preparation. Our citizens need have no fear that we will be lulled into any relaxation or deceived by the mirage of peace, which is no peace, into slackening of our activities."

The secretary declared that the government had been dilatory in providing for its war needs. Had attention been given to the far-sighted advocates of preparedness, he said, the country would not have entered the war with wholly inadequate facilities.

gion north of Vaux-les-Palameix and week ending August 19. The sinking of all these were completely checked, as was a German thrust in the Aisne region, near Chevreux.

There was active artillery fighting in the Verdun region and similar spirited activity at points in the Aisne sector.

Although there was a slight increase in the number of British vessels sunk last week, as shown by last night's report from London, French shipping suffered less from submarine attacks than in the preceding week. The French losses totaled four vessels, as compared with nine the week ending August 19. The sinking by a submarine of an American vessel, the schooner Laura C. Anderson, is reported today. The crew was saved.

Rome today reports the repulse of Austrian counter attacks in the Insonzo region. The Italians held all their positions firmly and even gained ground at points. They took 560 prisoners.

Strong measures apparently are being taken by the Russian military authorities to deal with disorganization among the troops on the Rumanian front. Two regiments were involved in a voluntary abandonment of trenches in the Pokshani region yesterday. The Petrograd war office reported that one of these was "dispersed" and that measures have been taken to restore the positions affected.

Previous traitorous conduct on the part of large bodies of Russian troops gave Field Marshal von Mackensen an opening in this important front of which he was quick to take advantage. Already the Russo-Rumanian lines have been pushed back some distance, and the overrunning of the remainder of Moldavia and even a push into the north Russian territory beyond, in the direction of Odessa, seems a possibility if the Teutonic movement gets a much greater impetus.

about its character," says the Manchester Guardian. After declaring that the position of the president is clear and logical the newspaper gives several extracts from Premier Lloyd-George's speech at Glasgow last June, which, it says, are much the same in spirit as Mr. Wilson's message to the pope, continuing: "President Wilson's policy comes very near to the formula 'no peace with the Hohenzollerns,' but it would be unfair not to recognize the very narrow but deep gulf that separates him from the players. Every play written now is sure of receiving consideration in the manager's office, whereas fifteen years ago it took a long time for a playwright to obtain prominence enough to have his work considered," said Mr. Villier.

The famous playwright, who is in the city to attend the opening performance of his play, "The Thirteenth Chair," in its first appearance outside of New York, said that he had made more than a quarter of a million dollars from his one play, "Within the Law," and that as much more would be made from his run in the movies. Mr. Villier declared also that he expected to make as much from his play which is appearing here with four road companies. Annie Russell will make her first appearance in "The Thirteenth Chair" Thursday night in this city.

The dramatist said that there would be eight new theaters completed in New York city within the next year and that any play written with anything of merit was sure to be taken up by the producers even for the purpose of taking over parts that are good. Mr. Villier said that "Within the Law," "The Thirteenth Chair" and "Tex o' My Heart" had been the three greatest money-making plays produced in the last ten years.

Mr. Villier was at one time a newspaper reporter and later a dramatic critic. He said that it took him two years to write the "play," "Within the Law," but that he had been more than repaid for it.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—Hearings on petitions of many of the public utility companies in the city, furnishing heat to patrons in which the right to place sur-charges on bills is asked, began today before the Indiana public service commission. The testimony of representatives of the Noblesville Heat, Light and Power company, asking for a 30 per cent temporary sur-charge, and the Booneville Electric Light and Power company asking for a 50 per cent sur-charge which it hopes to gain permanently was heard this afternoon. Higher coal prices was the main reason for asking more money. The Noblesville company said it had expected to pay three dollars a ton for coal this winter and the price of $2.20 at the mines fixed by the president made coal cost them about that amount when the freight rate is paid.

Other companies which have petitions before the commission and which will present their case today or tomorrow are Frankfort Heating company, Logansport Heat and Power company, Indiana Railways and Lighting company, Citizens Mutual Heating company of Tipton, General Indiana Lighting company of Bloomington, and Interstate Public Service company supply service to Bedford, Newcastle, Lebanon and Fowler.

"WRITE A PLAY" IS

Famous Dramatist Says It is Biggest Money Making
Business.

"Write a play—it is the best paying job you can get," was the advice given to people who have dramatic aspirations, by Bayer Villier, author of "The Thirteenth Chair" and "Within the Law," and one of the onted playwrights of the day, through an interview with a Sentinel reporter Thursday.

"The time has come when anything which has good idea in it is eagerly accepted by producers who cannot fill the demand for plays. Every play written now is sure of receiving consideration in the manager's office, whereas fifteen years ago it took a long time for a playwright to obtain prominence enough to have his work considered," said Mr. Villier.

ASKED TO LIE DOWN; DEATH FOLLOWS SOON

W. Gray, Civil War Veteran
from Lima, Ohio, Dies
Suddenly.

A civil war veteran, believed to be W. Gray, of Lima, Ohio, died suddenly at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Ormston, 1122 Wells street, where he had asked for the privilege of resting a few minutes.

"I about exhausted," he told Mrs. Ormston. "Would you mind if I lie down for a while?"

The request was readily granted and Mrs. Ormston started to leave the room. When she turned around to look at the visitor she noted something wrong with him. He was dead before she could summon help.

Coroner J. E. McArdle was immediately called and pronounced death due to heart trouble.

The Ormstons know little of the deceased and are not certain of his name. Mr. Ormston had met him some weeks ago. A card was found in one of his pockets bearing the name of W. Gray. It is thought that he had come to Fort Wayne early Thursday morning to spend the day. He was apparently past seventy years old, was well dressed and wore a number of civil war badges.

A little later in the day Mrs. Ormton was fatally injured two or three weeks ago when hit by an automobile.

RUSSIAN TROOPS IN

Finnish Parliament at Helsingfors is Prevented
from Reassembling.

Helingsfors, Finland, Aug. 29.—Russian troops occupied the parliament buildings at an early hour today to prevent the re-assembling of the diet in defiance of the decision of the Russian government. The city is calm. The Helsingfors council of workmen's and soldiers' deputies has ordered the crews of warships to return to their vessels.

During the afternoon 100 deputies endeavored to enter the parliament building but were kept out by the troops. No disorders occurred. Senator Manners, who sent out the call to protest to Governor General Stakovich against his refusal to permit the diet to meet. The governor promised to call this protest to the attention of the provisional government.

LOCAL MARKETS

FAIR WEATHER BRINGS FARMERS TO MARKET

Receipts on City Scales Are Heaviest of Season—
Sixty-Four Loads.

Following the stormy weather of the early part of the week, when receipts on the local markets were practically nil, business was resumed with a rush Thursday morning, farmers hastening to bring the produce in while the weather remained fair.

On the city scales sixty-four loads were weighed in all, a record for the season. Hay was abundant, thirty-eight loads coming in. This sold for $12.00 to $15.00 per ton. Three loads of corn were weighed, bringing $1.65 to $1.70 per bushel, a slight advance over the mark of the previous day.

Oats receipts were also extremely heavy Thursday, twenty-three loads being weighed at the city scales. The prices ranged from 52c to 62c per bushel, which was an advance of 2c on the bushel over the former top price.

Local millers remain firm on wheat quotations, with $2.00 to $2.04 the ruling prices. Eggs continue their advance, the ruling figures on the best grades on the wholesale market being 37¢ to 38¢ per dozen. Retailers quote a price of 41c per dozen.

Outs Off for Time Supplies Carried by the Pennsylvania Lines.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—Indiana coal consumers were hit by an order issued yesterday by Judge Robert S. Lovett, director of transportation of coal in the United States, acting under the direction of President Wilson, which ordered that coal shipments to Lake Erie ports for the northwest be given preference over the movement of fuel to other points. E. I. Lewis, chairman of the Indiana public service commission, expressed the fear yesterday that the order, directed to officials of the Pennsylvania lines, will work a great hardship on coal consumers here and at other points in the state, who are dependent upon mines located on the Pennsylvania lines for their supply of fuel.

The order affects the states included in what is known as the central competitive bituminous district. In Indiana it applies for the present to the Vincennes and St. Louis divisions of the Pennsylvania lines.

The information regarding the government's plans for relieving the coal shortage in the northwest was contained in a telegram directed to officials of the Pennsylvania lines and designated "Priority Order No. 1," in which Judge Lovett stated that he was acting under the direction of the president. The order was directed to what is known as the third district, which includes Indiana, Ohio and bituminous coal producing states in the middle west.

Measure of Defense.
It directs railroads serving Lake Erie ports to give priority to transportation of coal to them with the view of getting as much coal as possible to northern Lake Michigan and Lake Superior ports before navigation closes. The telegram to the officials of the Pennsylvania lines stated that the order was issued as a measure of national defense and security.

Chairman Lewis stated yesterday afternoon that he learned of Judge Lovett's order through coal operators on the Pennsylvania lines, who said that they had called upon the Pennsylvania offices to put in their order for cars for today and were informed that the company will be obliged for the present to divert its cars to the northwestern transportation. Several Indiana operators left for Chicago last night in the hope of obtaining cars from other lines to take care of their business.

Chairman Lewis said that he has known for some time that the government officials have been concerned about the coal situation in the northwest. On August 1 there was less than 1,000,000 tons of bituminous coal at Duluth, Minn., for the northwest consumers, whereas normally 3,000,000 tons should have been received by that date. Chairman Lewis said that he learned yesterday afternoon that following Judge Lovett's telegram an order was issued to the Pennsylvania lines by the American Railway association to divert all coal cars to the northwest market for the present.

Fears Hardship Here.
Fear was expressed by Chairman Lewis that the plan to give priority to the northwest will work a great hardship on the large coal consumers here and at other Indiana points. He is apprehensive that the public utilities which are dependent upon the mines on the Pennsylvania road for their supply of coal will be handicapped greatly. The public service commission has been devoting itself to getting cars for the Indiana operators and it has succeeded in improving the situation. Chairman Lewis said, however, that for the last two weeks the Knox county operators depend on the Vincennes division of the Pennsylvania for an outlet for their coal.

Chairman Lewis stated that he was informed late yesterday afternoon that the Big Four railroad has not received the order that was delivered to the Pennsylvania lines. The order, as it stood last night, will affect a large part of the Indiana coal field. Chairman Lewis said that the telegram from Judge Lovett is a part of the national policy to give priority to coal shipments to the northwest until navigation is closed, but the public service commission will try to get in touch with Judge Lovett today to see what steps can be taken for the protection of Indiana consumers.

FREEDOM LASTED THIRTEEN STEPS

James Goggin, laborer, was tried on a charge of carrying concealed weapons and with attempting to use a deadly weapon, in a special session of police court, Thursday morning. George Buckmaster alleged that Goggin, whose wife has ordered that he not drink be sold him, ran Buckmaster from a Superior street saloon and brandished a knife when Buckmaster went after Goggin, Tuesday morning. Goggin was fined $1 and costs by Special Attorney William Reed. Mrs. Goggin paid the fine. The released man started to leave the court room. At the door way he was re-arrested on a surety of the peace affidavit, made out by Buckmaster. Goggin is in jail under $500 bond.

LIVED ON SAME FARM SEVENTY-TWO YEARS

Philip Berg, Pioneer of Marion Township, Passes Away of Paralysis.

Philip Berg, age 73, years, and a pioneer resident of Marion township, died Thursday morning at 3 o'clock. Death was due to paralysis, and came after an illness of two weeks. He was first stricken two weeks ago, while milking a cow at his home. Born on October 12, 1845, Philip Berg was one of the oldest and best known farmers of Marion township. He was born on a farm near Hesse Cassel, and spent his whole life time, a period of nearly seventy-three years, on the same farm. He was active in church affairs, and always took a deep interest in the many societies of the church, near Hesse Cassel, and belonged to the St. Joseph Church society, Holy Rosary society, Holy Name society, Poor Souls society and Holy Family society.

Although nearly seventy-three years of age, Mr. Berg was the first of his immediate family to die. He leaves the wife and eight children, Frank, Anthony and Clara Berg, of Marion township; Mrs. Henry Smith and Mrs. Alexander Pex, of Marion township; Mrs. John F. Hoffman, of this city; Mrs. William McDaney, of Detroit, and Mrs. William Denzel, of New Haven. Thirty-three grandchildren and two great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services Monday morning at 9 o'clock, standard time, at the home, and at 10 o'clock at the St. Joseph church. Interment in Hesse Cassel cemetery.

RUSHBOLT.

Charles Rushbolt, seven-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rushbolt, 116 Brackenridge street, died at the family home Thursday morning at 6 o'clock. Death was due to cholera infantum. Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home. Interment in Lindenwood.

SNYDER.

William E. Snyder, age 51 years, died at the home of his brother, Charles Snyder, 223 East Main street, Wednesday afternoon. The deceased was formerly a resident of Kalamazoo, Mich., coming to this city only one year ago, upon the death of his wife. He was a moulder by trade, and had been actively engaged in his trade until he became sick a short time ago. The brother, at whose home he died, is the only surviving relative. The remains will be sent by Klachn and Melching to Somerset, for burial.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Smith—Funeral services for Katherine Smith will be held Friday morning at 9:00 o'clock at the residence of the nephew, George Gronauer, in Jefferson township, and at 10 o'clock at the Cathedral. Interment in Catholic cemetery. Auto funeral.

Advertising in The Sentinel Lowers the Cost of Selling

This is not a time for haphazard business methods.

Clear thinking must convince you that advertising lowers the cost of selling and consequently it lowers the cost of a product to the ultimate consumer.

Advertising is the greatest price reducer of business. It brings increased demand and thus allows for economies of large production and broad scale buying. This decreases proportionate overhead. Advertising is equally effective for distributing or retailing. There is no honest product whose selling cost and hence its selling price can not be reduced by advertising of some kind. And there are very few propositions that can not be profitably merchandised through The Sentinel advertising.

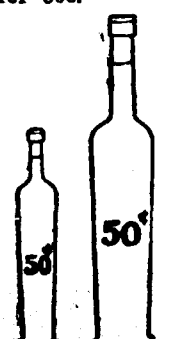

The Sentinel realizes the waste of carrying advertising that does not bring profitable results. This is not a time for careless business. If The Sentinel believes your business can be helped through its advertising columns, every effort will be made through the soliciting force to show you the merits of Sentinel publicity. On the other hand if The Sentinel is convinced that its advertising will not pay you, The Sentinel will tell you so just as frankly.

Sentinel expert advertising men are at your service and ready at all times to help you solve your merchandising problems. Do not hesitate to call for one of them.

WILSON FIXES THE PRICE OF PRINT PAPER

PRESIDENT ORDERS PRICE FIXED DOWN ON A FAIR BASIS

Will Serve as Important Precedent
Because Wilson Means Also That

SLASHES HALF-CENT FROM TRUST PRICE

Washington, Aug. 30.—In an order which newspaper publishers declare will serve as an important precedent, President Wilson has fixed a price of two and one-half cents on news-print paper for use in publishing the government's daily Official Bulletin.

The order fixing the price was issued by Secretary Baker at the president's direction under the national defense act, which empowers the government to commandeer supplies needed for war purposes. It was directed to the International Paper company, which has declined to furnish newsprint for the Bulletin at less than three cents a pound.

Newspaper publishers who learned of the order today voiced the hope that it might open the way to cheaper newsprint to publishers generally. They called attention to statements by the president that the administration's war policy would be one that provides the same prices for the public as for the government.

At instance of Congress, the president's action was taken at the instance of the joint congressional committee on printing of which Senator Fletcher is chairman. When the bulletin first began publication, the committee offered bids for newsprint, and the cheapest price named was three cents. The committee decided it was too high and appealed to the International on patriotic grounds to sell its product to the public printing office.

INDIANA GIVES BELGIANS WARM GREETINGS SOON

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 30.—Richmond and Newcastle will be visited by General Le Clerc, a member of the Belgian mission to America, and his aide, Major Oesterreich, on Labor Day, after they have been in this city as the guests of the citizens of Anderson at the fare-well for drafted men. Arrangements are under way whereby a party of automobilists will motor to Richmond with the distinguished visitors placing them on an eastbound train for Washington. A stop will be made at Newcastle, where a fifteen minute demonstration will take place. At Richmond, a mass meeting of citizens will welcome General Le Clerc and Major Oesterreich and they will be guests of Richmond for thirty minutes before boarding their train.

GOVERNMENT PLANS STORING A MILLION BUSHELS OF TUBERS

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Plans for purchasing and storing in Chicago one million bushels of potatoes, for use after January 1, next, were started today by the middlewestern section of the national food administration. The potatoes are to be sold to consumers at cost, the price to be fixed after all expenses, including interest on the capital required to finance the deal have been determined.

According to the plans, the working capital for starting the project will be advanced in the form of a loan by the city of Chicago, the sum necessary to make the first purchase and to pay freight being estimated at $200,000. The federal reserve board has already approved a plan by which war house receipts on potatoes stored under certain specified conditions may be used for collateral for loans at federal reserve banks.

After the first lot has been purchased and stored away, a loan may be made on the warehouse receipts and more potatoes bought. The process could then be repeated until the entire 1,000,000 bushels is in storage.

Petrograd, Aug. 30.—A large proportion of two Russian regiments in the Fokshina region, on the Rumanian front, left their trenches and retired yesterday, says today's war office statement. The dispersal of one of the regiments was ordered and measures have been taken, it is stated, to restore the positions affected in the battle now in progress.

BEAT OFF AUSTRIANS.

Rome, Aug. 30.—Austrian counter attacks in force were made yesterday against the new Italian positions on the front above Gorizia, the war office reports. Everywhere the Austrians were driven back and at some points the Italians made further gains.

REFUSED AT VERDUN.

Paris, Aug. 30.—German attacks on the Verdun front last night were repulsed completely, the war office announced. The French penetrated German positions in the Champagne, taking prisoners and a machine gun.

RUSSIAN REVOLT PROMISED.

Copenhagen, Aug. 30.—Another attempt at revolt by the Maximalist faction in Russia which will bring them into power is prophesied by M. Kirkoff, a Bulgarian socialist, in an interview in the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin. Kirkoff recently returned to Berlin from Stockholm, where he had been associated closely with the Russian Maximalists there. The signal for the revolt, he says, will be given from Kronstadt, which, as well as the Russian fleet in the Baltic, is under the influence of Nikolai Linene and his adherents.

TO CONSIDER PEACE NOTE.

Amsterdam, Aug. 30.—The commission appointed by the German chancellor to consider a reply to the peace note of Pope Benedict held its first session Tuesday, according to the Lokale Anzeiger of Berlin. Chancellor Michaelis presided at the meeting, which lasted about two hours and a half. The session adjourned until the results of the discussions over the note are available.

Before I could shoot a warning our chief gunner had espied the periscope and opened fire. His first shot struck and smashed it to pieces. It sank and we did not see it or the submarine again."

FINAL PAYMENT OF THE LIBERTY LOAN ISSUE MADE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—Nearly $400,000,000 was paid into the treasury today in the final installment of the liberty loan. Approximately $1,015,000,000 already has been paid in representing principal and interest on the liberty bonds. Today's payment completes the financial transaction with the issue of the bonds and it is thought likely that the bonds themselves will be ready for distribution within a short time.

Now that the first loan has been fully disposed of it is likely that an announcement concerning the second issue of bonds will be made shortly by Secretary McAdoo.

PRESIDENT WILL AGAIN ATTEMPT AID FOR RUSSIA

Washington, Aug. 30.—President Wilson again turned his attention to the situation in Russia at a conference today with Elhu Root, who headed the American mission. Mr. Root and other members of the mission have been pressing the immediate necessity of material as well as moral assistance to the provisional government, and beside the present $5,000,000 credit other steps already have been taken toward that end. Further action may follow today's conference.

Great Britain Also Has a
Good Notion of the Last
Word on Peace.

Paris, Aug. 30.—Only an eighty word summary of President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict has reached Paris this morning and consequently the newspapers are without extensive comment.

The Parisienne says it is clear owing to the length of time which has elapsed since the president received Pope Benedict's proposals that his answer was in no way improvised, particularly as every one is aware that it is his habit to meditate at length over every act.

"In rejecting the Vatican's offer," the newspaper continues, "the president indicated the conditions under which a useful conversation might be taken up. Once more he gives important advice to the German people. Will he be heard?"

The Matin says: "From what we know of the text, Mr. Wilson has endeavored to enter into the views of the spiritual power which is regarded by millions of his fellow citizens as the highest religious authority in the world, but it is absolutely necessary that peace should be concluded only with absolute guarantees for the future, which the president believes cannot be given by the present rulers of Germany. He does not conceal the opinion which he had already expressed that the German people should be free from the present regime before an agreement worthy of a conference can be made with them."

"The allies of the United States who have seen the German people at work can judge that they are united in support of the masters and have ratified their abominable enterprise in the hope of deriving immense advantages therefrom, but the president continues to hold the view that if permitted to speak these people would condemn the evil shepherds who would lead them astray. That is his opinion reached after deep reflection."

BRITISH OPINION APPROVES.

London, Aug. 30.—The text of President Wilson's reply to the pope's peace overtures is not before us as yet, but everybody in the United States has already read it by yesterday noon and summaries and comments from American newspapers leave us in no doubt

FLAMES MENACE VAST TRACT OF TIMBERED LAND

Misoula, Mont., Aug. 30.—Destruction of a stand of seven million feet of timber valued at many thousands of dollars is threatened today by a forest fire on the lower south fork of the Flathead river. Several crews of fire fighters have been sent to the scene in an effort to keep the flames from spreading into that region. With fires raging in the district about Deep Creek, Doris Creek and Pioneer Ridge this stand of timber is menaced from two sides and several hundred fire fighters are building fire lines to keep the flames from spreading to the south. The forest endangered is among the largest in the state and is estimated by forest service men to be the most valuable owing to the proximity to the navigable Flathead river and because of the unusually large trees.

JAPAN AND AMERICA HAVE GREAT WORK

Washington, Aug. 30.—Japan's mission, headed by Viscount Ishii, was received by the senate at a ceremony in which Senator Sanbury, president pro tem, welcomed the visitors in the absence of Vice President Marshall and Viscount Ishii made an address bearing a message of friendship and good will between the nations.

Viscount Ishii spoke warmly of the friendship of the two countries, pledged the sincerity of Japan and said the two nations had ahead of them great objects in common. Japan, he said, would fight on to the end of the war until its objects were attained.

Viscount Ishii's Message. Viscount Ishii, in his address before the senate, spoke in part as follows: "I grasp this occasion to say to you that the whole people of Japan heartily welcome and profoundly appreciate the entrance of this mighty nation of yours into the struggle against the insane despoiler of our civilization."

"We all know that you did not undertake this solemn task on the impulse of the moment; but that you threw your mighty weight into the struggle only after exercising a most admirable patience with a firm determination that this world shall be made free from the threat of aggression from that black shadow of a military despotism which by a nation taught with the mother's milk that human right must yield to brutal might. To us the fact that you are now on the side of the allies in this titanic struggle constitutes already a great moral victory for our common cause which we believe to be the cause of right and justice, for the strong as well as the weak, for the great as for the small."

"We of Japan believe we understand something of the American life, and we pay our most profound respects to it. Ideal Is Like America's."

"I assure you, gentlemen, that the Japanese idea of national life is, in its final analysis, not so very far removed from yours. We conceive of our nation as a vast family, held together not by the arbitrary force of armed men, but by the force of a natural development. We shall call the common force that animates us a passion of loyalty to our emperor and to our homes, as we shall call that of Americans a passion for liberty and of loyalty to their flag."

"You must be free to be Americans, and we must be free to be Japanese. But our common enemy is not content with this freedom for the nation or for the individual. He must force all the world to be German, too. You had hoped against hope that this was not so, but that noble hope fled, and your admirable patience was exhausted. You did not then hesitate to face the issue and the foe as you are facing it with that great American spirit which has loved and still loves liberty, which loves the right more than peace and honor more than life."

Summary of the Day's War News

Military operations on the Franco-Belgian front continue to be of a minor nature only in contrast with the penetrations of the lines north of Caubiers and in Flanders. Today's official reports from Paris shows the situation along the French lines to be one of temporary deadlock with nothing more important taking place than artillery combats, trench raids and infantry operations of only local significance. In this last class were two German attacks last night in the Champagne region east of Teton, which the French repulsed, and similar attacks of the Germans to push back French posts in the Verdun re-

EMPTY CARS SENT TO THE SOUTHWEST

Wanted to Handle Grain and Food Products and Lumber for Government.

During the past ten days more than 7,000 additional empty cars have been ordered into the south and southwest to protect the movement of grain and food products and facilitate the transportation of lumber for the cantonments and shipyards.

The orders which the commission on car service of the railroads' war board has issued since the policy was adopted of moving empty cars from one railroad to another, regardless of ownership, in order to meet the abnormal freight conditions that the war has produced, have resulted in 113,429 cars being distributed where they were most needed.

All of this movement has taken place since May 1. As a result, despite the most terrific pressure to which the railroads of the country have ever been subjected, millions of tons of government supplies, including lumber, munitions and materials for government construction, have been transported by the carriers without a hitch this year, and without interfering to any extent with the regular commercial traffic of the country, which too, has been increased to vast proportions by the war.

Of the latest cars ordered distributed by the railroads' war board, 2,450 cars are to be placed in the grain producing country. Four thousand five hundred and thirty-seven additional cars have been sent into the lumber states of the south and four hundred others sent to one of the Atlantic Coast lines to protect the unexpected increase in general freight traffic.

The lines to which cars have been assigned to protect the grain movement, together with the number of cars assigned to each, are as follows:

Chicago & Eastern Illinois, 500; Cincinnati, Indianapolis & Western, 500; Wabash, 500; Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville, 250; Toledo, St. Louis & Western, 300; Gulf Coast, 200.

The lines to which cars have been ordered to assure the prompt movement of lumber include:

Central of Georgia, 100; Louisville & Nashville, 500; Mobile & Ohio, 350; Illinois Central, 350; Louisiana Railway & Navigation company, 15; Gulf Florida & Alabama, 275; Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis, 150; Georgia & Florida, 75; Western, 150; Atlantic Coast Line, 1,250; Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic, 75; Seaboard Air Line, 400; Charleston & Western Carolina, 300.

WABASH AGENT CHANGES.

Ben Harris to Huntington and Tom Johnson to Antwerp.

The Wabash announces the transfer of Ben Harris from Antwerp to Huntington to fill the vacancy in the agency there caused by the death of Agent Keller two weeks ago. Tom Johnson, agent at West Unity, has been transferred to Antwerp to take the place vacated by Mr. Harris. According to a paragraph written by The Sentinel's correspondent, Mr. Harris is very popular at Antwerp. It reads as follows:

"The many friends of Ben Harris, Wabash agent at this place the past six years, will be somewhat fussed up when they learn he has 'gone and left us,' which is a fact. He has been given the Wabash agency at Huntington, Ind. Ben was a good scout, and one of the best agents this town has ever had, courteous and obliging at all times. He accumulated a big bunch of friends here, who regret his act but join in wishing him the success due one with an endeavor to please both patron and employer. He will move his family to that city in a short time."

WILL CONTINUE CONCERTS.

The employees of the General Electric works and the hundreds of people residing in the vicinity of McCulloch's park, who go there Thursday nights to enjoy the concerts of the General Electric works band, will be pleased to learn that the concerts will continue for some weeks, instead of closing today, at first arranged. The attendance at the concert today was immense, almost every available space near the band being occupied. Because of the concerts, many of the families the heads of whom are employed at the works prepare luncheon for all and take it to the park to be eaten while the concert is in progress. There were scores of groups of this character at the park today.

FIREMAN RECEIVES SCALP WOUND.

John Hensler, of 1814 High street, a Nickel Plate fireman, sustained a painful scalp wound yesterday in the yards at Bellevue, as his train was entering them. Mr. Hensler was leaning out of the cab window and his head was struck by a projecting board on a car on another track. The wound is not serious.

MOVING IN HIS NEW HOME.

William F. Meiching, employment agent at the General Electric works, laid off today to assist in the transfer of his household effects and the members of his family to their handsome new home, just completed, on Oakwood Drive. Moving under ordinary circumstances is not very pleasing to Mr. Meiching, but under present circumstances, he enjoys it very much.

TWO EMPLOYEES PROMOTED.

Loren Klingman, foreman of the transformer testing department of the General Electric works, announces the appointment of E. Shuerenberg as assistant of the department and R. J. Hobart head tester to succeed Mr. Shuerenberg. Each appointment is a promotion for the man affected and is complimentary to their abilities.

WILL VISIT OLD HOME.

C. W. Atwater, assistant foreman of the punch press department of the General Electric works, will go to Madison, Wis., his former home, Saturday for a short visit. He will be accompanied on his return to Fort Wayne by his daughter, Miss Wanda May Atwater, who has been stopping with relatives in Madison some time.

GREAT SOLITAIRE PLAYER.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 30.—Charles Conklin, a Wabash conductor, today completed playing 100,000 games of solitaire. He has been playing an intricate game for the past twenty years and kept a record. During all that time he had only one perfect "lay out." Conklin is a bachelor.

WEATHER CONDITIONS. In connection with a trough of low pressure which over the Atlantic states the weather is generally unsettled in that region, and during the last 24 hours showers have occurred quite generally over the sections to the eastward of the St. Lawrence, Ohio and central Mississippi valleys and on the Gulf coast. Except that there were local showers in the Canadian northwest provinces, the weather has been generally fair in western districts. As a rule, moderate temperatures obtain, but the weather is generally cooler than the normal in north-central sections and in the plains states.

NOT ALL OUR OWN WAR WASTE.

Speeches in congress and statements in newspapers allude to "twenty billions for the first year of the war," and "thirty millions a day," and the like assemblages of staggering figures in a way calculated to disconcert the unthinking and uninformed. The probability is that for the first year of the conflict this nation may have to provide some twenty billion dollars and the fact is that from twenty-five to thirty million dollars are about the daily expenditures of this government. These sums are not, however, "total loss."

A great part—the greater part, indeed—of American expenditures so far have been in loans to our allies. These are not really expenditures. At all events, they are not irrecoverable war costs. Some time, though, a good many years hence no doubt, the financial obligations of the allies to the United States will be paid back. In the case of some of the smaller nations, like Belgium, Serbia and Rumania, that have been or may be helped with American money, there may never be a reimbursement and it will not greatly matter. To have aided to free those nations and to have assisted to set them on their feet will be compensation enough, if the war aims of this country shall at length be achieved in the peace that must come.

Other expenditures of huge bulk are for things of permanence, like the money that is going and will continue to go into mercantile shipping. Realization of the great program to replace the world's destroyed tonnage will leave America after the war in possession of a large merchant marine, which long has been one of the insuperable needs of this nation. We shall also have vast aerial fleets, indisputably the world's second navy and an uncontested supremacy in destroyer strength. We shall have equipment for great armies, the means of producing armor and ordnance and a tremendous organization necessary to the mobilization of the nation's resources for war.

Should the highest hopes of humanity be the fruitage of this great conflict and the world at the end of it be able to take secure hostages against a recurrence of wars, some of these things will be useless enough, no doubt, but no one will reflect grudgingly upon the prodigious cost of them if the expenditure shall have made them useless. If peace shall fall in establishing guarantees against war, then America will be prepared to defend herself in any conflict against any foe.

So it is that whatever falls out, the United States will have many important material offsets to the huge expenditures imposed by the strife we are in and that part of the billions that never will come back will be no loss if the burning of them in war's flaming blast bring permanent peace to this land and "make the world safe for democracy." But "thirty millions a day" and "twenty billions a year" surely stress the mind for adequate comprehensions.

THE TAX LEVY.

Badly as the municipal government is off for money, there can be no harsh criticism of the city council for declining to increase the tax rate. The time to have proposed an increase was not this year, but years earlier. Fort Wayne has been getting along precariously on an insufficient income for a long time with the result that there has been no preparation to meet the sort of a financial pinch which has come as a result of the war and the extinction of revenues from liquor licenses.

There can be no feeling but of regret that some things that ought to be done must now remain undone for want of funds. The slashing of the park levy is a matter of sorrow—a thing that ought not to have been done if there was an alternative, and we believe that elsewhere might have been some little saving that would have spared the park fund this raid to make possible more money for other needs. The park funds have never been adequate. It has taken more than a quarter century to accomplish what development there has been of Fort Wayne's park system. Of course there can be no development in the coming year. The funds produced by the diminished levy will answer for no more than a precarious maintenance. At the earliest day possible the park levy should be restored—increased, indeed—and the betterment and expansion of the park system allowed to go forward.

But with the general government put to necessity for raising vast sums by all sorts of taxation, excises and imposts and all of it going into the cost of living, the raising of local taxes, badly as money is needed by the city, would have incurred no good will from any quarter. The people doubtless are quite as ready to approve retrenchments and denials even in the manner of their municipal housekeeping as they are to practice imperative economies in their domestic housekeeping. There should be an understanding, nevertheless by the people and by the next administration which comes in, that this city cannot maintain itself on the revenues it gets, much less make progress. The city in a day not remote will have to see to this or reconcile itself to more than the present evidences of decay.

JUSTIN N. STUDY.

After twenty-one years of unbroken service to the public schools of Fort Wayne, Prof. Justin N. Study has laid aside that and all other burdens and entered into rest. The death of Prof. Study, while having more or less prepared for in the public mind by reports of critical illness, will be the source of sorrow and regret throughout the city. Many hundreds of persons who had never known him in any manner of personal acquaintance, knew him in a way that answered almost for such a bond. He had been for more than a score of years at the head of Fort Wayne's public school system and his relation with the people was intimate even if it was not a face to face acquaintanceship. His work here had impressed itself on thousands of young lives that came under his charge and of these a great host are the men and women of today. During the long period of Dr. Study's superintendency the Fort Wayne schools have made great advancements. In this work he has been a directing intelligence, and the progress of the schools has been in large part due to him. The public schools of this city have a far and high repute and as their head the late superintendent shared the honor of that fame. He was widely recognized in educational circles as a highly capable and profoundly sincere public school man. His loss is more to Fort Wayne, for as a member for twenty years of the state board of education he has had an important part in framing the policies and marking out the progress of the entire system of public education in Indiana. He will be much missed here, no less for qualities of citizenship and personal character than for his splendid capacity for the great public work he performed.

There will be a fine and bloody mess in Russia if the way be not soon found to get the factions thinking together upon what is best for Russia. The makings of the finest outbreak of anarchy in the record of time are heating up right now in that new land of rejoicing and the worst of it is that some six or eight millions of them are well trained in the use of arms and more disposed to raise Cain and other by-products of a disordered society right at home than they are to poke the muzzle of their guns into the faces of invading Germans. There must be settling down soon or there will be blowing up.

Negroes in a Chicago suburb showed symptoms a night or two ago of aspiring to emulate the murderous fury of the colored troops at Houston and hinted as much. The intelligent and cool-headed leaders among the negroes can engage in a good work by exerting their influence to nullify the poisons that enemy agents have been instilling into the minds of negroes in many parts of the country. It will do a deal for the future of the colored race in America.

If President Wilson's note could get a popular circulation in Germany and go to the German people, unmitigated and uncorrupted by Junker revisions and interpretations there would be some stir in the kaiser's empire at an early day. But the hope that such a document will be allowed to get to the popular intelligence is about as remote as that the Hohenzollerns will abdicate before they are driven to it.

The next installment of war money will come in a nice little bulk of twelve billion dollars. But what's twelve billion if you've got it!

THE TRANSFER CORNER

By REM

"Fare, please! All the glad ones, and the sad ones; all the good ones, and the bad ones—get on here!"

Song of the Raw Recruit.
I'm something of a raw recruit—
Come have a look at me!
I've passed the docs, and drawn my suit,
I am the busy bee;
I've read the manual of arms,
With me let no one trifle;
I'm cognizant of war's alarms,
I'm practiced with my rifle!

I've donned the khaki and the kit,
Which no man should refuse,
I'm starting out to do my bit,
In bright new hob-nailed shoes;
I've left my faithful little chum,
My cow I've said goodbye to,
I'm off to put the frightful Germ—
At least I'm off to try to!

I'm fed up on blood and sitch,
I'm full of fuss and fight,
And if the kaiser drops a stitch,
I'll ravel him all right!
Of great maneuvers now I rave,
No foe can ever undo me—
Ben Battle was a soldier brave,
But he was nothing to me!

I've put my plow behind the barn,
I've left my foolish flocks,
I'm wearing things built out of yarn,
I've got on six-ply socks;
I've kissed my faithful wife farewell,
I've grabbed my battle-axes,
I'm off to Sherman's place called—well,
Where there's no gas nor taxes!

Our Daily Affirmation.
THE HIGH WATER MARK OF PATRIOTISM IS A WAR MEDAL—AND YOU GET IT IN FRANCE.

Remosophy.

"Christine," by Alice Chalmers, can never become a popular novel—at least not until the author-girl changes her name.

"Corn bread," according to Life, "is pretty good or pretty poor, according as you make it. When it is made by an artist it is first rate, provided you have butter enough to put on it." Add—and provided you like it. Some n. b. Americans don't.

Now that we come to think of it boarding a woman for life is something of a job. People whose lives hang by threads ought to be careful how they live on their buttons.

It is no use to be discouraged over Russia—get real worry working over Japan.

Why does not Japan throw a million men into the fight? Can it be possible there is no need for men on the Russian front?

We foresee that life may no longer be all wheat bread and ginger snaps—there must come cornmeal interludes.

Some men would think they were cheated if they had smallpox lighter than their neighbors.

The Kaiser brought about the war to gain Europe. Cut off the "Eu" and notice what he will likely win.

Why is it that people who believe they possess an immortal soul are so afraid of having it wrecked? You can't wreck anything that's immortal.

Every time you doubt the goodness of God and His divine purpose you put a brake on the golden wheel of Christian progress.

Croakers.

".....As for the Croaker family in their own homes, they have the finest faculty for making every soul about them cranky, fretful and suspicious. Mrs. Croaker is positive the baby will squint, be tongue-tied or knock-kneed; or if nurse takes him out and is gone five minutes beyond her time, she is convinced they have fallen into the canal, or they are galloped over by a run-away horse; while Mr. Croaker comes home declaring that a rise of one per cent in the discount market will ruin him, and Mrs. C. had better put a bill in the window to let the house, for they must go into lodgings in a month. In short, there is no limit to the imagination of a Croaker; one might fill a volume about them; but, for the present, we will leave them, like frogs, to croak in the marshes by themselves."

U. S. Can Turn the Tide of the War

BY BASIL M. MANLY.

Can the nations, deadlocked on the battle lines of Europe, continue to fight indefinitely? Is it true, as often stated, that both the central powers and the allies have more boys coming to military age every year than their annual losses, and can therefore carry on this war, if they will, for ten, twenty or fifty years with ever-increasing armies?

With such enormous forces as are in the trenches on the western front, will the addition of 500,000 or even a million, American troops have any appreciable effect?

In order to get the correct answers to these questions I went first to war department officials. They know, because they have been given the exact facts by our allies; but they are under the strictest orders not to tell.

"We can't talk," they told me, "but we can tell you where to get what you want. In the military journals of the different countries you will find articles by military authorities who discuss these questions as accurately as we could if permitted. There is Col. Feyler, of the Swiss army, one of the world's greatest military authorities, Hilaire Belloc, of England, who has been given remarkable access to the information of the British war office, and a number of others, whose information and judgment can be relied on. Bring their statements together, analyze them and you will have more exact information than you can secure from any other available source."

Here then are the facts as I have gleaned them from these military authorities. They are not my views, but simply my analysis of their conclusions.

Neither group is in the slightest danger of collapse as a result of permanent military losses in the form of killed, prisoners and incapacitated. Out of the wounded and sick now in hospitals, and the young boys who can be called up each year, they can fill in the gaps.

But there is a wide difference between the situation of the two groups in this respect.

At the present rate of casualties the German powers can maintain their armies at about their present strength for an indefinite period. But they cannot increase their size without crippling their industries and checking the flow of food and munitions to the trenches.

Great Britain, France and Italy, on the other hand, without the assistance of the United States can annually increase their armies by half a million men without encroachment on their present labor forces.

So much for the numerical manpower. How about their actual fighting power?

Both groups of nations are losing their fighting men at such a rapid rate and are so largely replacing them with men weakened by wounds, shell-shock and disease that by next spring their actual fighting power for defense or attack will be only a fraction of what it has been. Germany, Austria and France have already used up their reserves of fresh troops and have only the young boys who will be called up but they are not numerous enough even to replace the permanent losses, much less the partial disabilities which unfit a man for first line work.

While Germany can replace over a million men next year, 430,000—nearly half—of these guns must be filled with men now in hospitals—patched up and disease-weakened wrecks to take the place of vigorous men now in the front trenches, who will die or be sent to hospitals in the next year, lost forever as first-class fighting men.

At least half as many men as are now in each of the armies—2,500,000 for Germany, 1,500,000 for France—will pass out of the armies through the hospitals next year. Sixty per cent of them will return to service, but what will they be worth for strenuous attacks or tenuous defense? Military experts count a "hospital return" as worth a good deal less than half an unwounded man.

Remember that wounds, shell-shock, death and capture, fall almost entirely on the front line troops, the pick of the army, and you will understand why, although each of the armies is larger than ever before, it is merely a shell of its former self with a rotting core.

This loss of fighting men is hitting Germany harder than any other nation. In order to meet it she has been forced within recent months to form "storming troops" specially picked from the best in all the regiments and reserved for attacks, because the mass of the German army has reached a stage where they cannot be depended on for strenuous action.

Remember, too, that age is telling on all the armies. Men of 45 who joined the army in 1914 are now 48, and this three years has told on them; more than ten years of peace will do yet no nation permits them to be mustered out. So while men over forty made up only 15 per cent of the armies of 1914-15, today they are 22 per cent of the whole.

By next year, therefore, Germany, Austria, and France will each have only a few hundred thousand fighting men who have not been weakened by wounds, shell-shock or disease, and England will have made large inroads on the fresh troops now in her depots for training camps.

For this reason, if the United States can put 600,000 fresh troops on the western front for next year's campaign, they may have an important if not a decisive effect. In this I am, entirely apart from the effect that their presence will surely have on the morale of the allies and the central powers.

Five hundred thousand American troops would be numerically only one-tenth the German army, but they would equal practically all the fresh troops the Kaiser can secure in the first half of next year from all possible sources.

Germany from the military standpoint is in the position of a prizefighter who has fought twenty rounds with an antagonist of equal size and skill and now sees a fresh heavy-weight, your Uncle Samuel, stepping into the ring with blood in his eye and a knockout wallop in his right.

In a chess game it is not necessary with experienced and far-sighted players to accomplish an actual checkmate, but merely to demonstrate assured and unbreakable strength of pieces and pawns to bring about the capitulation of the antagonist.

It is the same way in war. It is easily within the power of the United States to make the demonstration of assured and unbreakable military and industrial superiority so clear within the next half year that it will convince not only the German people, but even the war lords.

Full-speed-ahead in America's war program will bring Germany to the surrender point before this time next year.

(Indianapolis Star.)

A warning to the country has been issued by the Patriotic Education Society that German propagandists are endeavoring to bring about an uprising among the colored people of the United States. The trouble-makers are said to be urging the colored men to arise in revolt and are promising that there will be no color line when Germany rules. The report would be incredible had not German propagandists undertaken so many absurd efforts that it is easy to believe anything that may be credited to them.

It is almost unbelievable that anyone would be so foolish as to expect to make any headway with an effort at stirring the colored people into revolt. The propagandists, of course, do not expect their dupes would succeed. They did not expect Mexico would be a winner in the game of getting back its "lost provinces." The point was not to help Mexico, nor is it to improve the condition of the colored man, but to make any trouble that might be possible for the United States. If a few thoughtless colored men could be misled into starting disturbances that is all Germany could hope and the disturbers would be left to pay the penalty.

Starting trouble is Germany's long suit, as a matter of theory, but has won little in fact. At the outset of the war Turkey was induced to get in on the Teutonic side and a "holy war" was declared in the expectation that Mohammedans in India, Egypt and elsewhere would begin the wholesale slaughter of Christians. The Mohammedans declined to engage in any such undertaking. Then Sir Roger Casement was dispatched to his fate, merely in the hope that he would cause some trouble and without expectation that he would be successful in the program mapped out in Berlin.

The colored man in the United States will resent even the intimation that he could be induced to become a disloyal. There is no hyphen in his family. He is all-American and professional American. Furthermore, he will not fail to notice that the world conditions are promising what will be conditions "when Germany rules." They are not assuring him of an opportunity to get control, but merely asking him to help the Kaiser and crew to take charge. The proposal is an insult to his intelligence as well as to his loyalty.

The whole thing, of course, will come to no more than an appeal to all those with real hair to the left-handed men and real brains to the right. It is stupid and based on stupidity. But those responsible for the attempt should be brought to account. Unquestionably someone is trying to incite insurrection and should be punished for that intent and attempt. Let those who are responsible be run to earth and made to pay the penalty for sedition. It is about time for something drastic in this nation of good-natured tolerance.

GRILLS THE TEACHERS.

Kokomo, Ind., Aug. 29.—The heart of the average school boy would have burst with enjoyment if he had heard the lecture County Superintendent A. F. Lutson gave Howard county school teachers at the annual teachers' institute, yesterday. The pedagogues have shown a tendency to amble into lectures at almost any old hour. The superintendent threatened a cut in license grades if the attendance is not more regular hereafter.

Uncle Harry Talks About the "German" Colonies

"Whenever there is talk about peace and Germany giving up Belgium, Serbia, Rumania and that part of France occupied by the German armies, something is always said about the German colonies in Africa, but you've never told us about Africa," said Joe.

"The question of the German colonies in Africa, that are now in possession of the allies—England and France principally—is a very important one," said Uncle Harry. "Whether some of these colonies, or all of them, will be retained by the allies after the war, or whether they will be returned, in part or in whole to Germany, will be one of the big problems that will have to be settled, and settled intelligently and fairly, or else the control or possession of them will cause more war in the future.

"Are these African colonies very big?" asked Helen. "I remember studying in my geography that Germany had possessions in Africa, but I don't remember whether it said how big they were."

"About one-fourteenth of the entire continent of Africa was owned by the German empire when the war started," said Uncle Harry.

"And they have lost all of these African colonies, haven't they?" asked Jimmy.

"They have for as long as the war continues," said Uncle Harry, "and maybe for all time. It depends, of course, on what the peace terms are. Some of the proposals that have already been made provide that the Three Fort Wayne Men Try Above Ingredients— Didn't Mix.

New Haven, Ind., Aug. 30.—When is a man intoxicated?

How much does it take to make him intoxicated?

These were the perplexing problems brought before "Squire Daley in police court, Tuesday evening, when Marshal Girardot presented Fred Rogge, Henry Mullenbruch and Frank Blust, the latter being held as witness, and later turned loose.

The men were arrested for driving an auto while intoxicated, after they had zig-zagged their way through town, they having later been found on a short distance east of town, the machine a total wreck, having turned over, but the men none the worse for their experience.

After some questioning, the men admitted they had three drinks, five drinks, seven drinks, three bottles. After such conflicting evidence, and the condition the men were in at the time of giving it, it was decided by the court the men were intoxicated while driving an auto on a public highway, and they were given fines of $5 and costs. They went to jail.

THIS MAGIC SIGN GUARDS A GILDED GARDEN OF WAR

(Staff Special.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—"Warning! Anyone trespassing in this garden will be shot at sunrise. If not up, will be shot in bed."

That's the magic sign that protects Indianapolis' war garden de luxe, in the heart of the fashionable residence district.

Lettuce, onions, peas, potatoes, cabbage and even the lowly bean—all are safe from marauders, and flourish.

The garden is composed of four city lots—each 35 by 85 feet. The men plowed it—and now the women till it.

What men? Bankers, brokers, doctors. They stop off on their way home in their limousines. Perhaps, if not too tired from the day's "gruelling grind," they condescend to give the garden its evening drink.

But the weeding and hoeing—the city's blue book furnishes a roster of the women gardeners who, for this, forget party décolleté and come out in gingham and sunbonnets.

In the blue book they appear as Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Fatout, Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Hess, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hess and Mr. and Mrs. Will Roberts.

But now, by day, Mesdames Hess, Fatout et al are out in the sun picking potato bugs, spraying, weeding or hoeing—accumulating the tan they were wont in other summers to have applied at seashore or mountain resort—but after all by the same brush of Dame Nature.

Signs that guard Indianapolis war garden de luxe and women who till it.

Who would dare raid a war garden protected by this sign: THIS GARDEN A WAR ZONE. TRESPASSERS WILL BE PE-TOR-DOED! Or this grim warning: IN MEMORY HE WOULD TRESPASS!

You're often heard youngish Harry use the expression, "Ter always pickin' in 'on me!"—huh?

Didja ever stop to think about it, maybe he was right? Why sure he was. Like making him wash his feet every night before going to bed after going barefooted all day. That's an awful thing to do. Don't scrub their ears so strenuously. You'll hurt their hearing and how do you suppose they can learn new slang when their hearing is on the bum? Let them wash 'em themselves. What's that, do I hear you laughing? Well, anyway, why should their ears and feet be washed? They only get dirty again. As Shakespeare never said: "Seems to them, to wash up, is quite a hopeless case. They get dirty once again, and wash the same old face."

NOT ALL OUR OWN WAR WASTE.

Speeches in congress and statements in newspapers allude to "twenty billions for the first year of the war," and "thirty millions a day," and the like assemblages of staggering figures in a way calculated to disconcert the unthinking and uninformed. The probability is that for the first year of the conflict this nation may have to provide some twenty billion dollars and the fact is that from twenty-five to thirty million dollars are about the daily expenditures of this government. These sums are not, however, "total loss."

A great part—the greater part, indeed—of American expenditures so far have been in loans to our allies. These are not really expenditures. At all events, they are not irrecoverable war costs. Some time, though a good many years hence no doubt, the financial obligations of the allies to the United States will be paid back. In the case of some of the smaller nations, like Belgium, Serbia and Rumania, that have been or may be helped with American money, there may never be a reimbursement and it will not greatly matter. To have aided to free those nations and to have assisted to set them on their feet will be compensation enough, if the war aims of this country shall at length be achieved in the peace that must come.

Other expenditures of huge bulk are for things of permanence, like the money that is going and will continue to go into mercantile shipping. Realization of the great program to replace the world's destroyed tonnage will leave America after the war in possession of a large merchant marine, which long has been one of the insuperable needs of this nation. We shall also have vast aerial fleets, indisputably the world's second navy and an incontestable supremacy in destroyer strength. We shall have equipment for great armies, the means of producing armor and ordnance and a tremendous organization necessary to the mobilization of the nation's resources for war.

Should the highest hopes of humanity be the fruitage of this great conflict and the world at the end of it be able to take secure hostage against a recurrence of wars, some of these things will be useless enough, no doubt, but no one will reflect grudgingly upon the prodigious cost of them if the expenditure shall have made them useless. If peace shall fail in establishing guarantees against war, then America will be prepared to defend herself in any conflict against any foe.

So it is that whatever falls out, the United States will have many important material offsets to the huge expenditures imposed by the strife we are in and that part of the billions that never will come back will be no loss if the burning of them in war's flaming blast bring permanent peace to this land and "make the world safe for democracy." But "thirty millions a day" and "twenty billions a year" surely stress the mind for adequate comprehensions.

THE TAX LEVY.

Badly as the municipal government is off for money, there can be no harsh criticism of the city council for declining to increase the tax rate. The time to have proposed an increase was not this year, but years earlier. Fort Wayne has been getting along precariously on an insufficient income for a long time with the result that there has been no preparation to meet the sort of a financial pinch which has come as a result of the war and the extinction of revenues from liquor licenses.

There can be no feeling but of regret that some things that ought to be done must now remain undone for want of funds. The slashing of the park levy is a matter of sorrow—a thing that ought not to have been done if there was an alternative, and we believe that elsewhere might have been some little saving that would have spared the park fund this raid to make possible more money for other needs. The park funds have never been adequate. It has taken more than a quarter century to accomplish what development there has been of Fort Wayne's park system. Of course there can be no development in the coming year. The funds produced by the diminished levy will answer for no more than a precarious maintenance. At the earliest day possible the park levy should be restored—increased, indeed—and the betterment and expansion of the park system allowed to go forward.

But with the general government put to necessity for raising vast sums by all sorts of taxation, excises and imposts and all of it going into the cost of living, the raising of local taxes, badly as money is needed by the city, would have incurred no good will from any quarter. The people doubtless are quite as ready to approve retrenchments and denials even in the manner of their municipal housekeeping as they are to practice imperative economies in their domestic housekeeping. There should be an understanding, nevertheless by the people and by the next administration which comes in, that this city cannot maintain itself on the revenues it gets, much less make progress. The city in a day not remote will have to see to this or reconcile itself to more than the present evidences of decay.

JUSTIN N. STUDY.

After twenty-one years of unbroken service to the public schools of Fort Wayne, Prof. Justin N. Study has laid aside that and all other burdens and entered into rest. The death of Prof. Study, while having been more or less prepared for in the public mind by reports of critical illness, will be the source of sorrow and regret throughout the city. Many hundreds of persons who had never known him in any manner of personal acquaintance, knew him in a way that answered almost for such a bond. He had been for more than a score of years at the head of Fort Wayne's public school system and his relation with the people was intimate even if it was not a face to face acquaintanceship. His work here had impressed itself on thousands of young lives that came under his charge and of these a great host are the men and women of today. During the long period of Dr. Study's superintendency the Fort Wayne schools have made great advancements. In this work he has been a directing intelligence, and the progress of the schools has been in large part due to him. The public schools of this city have a far and high repute and as their head the late superintendent shared the honor of that fame. He was widely recognized in educational circles as a highly capable and profoundly sincere public school man. His loss is more to Fort Wayne, for as a member for twenty years of the state board of education he has had an important part in framing the policies and marking out the progress of the entire system of public education in Indiana. He will be much missed here, no less for qualities of citizenship and personal character than for his splendid capacity for the great public work he performed.

There will be a fine and bloody mess in Russia if the way be not soon found to get the factions thinking together upon what is best for Russia. The makings of the finest outbreak of anarchy in the record of time are heating up right now in that new land of rejoicing and the worst of it is that some six or eight millions of them are well trained in the use of arms and more disposed to raise Cain and other by-products of a disordered society right at home than they are to poke the muzzles of their guns into the faces of invading Germans. There must be settling down soon or there will be blowing up.

Negroes in a Chicago suburb showed symptoms a night or two ago of aspiring to emulate the murderous fury of the colored troops at Houston and hinted as much. The intelligent and cool-headed leaders among the negroes can engage in a good work by exerting their influence to nullify the poisons that enemy agents have been instilling into the minds of negroes in many parts of the country. It will do a deal for the future of the colored race in America.

If President Wilson's note could get a popular circulation in Germany and go to the German people, unutilized and uncorrupted by Junker revisions and interpretations there would be some stir in the kaiser's empire at an early day. But the hope that such a document will be allowed to get to the popular intelligence is about as remote as that the Hohenzollerns will abdicate before they are driven to it.

The next installment of war money will come in a nice little bulk of twelve billion dollars. But what's twelve billion if you've got it!

By R E M

"Fare, please! All the good ones, and the sad ones; all the good ones, and the bad ones—get on here!"

Song of the Raw Recruit.
I'm something of a raw recruit—
Come have a look at me!
I've passed the docs, and drawn my suit,
I am the busy bee;
I've read the manual of arms,
With me let no one trifle;
I'm cognizant of war's alarms,
I'm practiced with my rifle!

I've donned the khaki and the kit,
Which no man should refuse,
I'm starting out to do my bit,
In bright new hob-nailed shoes;
I've left my useful little churn,
My cow I've said goodbye to,
I'm off to pot the frightful Germ—
At least I'm off to try to!

I'm fed up on blood and silt,
I'm full of fuss and fight,
And if the kaiser drops a stitch,
I'll ravel him all right;
Of great maneuvers now I rave,
No foe can ever undo me—
Ben Battle was a soldier brave,
But he was nothing to me!

I've put my plow behind the barn,
I've left my foolish flocks,
I'm wearing things built out of yarn,
I've got on six-ply socks;
I've kissed my faithful wife farewell,
I've grabbed my battle-axes,
I'm off to Sherman's place called—well,
Where there's no gas nor taxes!

"Christine," by Alice Cholmondeley, can never become a popular novel—at least not until the author-girl changes her name.
"Corn bread," according to Life, "is pretty good or pretty poor, according as you make it. When it is made by an artist it is first rate, provided you have better enough to put on it." Add—and provided you like it. Some n. b. Americans don't.
Now that we come to think of it boarding a woman for life is something of a job.
People whose lives hang by threads ought to be careful how they sew on their buttons.
It is no use to be discouraged over Russia—get real worry working over Japan.
Why does not Japan throw a million men into the fight? Can it be possible there is no need for men on the Russian front?
We foresee that life may no longer be all wheat bread and ginger snaps—there must come cornmeal interludes.

Some men would think they were cheated if they had smallpox lighter than their neighbors.
The kaiser brought about the war to gain Europe. Cut off the "Eu" and notice what he will likely win.
Why is it that people who believe they possess an immortal soul are so afraid of having it wrecked? You can't wreck anything that's immortal.
Every time you doubt the goodness of God and His divine purpose you put a brake on the golden wheel of Christian progress.

Mrs. Croaker is positive the baby will sink him out and is gone five minutes beyond her time, she is convinced they have fallen into the canal, or they are galloped over by a run-away horse; while Mr. Croaker comes home declaring that a rise of one per cent. in the discount market will ruin him, and Mrs. C. had better put a bill in the window to let the house, for they must go into lodgings in a month. ## U. S. Can Turn the Tide of the War

BY BASIL M. MANLY.

"Can the nations, deadlocked on the battle lines of Europe, continue to fight indefinitely? Is it true, as often stated, that both the central powers and the allies have more boys coming to military age every year than their annual losses, and can therefore carry on this war, if they will, for ten, twenty or fifty years with ever-increasing armies?"

With such enormous forces as are in the trenches on the western front, will the addition of 500,000 or even a million, American troops have any appreciable effect?

In order to get the correct answers to these questions I went first to war department officials. They know, because they have been given the exact facts by our allies; but they are under the strictest orders not to tell.

"We can't talk," they told me, "but we can tell you where to get what you want. In the military journals of the different countries you will find articles by military authorities who discuss these questions as accurately as we could if permitted. There is Col. Feyer, of the Swiss army, one of the world's greatest military authorities, Hilaire Belloc, of England, who has been given remarkable access to the information of the British war office, and a number of others, whose information and judgment can be relied on. Bring their statements together, analyze them and you will have more exact information than you can secure from any other available source."

Here then are the facts as I have gleaned them from these military authorities. They are not my views, but simply my analysis of their conclusions.

Neither group is in the slightest danger of collapse as a result of permanent military losses in the form of killed, prisoners and incapacitated. Out of the wounded and sick now in hospitals, and the young boys who can be called up each year, they can fill in the gaps.

But there is a wide difference between the situation of the two groups in this respect.

At the present rate of casualties the German powers can maintain their armies at about their present strength for an indefinite period. But they cannot increase their size without crippling their industries and checking the flow of food and munitions to the trenches.

Great Britain, France and Italy, on the other hand, without the assistance of the United States can annually increase their armies by half a million men without encroachment on their present labor forces.

So much for the numerical manpower. How about their actual fighting power?

Both groups of nations are losing their fighting men at such a rapid rate and are so largely replacing them with men weakened by wounds, shell-shock and disease that by next spring their actual fighting power for defense or attack will be only a fraction of what it has been. Germany, Austria and France have already used up their reserves of fresh troops and have only the young boys who will be called up but they are not numerous enough even to replace the permanent losses, much less the partial disabilities which unfit a man for first line work.

While Germany can replace over a million men next year, 450,000—nearly half—of these gaps must be filled with men now in hospitals—patched up and disease-weakened wrecks to take the place of vigorous men now in the front trenches, who will die or be sent to hospitals in the next year, lost forever as first-class fighting men.

At least half as many men as are now in each of the armies—2,500,000 for Germany, 1,500,000 for France—will pass out of the armies through the hospitals next year. Sixty per cent of them will return to service, but what will they be worth for strenuous attacks or tenacious defense? Military experts count a "hospital return" as worth a good deal less than half an unwounded man.

Remember that wounds, shell-shock, death and capture, fall almost entirely on the front line troops, the pick of the army, and you will understand why, although each of the armies is larger than ever before, it is merely a shell of its former self with a rotting core.

This loss of fighting men is hitting Germany harder than any other nation. In order to meet it she has been forced within recent months to form "storming troops," specially picked from the best in all the regiments and reserved for attacks, because the mass of the German army has reached a stage where they cannot be depended on for strenuous action.

Remember, too, that age is telling on all the armies. Men of 45 who joined the army in 1914 are now 48, and these three years has told on them more than ten years of peace will do; yet no nation permits them to be mustered out. So while men over forty made up only 15 per cent of the armies of 1914-15, today they are 22 per cent of the whole.

By next year, therefore, Germany, Austria, and France will each have only a few hundred thousand fighting men who have not been weakened by wounds, shell-shock or disease, and England will have made large inroads on the fresh troops now in her depots or training camps.

For this reason, if the United States can put 500,000 fresh troops on the western front for next year's campaign, they may have an important if not a decisive effect. In this I am, entirely apart from the effect that their presence will surely have on the morale of the allies and the central powers.

Five hundred thousand American troops would be numerically only one-tenth the German army, but they would equal practically all the fresh troops the kaiser can secure in the first half of next year from all possible sources.

Germany from the military standpoint is in the position of a prizefighter who has fought twenty rounds with an antagonist of equal size and skill and now sees a fresh heavy-weight, your Uncle Samuel, stepping into the ring with blood in his eye and a knockout wallop in his right.

In a chess game it is not necessary with experienced and far-sighted players to accomplish an actual checkmate, but merely to demonstrate assured and unbreakable strength of pieces and pawns to bring about the capitulation of the antagonist.

It is the same way in war. It is easily within the power of the United States to make the demonstration of assured and unbreakable military and industrial superiority so clear within the next half year that it will convince not only the German people, but even the war lords.

Full-speed-ahead in America's war program will bring Germany to the surrender point before this time next year.

SEDITION SHOULD BE SQUELCHED

(Indianapolis Star.)

A warning to the country has been issued by the Patriotic Education Society that German propagandists are endeavoring to bring about an uprising among the colored people of the United States. The trouble-makers are said to be urging the colored men to arise in revolt and are promising that there will be no color line when Germany rules. The report would be incredible had not German propagandists undertaken so many absurd efforts that it is easy to believe anything that may be credited to them.

It is almost unbelievable that anyone would be so foolish as to expect to make any headway with an effort at stirring the colored people into revolt. The propagandists, of course, do not expect their dupes would succeed. They did not expect Mexico would be a winner in the game of getting back its "lost provinces." The point was not to help Mexico, nor is it to improve the condition of the colored man, but to make any trouble that might be possible for the United States. If a few thoughtless colored men could be misled into starting disturbances that is all Germany could hope and the disturbers would be left to pay the penalty.

Starting trouble is Germany's long suit, as a matter of theory, but has won little in fact. At the outset of the war Turkey was induced to get in on the Teutonic side and a "holy war" was declared in the expectation that Mohammedans in India, Egypt and elsewhere would begin the wholesale slaughter of Christians. The Mohammedans declined to engage in any such undertaking. Then Sir Roger Casement was dispatched to his fate, merely in the hope that he would cause some trouble and without expectation that he would be successful in the program mapped out in Berlin.

The colored man in the United States will resent even the intimation that he could be induced to become disloyal. There is no hyphen in his family. He is all-American and proud of it. Furthermore, he will not fail to notice that the propagandists are promising what will be conditions "when Germany rules." They are not assuring him of an opportunity to get control, but merely asking him to help the kaiser and crew to take charge. The proposal is an insult to his intelligence as well as to his loyalty.

The whole thing, of course, will come to no more than an appeal to all those with red hair or to the left-handed men to arise in revolt. It is stupid and based on stupidity. But those responsible for the attempt should be brought to account. Unquestionably someone is trying to incite insurrection and should be punished for that intent and attempt. Let those who are responsible be run to scot. It is about time for something drastic in this nation of good-natured tolerance.

Kokomo, Ind., Aug. 28.—The heart of the average school boy would have burst with enjoyment if he had heard the lecture County Superintendent A. F. The superintendent threatened a cut in license grades if the attendance is not more regular hereafter.

Uncle Harry Talks About the "German" Colonies

"Whenever there is talk about peace and Germany giving up Belgium, Serbia, Rumania and that part of France occupied by the German armies, something is always said about the German colonies in Africa, but you've never told us about Africa," said Joe.

"The question of the German colonies in Africa, that are now in possession of the allies—England and France principally—is a very important one," said Uncle Harry. "Whether some of these colonies, or all of them, will be retained by the allies after the war, or whether they will be returned, in part or in whole to Germany, will be one of the big problems that will have to be settled, and settled intelligently and fairly, or else the control or possession of them will cause more war in the future."

"Are those African colonies very big?" asked Helen. "I remember studying in my geography that Germany had possessions in Africa, but I don't remember whether it said how big they were."

"About one-fourteenth of the entire continent of Africa was owned by the German empire when the war started," said Uncle Harry.

"And they have lost all of these African colonies, haven't they?" asked Jimmy.

"They have for as long as the war continues," said Uncle Harry, "and maybe for all time. It depends, of course, on what the peace terms are. Some of the proposals that have already been made provide that the Three Fort Wayne Men Try Above Ingredients—Didn't Mix.

New Haven, Ind., Aug. 30.—When is a man intoxicated?

How much does it take to make him intoxicated?

These were the perplexing problems brought before "Squire Daley in police court, Tuesday evening, when Marshal Girardot presented Fred Rozge, Henry Mullenbruch and Frank Blust, the latter being held as witness, and later turned loose.

The men were arrested for driving an auto while intoxicated, after they had zig-zagged their way through town, they having later been found a short distance east of town, the machine a total wreck, having turned over, but the men none the worse for their experience.

After some questioning, the men admitted they had three drinks, five drinks, seven drinks, three bottles. After such conflicting evidence, and the condition the men were in at the time of giving it, it was decided by the court the men were intoxicated while driving an auto on a public highway, and they were given fines of $5 and costs. They went to jail.

VOIROL FAMILY REUNION.

Second Annual Reunion Held at Zulu, Ind.

The second annual reunion of the Voirol family was held at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Voirol, Jr., on Sunday, August 26, in honor of the descendants of Louis Voirol (deceased). The day was spent in a most enjoyable manner in games and music, a most sumptuous dinner was served, after which a business meeting was held electing the following officers for the coming year: President, Louis Voirol; vice president, Herman Voirol; secretary and treasurer, Jules Gremaux. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lomont, who reside east of town. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Louis Voirol and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Voirol, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jules Gremaux and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oberley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Art Oberley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Oberley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Voel, Sr., Elmer Bernadette, Norbert Bernadette, Elmer Bernadette, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Voirol and family, Mrs. Jacob Lambin and son, James, Mr. and Mrs. Christ Speith and family, Edward Russell and daughter, Erma, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Grabner and family of Edgerton, Ind.; Mrs. Floren Voirol and sons, Joseph and Herman, Emil Voirol and daughters, Ethel and Florent, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Voirol and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Voirol and family of Fort Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lomont and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gremaux, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Druhard of Massillon, O.; Julian and Justin Stalter, William Gremaux, Frank Voirol, Charles Fernet, Raymond Martha, Ralph Peckham, Ross Marquart, Clarence Bausch, Frank J. Walker, Co. E, Fort Wayne, Miss Cecelia Moury and Mrs. Mary Ehinger.

"Where are the German colonies located in Africa?" asked Helen.

"Well, the biggest, German East Africa, as it is called, is located on the east coast about midway in the continent, and facing on the Indian ocean," said Uncle Harry. "The next biggest colony is German Southwest Africa, which is away down toward the bottom of the continent, just above the British Cape Colony, and facing the Atlantic ocean. The two smaller colonies are Togoland and Kamerun, which also face on the Atlantic ocean, and are located in what you might call the elbow of Africa, that is, just where the coast line changes from north and south and starts west."

"What are in these colonies, besides native Africans," asked Joe.

"They are rich in agricultural lands, and have more or less mineral wealth," said Uncle Harry. "Under the direction of the Germans the lands produced large quantities of palm oil, cocoa, rubber, cotton, indigo, fine woods."

"Are the African colonies the only German colonies?" asked Helen.

"Oh, no," answered Uncle Harry. "There are a number in the Pacific ocean and one small one on the coast of China."

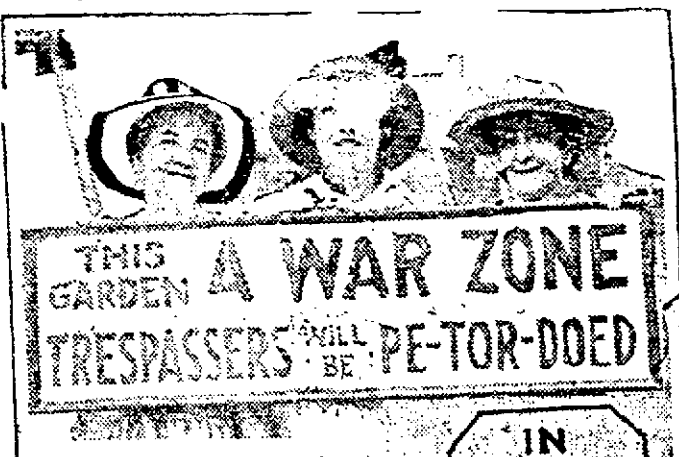

"Tell us about these," said Jimmy.

"The colony in China, the province of Kiaochow, was captured by Japan early in the war," said Uncle Harry. "The Japanese fleet also took possession of the Pacific islands belonging to Germany. These colonies are all being held by Japan. The best known of the Pacific colonies are the Samoan islands, covering about 1,000 square miles, and having a native population of about 35,000 and less than 800 whites. The other German colonies in the Pacific are, Solomon, Marshall, Marianne, Caroline islands and Bismark archipelago and Kaiser Wilhelm land. We must keep these German colonies in mind because they will undoubtedly play an important part in the peace settlement."

Editor's Note.—Uncle Harry will be glad to answer inquiries, either in this column or by mail, provided letters are signed with the full name and address of the persons writing. The correspondents' names will not appear in the articles.

THIS MAGIC SIGN GUARDS A GILDED GARDEN OF WAR

(Staff Special.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—"Warning! Anyone trespassing in this garden will be shot at sunrise. If not up, will be shot in bed."

That's the magic sign that protects Indianapolis' war garden de luxe, in the heart of the fashionable residence district.

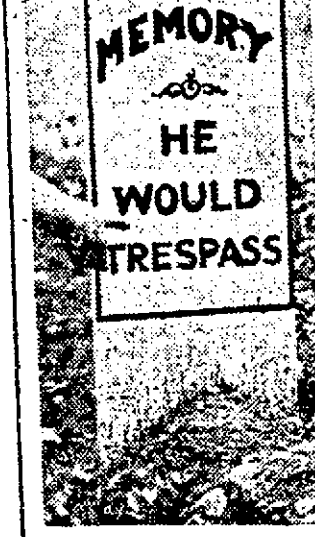

Lettuce, onions, peas, potatoes, cabbage and even the lowly bean—all are safe from marauders, and flourish. The garden is composed of four city lots—each 35 by 35 feet. The men plowed it—and now the women till it.

What men? Bankers, brokers, doctors. They stop off on their way home in their limousines. Perhaps, if not too tired from the day's "gruelling grind," they condescend to give the garden its evening drink.

But the weeding and hoeing—the city's blue book furnishes a roster of the women gardeners who, for this, forget party décolleté and come out in singhams and sunbonnets.

In the blue book they appear as Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Fatout, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Hess, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hess and Mr. and Mrs. Will Roberts.

But now, by day, Mesdames Hess, Fatout et al are out in the sun picking potato bugs, spraying, weeding or hoeing—accumulating the tan they were wont in other summers to have applied at seashore or mountain resort—but after all by the same brush of Dame Nature.

Signs that guard Indianapolis war garden de luxe and women who till it.

Who would dare raid a war garden protected by this sign:

A number of young girls enjoyed a pretty party on Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Florence McMahon, of Oakley street, who entertained in honor of Miss Florence Lockman, of Hamilton, Ohio. It was the tenth annual anniversary of the latter Miss McMahon and there were twenty guests present. Decorations and the luncheon served after the playing of games were enjoyed by Gertrude and Evelyn Meyers, Dorothy and Florence Young, Marie and Helen Kelly, Dorothy and Rosella Lindlag, Dorothy and Evelyn Schoof, Loretta Sheridan, Hazel Wickhoff and Mrs. Will Danhauser.

Eight little folks of the neighborhood spent a pleasant time last evening at the Keller home in Brackenridge street when in response to invitations they met little Josephine and Master Boltz Neuer, of Huntington, who are guests of Miss Babe Keller. Beautiful flowers were used to decorate the rooms. The children played merry games until about 9 o'clock when they were invited to march to the diningroom, where they were served a dainty luncheon by Mrs. Keller and her daughter. The center of the table was occupied by a large brass bowl filled with red gladioli and they were served in small silver holders lent still more prettiness to the table as there was one at each plate. "Fortunes" and fancy paper caps were found tied to little rolls at each place. A string to each of the rolls looked suspicious and when pulled "exploded," causing more than one shriek of laughter. Other favors were tiny red baskets tied with tulle and filled with nuts, while the gayest balloons that swung from the chandelier as if they had nothing to do with the party found their way later into the hands of the children. Little Pacifica Gocke, of Chicago, who is visiting her grandparents here, and Miss Jennette Ehinger, of Decatur, were other guests from out of town.

A Country Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cook, of Gar Creek, entertained a company of friends in honor of Mr. Cook's birthday on Sunday, August 26. ## THE INDISPENSABLE WHITE FROCK.

Copyright Underwood & Underwood

The white frock is as indispensable as the blue serge suit. But whereas one serge suit is enough for one woman, most of us can easily make use of several white frocks. If you are looking around for an additional something or other to wear to the garden party, or something white and symbolic in which to see him off to Minnecola, why not this particular model? White Georgette, wide lace, with an apron as a decorative feature, should make you beautiful even as you weep in Grand Central Terminal.

CEREALS CHEAPEST FOOD HOUSEWIFE CAN SERVE

For the woman whose chief business is housekeeping, the uncooked cereals will make the greatest return for the money spent. A cent's worth of oatmeal when cooked is as much as the very heartiest laboring man can eat. Two cents' worth of cornmeal makes a breakfast for him and there will be some left to warm over for supper. Two cents' worth of ready-to-eat cereals contains less nourishment. For uncooked cereals the housekeeper expends time in preparation, and for the ready-to-eat cereals she expends money. If one wants to be economical, use more bulk cereals.

HAVE HIM MAKE A CLEANING CART.

By BIDDY BYE.

The teacart has become a fashionable piece of furniture. She who "does her own work" finds dozens of ways to save steps by using a teacart when serving meals or clearing the table.

An equally good labor saver is a cleaning cart any man can make from a box and a set of castors from some discarded chair or dresser. Or a long board may be used for the base and a light framework fastened upon it for holding scrubbing pails, and a high basket or can for brooms, brushes and mops.

The cleaning cart may also be fitted out with wire baskets for sponges, cleaning cloths and bottles of furniture and floor polish. When not in use, this domestic pushcart can be run into a closet, and the cleaning cloths can be spread over it to dry after washing.

The comfort of owning a cleaning cart is obvious to any woman who ever wielded a mop.

HOW TO SAVE PERISHABLE FOOD FOR USE NEXT WINTER

Acting in co-operation with the government in the national food conservation campaign The Sentinel will from day to day present its readers with recipes and suggestions for preserving perishable fruits and vegetables.

BY BIDDY BYE.

On account of the high price of containers canned corn, long a necessity, will be classed as a luxury next winter by many housekeepers, unless a good deal of corn is canned in the home kitchen. Uncle Sam's cooking experts make the following suggestions:

Can as soon after the corn is gathered as possible. Remove husks and silk. Blanch by placing in boiling water for five minutes. Remove and dip quickly into and out of cold water. Cut the corn from the cob and pack directly into hot jars or cans to within 1-4 inch of the top. Pour in enough boiling water to fill the container. Add one level teaspoonful of salt to each quart. Put rubber rings and caps of jars into position, but do not tighten the wire clamps. Seal the cans completely.

Place containers on a false bottom of wooden slats or wire mesh in a vessel of water deep enough to cover the containers completely.

Keep the water boiling for three hours. Remove the jars, tighten covers, invert jars to test seal, and cool (not in draft, as jar might crack).

After the containers are cool store in a dark, cool place.

Rapid preparation for canning is especially desirable for corn if a good quality of product is to be obtained. The best results can be secured when one person cuts the corn from the cob and another fills the containers. If it is necessary for one person to work alone she should cut off sufficient corn to fill one jar, pour on boiling water, add salt, place the rubbers and caps in position and put the jar or container into hot water at once.

The extra cooking which will be given the cans first filled will not be injurious and a better product will be served than if the cut corn were allowed to stand until all jars were filled.

How to Dry Beans.

Select only beans in fit condition for use, as snap or string beans; wash and remove strings; dry small beans whole; cut large and more mature beans in one-inch lengths with vegetable slicer or sharp knife; place in cheesecloth square or wire basket; plunge into boiling water for 1 1/2 to 2 minutes; dip for a moment in cold water; remove surface moisture by placing between two towels, or by exposing to the sun and air for a short time; spread thinly on trays or earthenware plates; dry in sun, in oven, over the kitchen stove, or before the electric fan, until tough and leathery; stir from time to time.

INDIANS ON WARPATH! GERMANS TO HEAR REDMEN'S SCALPING CRY

In the shadow of the feathered war headdress and the painted face, and in the echo of the scalping warwhoop, the new Indian preserves the fighting spirit of his ancestors. Here is how the Indians training for the United States army look today, compared with the fighting Indians of early days.

Staff Special.

St. Regis Falls, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Look out, Kaiser Bill! The Old Crow dance, the wild war whoop, the headdress of rooster plumes and the painted face! These terrors are likely soon to be added to the weapons Pershing can match against German frightfulness, and use in the American drive against the Horrible Hun.

For Lo, the poor Indian, is about to mingle his strain of blood with the assorted races now walloping each other in the world war.

A full company of the fierce and noble red men is now drilling near Hogsburg, N. Y. The contingent of aborigines, recruited from the St. Regis and Caughnawaga reservations, will be captained by Chief Rolling Thunder, whose martial exploits have reverberated through the hills of the legislative committee on Indian affairs and who was decorated, for one of those exploits, with 90 days in the Franklin county jail.

The announced intention of the Frontier Pioneers (the reservations border the Canadian line) to go to the front is approved by the white citizens of the neighborhood, and the leading hence up owners are raising a fund to take the Indians to a southern training camp.

The Indian, not allowed to vote, can not be drafted, but nothing prevents the president's acceptance of any volunteer Indian contingent.

These warrior Indians measure up to the belligerent traditions of their fighting forefathers—and then some. First Lieutenant Joe Hen Feather is the same son of a chief who routed an entire grand procession at St. Regis one Sunday in 1914—alone and unaided save by an unbottled pint of squirrel. Sergeant Pete Leaping Pickeral is known to fame as the lone ex-Pluto who held up McCaffrey's speakeasy near Musuna Point, in spite of twenty customers.

Ossanumphay, chaplain of the Fusiliers, did for four constables, a deputy sheriff and three onlookers during a raid on the chaplain's blind tiger on the St. Lawrence, receiving in recognition of his valor the decoration of the Iron Bars.

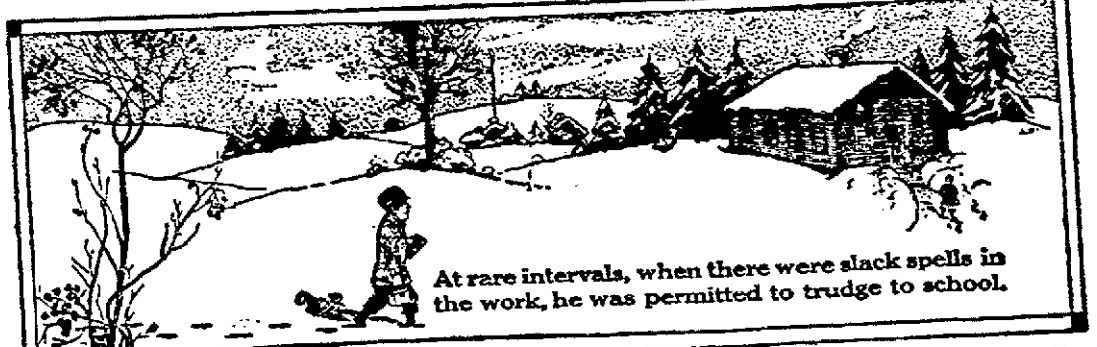

And fearless? Temporary owners of personal property near the reservation can testify unanimously to such a fearlessness as would enable the Redskins to walk right into a German trench in broad daylight and steal a 20-centimeter gun.

Citizens who keep chickens, or have paint around for painting their houses or blanket their horses in winter have killed a move to have the Indians scare the Germans to death by appearing on the battlefield in oldtime war regalia.

Every one of these Indians is an expert in the cross player, some of them able to hurl a la crosse ball a quarter of a mile, and what they will do to the German trenches with their hand grenades!

It President Wilson will sanction scalping as a revenge for U-boats atrocities the world is made safe for democracy.

Information reaching Captain Rolling Thunder that the act authorizing the president to buy up all bonded spirits was meant to insure the Redskins a bountiful supply in the trenches leads him to promise every eligible male will soon be on the firing line in France.

At rare intervals, when there were slack spells in the work, he was permitted to trudge to school.

NEXT REUNION WILL BE HELD IN WABASH

Wm. Henley Elected President at Meeting of 47th Indiana Volunteers.

(Special to The Sentinel.) Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 30.—Wabash was selected as the next place of meeting of the survivors of the Forty-seventh Indiana volunteers at the reunion here Wednesday. Captain William Henley, of Wabash, was elected president and E. B. Ayres, of Huntington, was selected as secretary for the ensuing year.

The date for the next reunion will be selected by the secretary. Sixty-three veterans with as many more friends were present at the meeting here Wednesday. Rain prevented an automobile trip about the city, so after a big dinner the aged men spent the afternoon in visiting.

Rural Route Carrier Hurt. John Sowards, rural carrier on route 2, received a fracture of two ribs at the John Dubach farm near Domestic. Sowards stopped at the Dubach barn to get the names of members of the family for his route list and accidentally stepped through a hole in the floor. His assistant, Will Dorthy, who was with him at the time finished carrying the route.

New Teachers Selected. Homer Brumbaugh and Miss Maro Beck have been selected as teachers in the city school to fill the vacancies made during the summer. Miss Beck, who taught in the Ossian school last year, will teach mathematics in the high school and Mr. Brumbaugh, who was principal of the Dedham, Ia., school last year, will teach history in the central school.

Married at Decatur, Ill. Miss Opal Orr, of Prospect, went to Decatur, Ill., and there met Wayne Ferguson, of Centralia, Ill., and were married Wednesday evening. Mr. Ferguson has been traveling as agent for the Gold Medal Flour company, and will locate at Centralia. Miss Orr is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Orr, and has been teaching in the Jefferson township schools. Mr. Ferguson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ferguson, of Ossian.

Bluffton Brief Items. Mrs. Noah Runyan was severely scalded Tuesday evening when she stumbled over a boiler of water which splashed over her left foot and leg.

Seven men will leave Bluffton, September 6, in the first group of 5 per cent of the total quota.

The Bluffton churches will give a reception for the young men of Wells county taken in the draft. A committee composed of P. A. Allen, Dr. Louis Severin, Alfred Saurer and M. M. Justus has been selected to arrange details.

G. Rollin Osborn has resigned as history teacher in the central school to teach in the Mt. Zion school.

Raymond Burgen has written to his mother, Mrs. Edith Burgen, stating that he has been moved from Fort Benjamin Harrison to Fort Arras, Mass., and that he has been made a corporal in the medical department.

Bluffton people were invited to a reception that will be given Thursday evening at Decatur in honor of Company A, which is soon to leave for Fort Benjamin Harrison. Company A came to Bluffton by automobile Tuesday evening and gave a public drill. They were then marched to the Blks' club, where luncheon was served. They were then entertained at a theater party.

Frank Willis has gone to Arlington, Ind., to be at the bedside of his father, George Willis, who is in a critical condition.

Traffic on the C. B. & C. railroad was delayed Tuesday evening and Wednesday, when three cars of a freight train were derailed at the Union traction crossing.

Homer Mitchell and family are arranging to move from Hartford City to Bluffton.

Homer Fetzer, of Lafayette, visited in this city Tuesday on route to Nashua, Minnesota, to teach in the high school there. He taught at Bear Lake, Minn., last year.

J. S. Murrell, of Port Arthur, Tex., is visiting his daughters, Mrs. Chauncey Dragoo and Miss Azalia Murrell. He had not seen his daughters for five years until he arrived here this week.

N. E. Jackson and family, of Pennsylvania, W. Va., are moving to Ossian. Harriet Hiestler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hiestler, has returned from Newcastle, where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russell.

IS TOUGH ON BOY EMPEROR

The Off-Again on Again Off-Again Ruler of China is Suffering. STRENUOUS GIVES A NERVOUS SHOCK Youngster Did Not Want to Return to Throne, It is Proved.

Peking, July 27.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Hsuan Tung, the 13-year-old boy emperor, who was unwillingly dragged back upon the Manchu throne in the interest of ambitious military leaders, and quite unceremoniously deposed again, suffered a bad nervous shock as a result of the bombardment of the forbidden city by the republican forces and was quite ill for some time. The little emperor has recovered, however, but is very unhappy over the proposed cancellation of the preferential treatment for the royal family.

Did Not Want to Return. Edicts were issued by Gen. Chang Hsuan in the name of the child emperor making it appear that he was willingly returning to the throne. This was quite untrue. Neither the young emperor nor any of the members of the Tching household started the monarchial restoration. They realized that it was untimely and ill-supported, but lacked strength to resist. Prince Pu Lun, who is really the head of the Tching household and the guardian of the emperor, was especially active in his opposition to the monarchial restoration.

Would Cancel Allowance. Republicans are emphatic in their demand that the annual allowance of $2,000,000 silver given to the Tching household shall be cancelled. They ask also that the imperial family be banished to some interior point, deprived of all titles and imperial rights and guarded carefully, that it may not again become the prey of ambitious military leaders. Kang-Ku-Wei, the tutor of the boy emperor, who was one of the chief conspirators with General Hsuan, is a refugee in the legation quarter in Peking. The republican forces are especially indignant at Kang-Ku-Wei and are making strenuous efforts to have him punished for his part in the monarchial fiasco.

LOCKRIDGE IN THE CITY. Ross F. Lockridge, secretary of the Citizens' League of Indiana, was a business visitor in Fort Wayne Wednesday. Mr. Lockridge was a former resident of this city. He is now located at Indianapolis.

AT THE MAJESTIC

"THE 13TH CHAIR" TONIGHT.

Company to Play Here is Same That Goes to Chicago.

Manager Essig takes pleasure in announcing that the company which will present "The 13th Chair" at the Majestic theater tonight is the same one that will offer the play at the Garrick theater in Chicago for a long engagement commencing Sunday night. The production will be the same as was seen for a solid year at the 43rd street theater in New York, where the play enjoyed the distinction of being the biggest dramatic hit of the past season.

Annie Russell, the best beloved stage favorite until she retired four years ago, resumes her footlight career by appearing in the central role. Her reputation together with the record established by the play in Gotham should pack the Majestic tonight and tomorrow night.

"The 13th Chair" was written by Bayard Veiller, author of "Within the Law," and the New York critics declared that his latest work is his best, a very significant statement when it is considered the enormous popularity enjoyed by the former. William Harris, Jr., is the producer.

The play derives its name from the fact that the occupant of the thirteenth chair at a spiritualistic seance during which a murder mystery is being investigated is murdered precisely as was the victim of the other crime. There are thirteen persons present and they are seated in a circle, each holding another's hand. Rosalie La Grange, an aged medium, is conducting the seance and she is being pined with questions concerning the murder by the occupant of the thirteenth chair. Suddenly moans and cries of anguish are heard and the lights are snapped on, revealing the dead body of the questioner on the floor. The doors and windows had been fastened before the seance began and the medium had been dead securely in her chair. The plot of the play revolves around the investigation and solution of this mystery. As can be surmised, thrills and surprises follow in rapid succession, relieved occasionally by mirth-provoking incidents.

Throughout there is a delightful love story in which a man's staunch devotion is put to severe test.

Miss Russell enacts the role of the medium, while DeWitt Jennings will be seen as the inspector of police. Others in the cast are Esther Cornell, Ryder Keane, Fred Eric, Reginald Carrington, Belle D'Arcy, Millard Vincent, George Shaeffer, Constance Beaumar, Judith Ives, Cliff Worman, May Jennings, Kenneth Miner and Helen Freuborn.

won her a decidedly warm spot in the affections of local amusement seekers, tops the bill that opened this afternoon at the New Palace for the remainder of the week. This ebullient personage a year ago established a new record for laughs at the New Palace and judging from the inquiries received at the theater Fort Wayne has been looking forward eagerly to a return engagement.

The bill has several other prime favorites with local folks. The versatile quartet of black face funsters, two girls and two men known as Fay, two Coleys and Fay, also are on this program as is La Graciosa the divinely formed girl, whose poses this season are to be done with some exceptionally brilliant lighting effects. Booth and Leander, the cyclist and the nut, in their knockabout comedy acrobatics; the Four American Beauties, a rich travesty number, and Bingham and West, two smart talking and singing folks, are others on the bill.

AT THE GRAND.

"The Vengeance of Durand" featuring Earl Williams and Edith Storey, will be shown today for the last time.

The large crowd that attended the show yesterday was more than pleased with this fine production. The story is one of Rex Beach's most famous novels, and portrays it in such a straightforward way that any child can understand it.

Next week a two-reel comedy entitled "A Regiment of Two" will be presented. In this subject "seven great stars" will appear. Don't fail to see them.

HUNDREDS OF CHILDREN ARE AT ROBISON PARK

The fact that the annual Romp day celebration at Robison park was postponed from Wednesday to Thursday on account of rain had no effect on the attendance. Hundreds of children were at the park early to take part in the day's festivities.

One of the big features of Romp day was the greased pole. The first boy climbing to the top will be awarded five hundred copper pennies for his trouble. Many other amusements have been provided by Manager C. H. Williams.

CHEESE AND GREENS ROLL.

Cook two quarts of spinach, Swiss chard or other greens. Drain and dress with one tablespoonful of butter. Chop and add one cupful of grated cheese and breadcrumbs enough to make a mixture sufficiently stiff to form into a roll. Place in oblong pan and cook in moderate oven for twenty minutes. When cold the mixture may be sliced in one-half inch pieces and serve on lettuce leaves with salad dressing. If desired leave the mixture more moist and bake in casserole or baking dish and serve hot.

An oil useful in the manufacture of soap is obtained from grape seeds in Argentina.

DEATH CALLS SCHOOL HEAD

Prof. J. N. Study Succumbed to Heart Attack After Brief Illness.

LED CITY SCHOOLS TWENTY-ONE YEARS

Was Educator of National Repute and Mason of Highest Degree.

Death has turned the last leaf in the text book of life for Prof. Justin N. Study, superintendent of the Fort Wayne schools for the past twenty-one years.

Prof. Study died in his easy chair, in his home at 624 East Wayne street, at 6:30 Wednesday evening. Heart failure was the cause of his demise.

PROF. JUSTIN N. STUDY.

He had been ill but three weeks and during the past two days was thought to be rallying. His wife and his three children, who had been summoned to his bed side, two weeks before, and who were filled with hope of the father's recovery, on Wednesday, were with Prof. Study when he passed away. He had talked but a moment before. Death came with a tick of the hall clock.

A student, scholar, school man for nearly fifty years and a thirty-third degree Mason, Prof. N. Study led a life of advancement and usefulness to the hour of his death. He was seventy-one years old last February.

Three hours before he expired Prof. Study held a conference with E. W. Cook, of the Fort Wayne school board. He confirmed the list of teachers for the city schools, which had been prepared by the board. The action seemed to take a weight from Prof. Study's mind. He slept for more than an hour after Mr. Cook had gone.

Had National Reputation. Prof. Study held a national reputation as an educator. He served one year as vice president of the National Educational association. He never failed to attend the February meeting of the national organization, in which school superintendents were given special consideration.

He had been a member of the Indiana board of education since he came to the Fort Wayne schools, twenty-one years ago. Only W. W. Parsons, president of the state board, had been a member of the state organization longer than Prof. Study.

Professor Study was a prominent Mason. He took his final degree in Boston in 1912. He served as eminent commander of the Fort Wayne commandery, Knights Templar, in 1902 and 1903. He was a member of the Royal Arch and other Masonic orders. The blue lodge at Richmond, Ind., bears his name.

He was also a member of the finance committee of the senate of the National Union, an insurance organization.

Born in Indiana. Justin Nelson Study was born on a farm near Williamsburg, Wayne county, Indiana, in February, 1846. His parents moved to Hagerstown, Ind., when he was a small boy. He attended a private academy at that place. From early boyhood he was interested in educational pursuits.

When a young man J. N. Study started to college at Ohio Wesleyan college, Delaware, Ohio. He obtained his A. B. degree in 1871 and his Master of Arts degree in 1874.

In 1874, a few months after his graduation from college, he married Isabella Wiggins of Hagerstown, who survives as his widow. He reading of law, which he followed during his school vacations. He was about to open up a law office in Anderson, Ind., when he was offered the position as head of the Anderson schools, in September, 1871.

Professor Study was head of the Anderson schools for ten years. In 1874 he was granted leave to return to Ohio Wesleyan college and to obtain his Master's degree.

Organized Fraternity. In 1881, Professor Study went to Greencastle to take charge of the city schools. He was at Greencastle three years. While there he organized a chapter of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity in De Pauw university.

He accepted the superintendency of the Richmond schools in 1884. For twelve years he led the educational plan of that city. It was his efficient work in Richmond which made him the subject of a call from Fort Wayne.

Built City Schools.

Professor Study has virtually built the present Fort Wayne city school system. Hardly a school building is standing which was here when he came to the city to take charge of education.

There were fourteen grade schools and the high school building in the city when Professor Study took charge here. Today there are seventeen grade schools, an enlarged high school, a vocational school, an open air school and a normal.

The school attendance in the city has been nearly doubled in the years that Professor Study has controlled the educational plan. There were 5,207 pupils in the Fort Wayne schools twenty-one years ago and at present the enrollment is more than 9,000.

Professor Study's understanding of law was a valuable asset to him in his work of administering the school affairs. He was a leader in the movement for obtaining a pension for teachers.

He introduced and perfected the kindergarten plan in the Fort Wayne schools. He was a constant student of schools affairs and kept the city plan in step with all modern innovations. His school record for the Fort Wayne schools has been hailed as the most perfect in the state.

Prof. Study kept in close personal touch with the city teachers, who worked under him. It is said of him that he knew all of the 300 teachers of the Fort Wayne schools personally.

His connection with the school board has been one of congenial consultations. There was perfect harmony in the school system. Board members agreed, when Prof. Study became ill, three weeks ago, that his place should be reserved for him as long as he felt able to handle the school affairs of the city.

The school board members held a meeting Thursday morning at 3 o'clock to discuss the temporary plan of opening the city schools. No move towards obtaining a successor to Prof. Study will be made for several days, the board gives out. It is thought, however, there will be no postponement of the schools.

Secretary Many Years. Miss Elizabeth Doan, who has been secretary to Prof. Study for more than thirty years, will continue to handle the affairs of the office. She will have charge of the routine matters of the school system until reorganization takes place. She is expected to continue in her office after the reorganization is completed.

Miss Doan was given much credit by Prof. Study for the marked success of his work. She has been most loyal in her task. She was graduated from the Richmond high school and was taken into Prof. Study's office during the first year of his work there. She was later brought to Fort Wayne to act as secretary.

Another person who has been most closely associated with Prof. Study during his years of effort in Fort Wayne is Conrad Liedoff, janitor in chief of the city schools. Liedoff has been a janitor in Fort Wayne schools for forty years. He was placed at the head of the corps of janitors during the first year that Prof. Study took up his duties here.

Children Are Here. Surviving besides the widow of Prof. J. N. Study are three daughters, Miss Margery Study, at home; Mrs. Joseph Harper, of Dallas, Texas, and Mrs. Gibson Sisco, of Toledo, Ohio. All the children are now at the Study home.

They were called here two weeks ago and have remained since that time.

Joseph Harper, who came from Texas to the southern state when it was believed that Prof. Study was recovering, Wednesday. Mr. Harper had been called as far as Chicago when he was halted by a message which announced the death of Prof. Study. Mr. Harper returned to Fort Wayne at once.

So encouraging were the reports from the sick room of Prof. Study, on Wednesday, that the bright message of his promised recovery was delivered to the Allen county teachers, who were assembled in the county institute, at the high school building, Wednesday afternoon.

Burial at Hagerstown. The remains of the eminent school man will be laid to rest in the cemetery at Hagerstown. There the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Study, which children died in infancy, are buried. There the parents of Prof. Study are buried also. The father of the professor died but three years ago, at the age of ninety years. Like Prof. Study he had never known a serious illness until his last sickness.

Funeral Friday Morning. The body will be taken to the Scottish Rite cathedral at Clinton and Washington streets at 9 o'clock Friday morning, where it will lie in state until the hour of the funeral services at 10:30 o'clock. The services will be under the auspices of the Scottish Rite Masons, with Rev. C. Claud Travis, D. D., pastor of the Wayne Street M. E. church, officiating.

Active pall-bearers will be all 33rd degree Masons and will be as follows: Gaylord M. Leslie, Charles A. Wilding, William C. Goske, Charles E. Read, Willis E. Hattersley and Ed C. Miller. Six Knights Templar will act as guard of honor while the body lies in state. The remains will be shipped over the C. & I. road at 12:25 (standard time) for Hagerstown, Ind., where the body will be interred.

LIVE WIRES' SESSION ENDS

Insurance Salesmen of the Lincoln Life Leave for Their Homes.

Annual Banquet at Anthony Featured by Addresses of Officers.

The three day convention of the Lincoln Life Insurance company's live wires came to a close here Thursday with the ending of the morning session. The entertainment for the big salesmen of the company reached its climax in a big banquet at the Anthony hotel Wednesday evening at which time talks were made commending the work done by the members of the Lincoln Life Insurance company.

The program of Wednesday afternoon which was to have consisted of a baseball game, outdoor sports and an auto tour of the city, and postponed until Tuesday because of wet weather was curtailed because of the desire on the part of many salesmen to make early afternoon trains in leaving the city after the actual business sessions were over.

Thursday morning the salesmen were instructed in the lines of the various departments of the Lincoln Life Insurance company with a view of placing them on a more intimate basis with the work being done by the men in the home office. Beside the program of instructive speaking which was carried out as arranged the work of various departments was gone into in detail. Thursday morning's program, which was started Wednesday afternoon, was finished and the event scheduled for the afternoon's session, a talk by Walter T. Shepherd, vice president and manager of agencies, on "The L-M-L" agency organization, was given. The various departments were represented by the managers, which included the executive department, by Arthur F. Hall; medical, by Dr. H. C. English and Dr. B. A. Barlow; actuarial, Franklin B. Mead; policy, by Miss A. H. O'Rourke; auditing, by E. H. Redding, R. J. Stoner and Earl L. Carvin; legal, by B. N. Nide; agency, by Miss M. E. Shreve.

The keynote of the banquet, which was one of the best of the annual affairs ever given by the company, according to those present, to its salesmen was enthusiasm, and it fairly bubbled over in the speeches and actions of all officers and salesmen of the company. It was a meeting of those successful in the sales end of the company, and to their enthusiasm each attributed his degree of success, and this formed the theme for a great many of the after-dinner speeches.

President Foster Toastmaster. Samuel M. Foster, president of the company, presided as toastmaster and introduced the speakers. Mr. Foster told the banquet that there were two schools of educators and that they divided along the lines of a classical or a cultural education and a practical one. He declared that the same thing held for the insurance business and that it was the practical men who do the things that make the wheels go around. He told the salesmen that they were present because they had the right to be and had won that right.

Arthur F. Hall, vice president of the company, told briefly the history of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company and sketched its growth in twelve years. He declared that several men got together twelve years ago and decided that they ought to have a company for their own home town, one that Fort Wayne could be proud of, but were told by the skeptical that it could not be done. Mr. Hall pointed out a few salient features of the company's organization, saying that there is no such thing as stock control and that the entire board of directors owned only forty-one per cent of the stock of the company. He said that consequently no one held positions except by merit, and that no relation or friends of officers were handed out positions. The company had built up such an organization that it would be unimpaired by the death or retirement of any of its members. He declared that the company had built for permanency.

Hanna on Program. Robert B. Hanna was introduced by the toastmaster as one of the best postmasters the city ever had. Mr. Hanna talked on perpetual organization, and declared the lack of foresight by men in municipal offices for periods of four years who did not build for years to come.

T. D. Hughes, vice president and manager of the Northwestern agency of Fargo, North Dakota, spoke briefly from some of his experiences in the insurance business in the west. Irving Williams, editor of Rough Notes, a trade magazine published at Indianapolis, was the last speaker of the evening. Mr. Williams praised the standard set by the Lincoln Life Insurance companies as one of the highest in the country, and pointed to the fact that its growth was almost unparalleled by any western insurance company.

The vice president, Mr. Hall, presented the gifts donated by the company. Mr. Fowler was presented the Hall loving cup for the biggest amount of business done by an agency in the month of May. This same organization has received the cup twice, once before in 1911. The third awarding means it becomes the property of the agency.

Guy J. Gilbert and Harry Askew, of the same agency, were given umbrellas for the business they had secured. Mr. Gilbert, Lawrence Johns and Edward Larrier, of North Dakota, received traveling bags for "having perfect batting averages." Mr. Fowler was given another prize, a loving cup for writing the largest amount in premiums in May.

Mr. Gilbert and O. F. Gilliom received checks of $100 each for the big business done.

ELKS WILL DISCUSS WAR RELIEF FUND

Local Assessment is $3,300 or $2.50 for Each Lodge Member.

At the regular meeting to be held Thursday night at the temple, members of the lodge of Elks will discuss raising Fort Wayne's share of the $1,000,000 war relief fund. Fort Wayne's assessment is $3,300, or about $2.50 per man. Another matter that will probably be discussed will be conducting a referendum among the members to determine whether the new Country club shall be purchased.

The social committee of the Elks, together with the men who helped them in the arrangement for the big picnic which was held in July, met in a get-together dinner at the Elks Country club last night. Harry Volrol's mandolin orchestra furnished music and talks were given by Harry Hogan, exalted ruler; Charles A. Spanley, chairman of the social session committee; Harry A. Hattersley, Frank Hamilton and others. Those present were: Harry G. Hogan, Charles A. Spanley, Guy W. Kite, Gaylord S. Morton, Stephen A. Callahan, Louis F. Crosby, Dr. A. G. Emrick, Henry J. Taylor, Robert Dickson, H. A. Van Ausdel, Maurice C. Niezer, Charles E. Hanna, H. A. Hanes, Victor Blough, Ed H. Schuckman, John W. Thompson, Charles G. Lee, Gates D. Horton, J. Eugene Martin, William A. Bayer, Dr. Charles J. Rothschild, Robert Orniston, John J. Alt, Harry Volrol, Harold Clark, Frank G. Hamilton, Harry A. Hattersley, Otto Nahrwald, Ben J. Ankenbruck, William Ruchel, Jules J. Agne, J. J. Cavaller, Clem J. Lantier, Louis C. Blase, H. C. W. Shafer, Frank Kloor, A. J. Moeller, W. J. Ungemach, William F. Ranke, William C. Schwieler, C. B. Bryson, Clem Fox, Otto P. Strudel, Edwin C. A. Ortleib, Charles E. Crum, George F. Sander and A. C. Heckler.

W. R. C. Meets Friday. The Woman's Relief corps of St. S. Bass post, G. A. R., will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Coleman. Another patriotic tea will be given on the first Friday in September. Two applications were received and favorably acted upon at the last meeting.

To Resume Sessions. Following an intermission in August because of the hot weather, the sessions of the Sarah C. White tent, Daughters of Veterans, will be resumed Saturday night.

TO BE OUT IN MONTH OF BLUSHING BRIDES

Lewis Beamer Has Habit of Taking Money and Must Pay the Penalty.

When the blushing brides are led to the hymeneal altar next June Lewis Beamer, a lifelong resident of Fort Wayne, will emerge from the bolted doors of the state penitentiary. He was fined $100 and sentenced for 180 days to the farm in police court Thursday morning on a charge of petit larceny. He had had three previous convictions, two for petit larceny and one for grand larceny. For the latter offense he served time in the state penitentiary.

Beamer was arrested after the Maier Fur and Hide company missed $2.85 from the company's cash drawer last Monday. Beamer told that he was in the habit of taking things, but could not account for his actions. He said he had been trying to lead a good life.

Cases Continued. The case against Everett Cary, charged with child neglect, was continued to Friday morning, bond fixed at $100. Cary was brought back from Detroit by Ed O'Connor, police clerk.

The court also continued the case against Alex Betley, who is charged with petit larceny. His case will be heard Friday morning.

Attacked by Brother-in-Law. Mrs. Jenkins, who was assaulted and beat up by her brother-in-law, appeared in court with evidence of the beating. She carries a highly discolored right eye where it came in contact with Jenkins' fist. The case will be tried Friday morning.

Other Cases. The "drunks" were disposed of as follows: Charles Strohm was let go; Charles Graft, $1 and costs; Blair Wormons, $5 and costs; Arthur Brown and Ira Sibel will appear before the judge Friday morning.

AUSTRALIA BARRED TO LARKIN. Melbourne, Aug. 29.—(Delayed.)—Questioned in parliament today concerning a report that James Larkin, head of the Transport Workers union in England, and well known as a strike leader, is on his way to Australia, Premier Hughes said instructions had been given to prevent the landing of Larkin anywhere in Australia.

SOCIAL TONIGHT. A social will be given this evening at Weisser park by the Jefferson drum corps, the proceeds to be used for the purchase of uniforms and equipment for the organization.

ACTING ON CITY LISTS

Appeal Board Starts Work of Examining Claims from Second District.

TO RETURN DOCKETS AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

Selection of First Five Percent Will Then Be Made by Boards.

Work of examining the appeals from the three city districts was begun Thursday morning by the appeal board of the Second Indiana district. The appeal board will conclude its work on the city appeals as soon as possible and they will return the dockets to the various boards as early as possible so that the selection of the first 5 per cent of men who are to leave can be made.

It is known that one of the boards in the city has already selected several men who have had experience and who will be included in the first 5 per cent of men to go to Fort Taylor at Louisville, Ky.

Now He Isn't 21. The members of the county board run onto a strange case which they have deferred action on not knowing what decision to make.

A certain young man who is employed at the Fort Wayne Electric works was registered on registration day. He was called in on the first call and passed the physical examination. He had no claim for exemption to make. Now he comes to the board with his mother, father and some more relatives who carry with them a bible and family records and swears that he is not 21 years of age.

He stated to the board that his reason for registering when he was not 21 years of age was in order to hold his position which required that he be 21 years of age. Some of the members of the board call it "a little game."

Appeal Board. The appeal board for district No. 2 has announced the following findings:

SCHOOLBOYS IN FEDERAL JOBS GET THEIR PAY

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 30.—Probably the first payment ever made by the United States government to school boys for army contract work was recorded today when a war department check was received here to pay high school students for the manufacture of tent peas supplied several weeks ago. The check for $125.87 is drawn to Charles C. Hegel of the civilian service and labor department of the Pennsylvania committee of public safety. Dr. Hegel, superintendent of the West Philadelphia high school, obtained the tent peas contract for the boys of the several high schools in this city and 10,458 wooden pegs were turned out in the school wood working shops of the government. Five pegs or "pins" as the soldiers call them, are supplied to each infantryman and are used to peg down the "dog" tents furnishing shelter in active campaigning.

BREAKS ANKLE AT HOSPITAL. Mrs. C. S. Ridenour, county president of the W. C. T. U., is suffering with a broken ankle, which she sustained while at the Hope hospital watching the operation on her grandson. She was overcome by the fumes of ether and fell to the floor, the fracture resulting. All of her engagements were cancelled for the present.

WILL GRANT ROLLS TO TOTAL $29,958

Board of Works to Pass on Eleven Improvements at Session.

Assessment rolls totaling $29,958 will be confirmed by the board of works at their Tuesday night session. Six paving jobs are included in the eleven improvements to be passed upon by the board.

The final action will be taken on the following improvements: Cement sidewalks on both sides of Ohio street, from Maumee avenue to Hayden street, and on the east side of Pauline street, from Taylor to Hale avenue, and on the east side of Beaver avenue, from Federal street to Rudisill boulevard; paving of Thompson avenue, from Guthrie street to Eagle street and Hoagland avenue, from Cornell circle to Lexington drive and Pasadena drive, from Cornell circle to Hoagland avenue, and Oakwood drive, from South Wayne street to Indiana avenue, and Oliver street, from Hannan street to Oliver street, and paving the alley south of Creighton avenue, from Fox avenue to Minor street, and sewers in the alley north of Rudisill boulevard, from Beaver avenue to Indiana avenue, and in the alley between Smith street and Oliver street, from the alley north of Rudisill boulevard to Eckart street.

SURE GO. Band Concert is Expected to be Given This Time.

There will be no more delays in the giving of the last band concert of the season. The program, which will be rendered Friday night by the Citizens' band, under the direction of Paul Rietsch, follows:

March, Trumpeter ..... Loss
Overture, New Era ..... Heed
Boys in Blue ..... Laurendeau
Caprice, Simplicity ..... Lee
Medley, Songs from the Old Folks ..... Lake
Song, Sailing Away on the Henry Clay ..... Alstyne
Selection, Sunny South ..... Cobb
Star Spangled Banner ..... Key

Birth Record. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John Bahlinger, 1822 Broadway—a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Paulus, 1913 Garden street—a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomas, 1236 Jones street—a girl.

Letters are rolling into the park board office announcing the intentions of park heads of Indiana cities to come to Fort Wayne for the state meeting September 18 and 17. There should be several score of park officials at the gathering, which will convene at the Anthony hotel.

MANY INQUIRIES REGARDING CLASSES

Prospective Students Consult With Prof. Shockley About Branch University.

Since the opening of the office in the court house relative to the opening of a branch of Indiana university in this city this fall, hundreds of people have called upon Prof. F. W. Shockley to make inquiries.

Few people realize that the Indiana university center, established in this city, will serve as a junior university to the high school graduates who cannot leave home this year to continue their studies. Many educators advocate the maintenance of one or two years' university work in large cities as an extension of the high school. They claim that it is economical and will encourage more young people to start a college career.

The extension center has arranged its courses so that a high school graduate may take the college freshman work at home. The following courses are open to freshmen: English composition, two hours a week; English literature, three hours a week; Elementary French, five hours a week; and mathematics, five hours a week. The university permits freshmen work residence to carry fifteen hours work each semester, but an ambitious student can carry enough extra work to graduate in three remaining years. Many young people just out of high school have to work a year before entering college. This necessity may not permit carrying a maximum amount of extension work. They should, by all means, take one or two courses so as to keep up the habit of study and enter next year with advanced credits. The classes will be held in the late afternoon and evening for the accommodation of those who have to spend the day at some gainful occupation.

FRENCH SUBMARINE LOSSES. Paris, Aug. 30.—Out of the 320 ships which entered and the 1,013 which cleared from French ports during the week ending August 26, three ships of more than 1,600 tons and one vessel of less than 1,600 tons were sunk by submarines or mines. Four vessels were attacked unsuccessfully by submarines in the same period.

FIRE IN RUSSIAN CITY. Petrograd, Aug. 30.—Many persons were injured in a fire which broke out in the city of Kazan, on the Kezazeika river, 430 miles east of Moscow on Monday. The flames spread rapidly and caused much destruction. Martial law has been proclaimed.

STUDY'S DEATH MEANS LOSS

Dean Barr Tells Teachers of Nation Wide Regret.

Representative of Defense Council on Institute Program.

Dean W. G. Barr, of the Allen county institute, in addressing the teachers Thursday morning, deplored the untimely death of Prof. J. N. Study, superintendent of Fort Wayne schools. Dean Barr told the teachers that Superintendent Study was an educator of nation-wide prominence and that his death was distinctly felt all over the United States, as well as in the city of Fort Wayne.

As a special tribute to Superintendent Study, Miss Anna M. Philley, teacher and dramatic reader, was asked to read Kipling's poem, "Last Word." To the assemblage of teachers for the afternoon's program. An announcement was also read at the afternoon meeting from the city board of education saying that all teachers who wished to attend the funeral services of the late superintendent of schools, J. N. Study, at the Scottish Rite cathedral Friday morning, might report at the usual time for the institute and go from there, and that all teachers who attended at Friday morning's session of the institute, the announcement was signed by Prof. F. W. Miles.

Rolls of Council of Defense. Appropos of the Boys' Working Reserve movement in the state of Indiana, Rev. Alfred H. Backus, of Dunkirk, representing the government and the Indiana State Council of Defense, addressed the institute on the relation of questions of vital importance of the day and what the attitude of the teachers would be. He declared that any teacher who remained passive and unwilling to put himself out at this time is a slacker teacher just the same as any business or factory which was only putting out half of its possible output was a slacker factory. The speaker said:

"What sort of emphasis are you going to put on the facts as they exist? What is your attitude going to be?" He said that he had met people over the state who would make a statement predicated with "I am a good American, but—I don't think that America ought to have gone into this war, or that soldiers ought to be conscripted." Rev. Backus said that these people had been living under the benefits of the Stars and Stripes for a good many years but that when the time for service comes to the flag they were ready to shift the responsibility. He told the teachers to impart the truth to the pupils whom they would face soon to start the year's work, and make them ready when the time comes to defend their country.

Keep Children in School. The speaker urged that the children be kept in school, and not be lured away by the financial rewards of industrial work now because of the greater opportunity which would come later and the great need which the country would have for these same pupils if they went through the right training, which he said was in line with President Wilson's idea on the subject.

Rev. Backus preached conservation to the teachers and told them to teach the pupils conservation and the doctrine of "clean plates." He said that through the efforts principally of Governor James P. Goodrich, Indiana had been placed at the head of all states in the boys' working reserve work together with Connecticut.

Dr. Gordy's subject for the morning address was "Representative Men and Typical Events." Singing, led by Professor Stophar and readings by Miss Philley featured the program. The invocation was delivered by Rev. C. Claud Travis, D. D. of the Wayne Street Methodist Episcopal church.

IS FAR AHEAD IN ACCOUNTING FOR GERMANS IN WAR

Paris, Aug. 30.—Allen, son of Richard Blount, of St. Louis, who joined the foreign legion in April, has written to his father that he has been proposed for the war cross with palm for taking thirty prisoners single handed in the fighting at Verdun. He was wounded slightly in the hand.

KUCHER IMPROVES. T. J. Kucher, of the Curdes Realty company, who has been on the sick list for the past two weeks, is much improved and expects to be able to resume his duties within a short time.

Rev. H. B. Hostetter and family have returned from their summer vacation spent at Crookston lake. Rev. Hostetter will speak at both services at the Third Presbyterian church next Sunday.

GERMAN SUBJECTS NOT TO BE CALLED

County Clerk David Stout Gets Notification from Washington, D. C.

Subjects of Germany are not to be notified to appear in court to secure their second papers of naturalization on September 4, according to word received Thursday by County Clerk David C. Stout from J. J. Schlofeldt, acting chairman of the naturalization examining board.

When Deputy Wilson, of Chicago, was in this city he conferred with Judge Egeman on this subject and it was agreed that no German subjects would be allowed in the courts during the war.

With this ruling in effect it will probably require but a day to examine the remainder of the applicants for citizenship papers.

SUCCESSOR NAMED. Calvin H. Brown Becomes Chief Deputy Auditor Under Will Johnson.

County Auditor Will Johnson feels highly elated and considers himself fortunate in securing the services of Calvin H. Brown as a successor to Jay Brown, his son, who resigned and will become associated with the Tri-State Trust and Loan company. Calvin Brown served as deputy auditor for four years and then was elected as auditor for four years, during which time he learned the business from beginning to end.

Bids for Hospital. The county commissioners will receive bids for the erection of the new tuberculosis hospital on October 25. Two previous attempts to let the contract have failed and the commissioners hope that the old adage of "third time is charm" will prove true in this case.

Big Mortgage Released. The Equitable Trust company, of New York, has filed a mortgage release with the county recorder which involves $1,600,000. The mortgage was held on the Bass Foundry and Machine shop. The mortgage was recorded January 15, 1915.

Report Is Favorable. The viewers of the Bandeller road in Jefferson township has filed a favorable report on the vacation of the road.

Contract Is Awarded. A contract for the bridge on the St. Joe road sometimes known as Notesville's bridge, was awarded to Herman Tapp by the county commissioners, Tuesday morning on a submitted bid of $810. There were four bids submitted. The repairs on the bridge came about as the result of a washout.

Nagged and Pound Fault. Blanche E. South has sued Walter A. South for divorce, alleging that the defendant continuously nagged at her and found fault with everything. She also complains that he called her vile and profane names and ill-treated her in many ways. She asks for $1,500 alimony and an order restraining him from molesting her and enjoining the G. R. & L. Railroad company from paying the defendant his wages.

Court House Personals. Art Lamont, deputy clerk of the superior court, has returned from a brief outing at Lake George and brought with him a small mouthed bass which weighed four pounds and ten ounces.

Charles Rulo, deputy sheriff, is reported as spending the day at Robison park romping with the children. Mr. Rulo is a lover of children. Deputy Clerk Elfreda Stegner is spending a few days' vacation at Rome City.

Marriage Licenses. Hugo B. Herbst, farmer, to Gladys E. Smith.

Frank Ganz, furnace puddler, to Nina M. Summers.

Delta H. Roeb, farmer, to Irene M. Bennett.

VOTE REGISTRATIONS COME IN SLOWLY

More Than 22,000 Citizens Must Sign to Reach City Quota.

With the voting force of Fort Wayne yet 22,000 short of its full quota there was a lull in the activity of ballot signers on Thursday morning. Only a dozen men appeared at the city hall and registered for their vote privilege.

Registration clerks make the request that notary publics, who have been aiding in the signing work, bring their filled lists to the central office. This action is needed in order that it may be ascertained how many more blanks must be purchased.

Registration places for Thursday night are as follows:

Meyer Bros' drug store, 2002 Broadway, corner Taylor. Abersmeyer drug store, 1402 Wells. D. F. Michaels drug store, 2617 Lafayette, corner Pontiac. F. W. Steinhorn drug store, 1028 High.

Meyer Bros' drug store, 1420 Calhoun.

Wayne Pharmacy, Harrison and Berry.

Dreier Bros drug store, Calhoun and Columbia.

Also any day or evening: Phil Koehlinger drug store, 901 East Washington.

Jacob Bill drug store, 1401 East Creighton.

Lakeside Pharmacy, Columbia and St. Joe boulevard.

Joe Hutzell drug store, 1402 West Main.

LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON

Major Thomas F. Ryan, of Recruiting Station, Off for National Capital.

OFFICIAL BUSINESS HIS SOLE MISSION

Marching Orders for Two Companies Have Not Arrived as Yet.

Maj. Thomas F. Ryan, in charge of the United States regular army recruiting station in Fort Wayne, left for Washington, D. C., Thursday afternoon. Official business is his mission to the national capital and he expects to return to Fort Wayne by Saturday.

His exact mission to the national capital is not disclosed, due perhaps, to war censorship.

Marching orders for Company E and Company B have not been received as yet. At least they had not been at a late hour this afternoon. Men and officers are alike anxiously awaiting the order and the general opinion prevails that the boys will leave Sunday or Labor day.

Twenty-five men were sent from the Fort Wayne recruiting office to Fort Thomas, Ky., Wednesday evening. Company E received a new recruit Thursday morning by the route of the regular army recruiting station. He is Anthony R. Berkley.

E. L. Conklin, of this city, and a member of Company B, signal corps, was seized with a severe attack of appendicitis Wednesday and he was immediately removed to St. Joseph's hospital, where an operation was performed by Dr. H. O. Bruggeman, of the officers' medical reserve.

Members of the signal corps now encamped at the Lincoln school were engaged Wednesday and Thursday in drawing maps of the country surrounding the school.

The company also reports that after trying all kinds of stoves for cooking purposes that they have now decided upon a coal range which is giving satisfactory service.

Company E members have begun the organization of two societies within their ranks. The organizations are to be known as the "Officers" and the "Scrumptious." The societies are to be partly military and partly social in character. The men think that much good can be accomplished and the officers are to bear military titles from colonel on down.

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE.

Virgil Weaver Writes a Letter to His Parents.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weaver, of 637 Prospect avenue are in receipt of a letter from their son Virgil, who enlisted Feb. 1, 1917, and is one of the younger soldiers of this city in active service "somewhere in France." He is 18 years of age. An extract from the letter follows:

"I am well and enjoying myself, although I wish I was back in the good old U. S. A. I can't tell you much about the people here or where we are, but it seems strange to hear people talk and you can't understand what they say only by signs and motions."

"They have a fine Y. M. C. A. here, and plenty to read. You don't feel so very lonely after all. They have a French class at the Y. M. C. A. in the evenings, and you can learn French well enough to buy things at the stores and be understood pretty well. The towns have so many windings that you are always misled up."

Wolverines Cinch Pennant by Third Win Over Fort Wayne

No Chance for Rapids to Lose Goufalon of 1917.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 30.—When Grand Rapids defeated Fort Wayne here yesterday 5 to 3 the pennant in the Central league was put beyond the reach of all the other clubs for the season of 1917, which winds up on Labor day. Grand Rapids clinched the pennant beyond any possibility of losing it. While the leaders were winning from the Chiefs, Springfield, the nearest rivals of the Wolverines, which ended the hopes of the Reapers of overhauling the leaders. Grand Rapids can now lose all the remaining games on her schedule and Springfield can win all those remaining on her schedule without changing the result. The win yesterday was the third straight by Grand Rapids over the Fort Wayne besides being the eleventh straight for the leaders and the twenty-second victory of the season for Pitcher Paul Carpenter.

Fort Wayne put up a better fight in yesterday's battle than the day before, and led the leaders throughout the game except at the place where it counted, that is, at the end. The rally which won the game for the flag winners came in the eighth inning when they scored three runs and with only one run needed the Chiefs failed to come across and tie the score. Carpenter was in superb form and this factor counted largely in the winning by the champions. Carpenter was hit thirteen times but the hits did not come close enough to threaten the lead. Several times he pulled himself out of several tight places which should have won the game for Fort Wayne had some other Central league pitchers been on the mound against the Chiefs.

Fort Wayne scored her last run in the fifth inning when Braux doubled, which was followed by singles on the part of Miller and Smith, allowing Braux to score.

In the eighth inning with one down, Miller tried to throw the ball away in his effort to get Mathes, who went to third and came home on Edginton's drive. Miller doubled, sending Edginton to third and both scored when Jantzen's drive went over Hoffman's head. The leaders got a one run lead, enough to win, for the Chiefs were through scoring for the day.

It was understood at the time Hanneker was married that he would not return this fall, but he has written saying he will be back to lead the scarlet eleven.

George McAlevy, track athlete, who was married several weeks ago, has returned to this city and intends to enter college when it opens Sept. 26.

Gloom that has been hovering over Notre Dame's prospects for even a mediocre football team this fall was further intensified when Athletic Director Harper announced that Ray Whipple, two times a monogram end, and who had been counted on for yeoman service this fall, will not return to Notre Dame. "Hard" Whipple, as the veteran and is known on the campus at Notre Dame, though holding one of the last numbers in the conscription lottery, has accepted a position.

FINAL DAY OF TOURNEY.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 30.—Interest in the second and final day's play in the national patriotic tennis matches by the national stars at the east side tennis club here today centers in the match between Mary K. Browne, of California, and Molla Bjurstedt, national woman champion in the woman singles, and clashes between John Strachan, of the Pacific coast, and Harold Throckmorton, of New Jersey, in the men's singles. Men's doubles will end the competition.

MURRAY REIGNING KING OF THE TENNIS WORLD SHOWN IN ACTION

When the deeds of 1917 are written down in the lawn tennis histories the name of Robert Lindley Murray is certain to be placed before that of every other player. Murray clearly earned this honor by his decisive defeat of Nathaniel W. Niles, of Boston, in the final round of the national Red Cross singles.

LINCOLN LIVES HAVE TWO HARD BATTLES

George Mullin Will Hurl for Delphos Against Insurance Men.

The Lincoln Life team has two hard games ahead, one on next Sunday and the other on Labor day, when they meet the fast Delphos team at that place. George Mullin, ex-Detroit star pitcher, will be on the mound for the Ohio team in at least one of the games, and is certain to give the insurance men a hard fight.

Because of the fact that the Peoria games were transferred too late for the cancelling of the games at Delphos, the Lincoln Lives will not be back on the home lot until a week from Sunday. On that date will begin a big semi-pro city championship series. A number of teams have shown a desire to get into this series, including the All-Nations and Bude Meyers' new team.

The insurance men are confident of coming out on top in the games with Delphos Sunday and Monday. Wagner, former Central leaguer, will probably start Sunday's game, with Oestermeier on the mound Monday. Ingrave will probably be in shape to catch one of the games after a lay off on account of a broken finger. Hines will catch one of the games.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Minneapolis, Aug. 29.—St. Paul won two games from Minneapolis here yesterday, both by the same score, 7 to 4. The second game went eleven innings before a decision was finally reached, when Sawyer, with what should have been an easy double play, heaved the ball away, allowing St. Paul to score and starting the deluge which was halted only after the Saints had scored four runs. ### Kaws In Split.

Kansas City, Aug. 30.—Kansas City took the first game of a double-header here with Milwaukee yesterday but lost the second, the scores being 6-1 and 11-2. The Blues used three pitchers in the second game. "Lefty" Karosen started the second game and allowed four men to walk and was then retired in favor of Smith, who could not hold the Brewers. Beals Becker, Blue outfielder, took up the mound duties in the third and pitched good ball except in the eighth, when he allowed two runs. Score: R.H.E.

Dope Running True to Form in Women's Golf Tourney

Precocious Youngster May Prove Upset to Best Calculations.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Four matches, each containing a champion or former champion of 2 more or less extended territory, were staged today in the third round of the seventeenth annual championship tournament of the Women's Western Golf association at the Flossmoore Country club. Play thus far has been close to par and brilliant spurs by the feminine link artists have speckled score cards with birds and eagles.

Mrs. Fred Letts, present champion in the upper half of the draw, today met Miss Elizabeth Allen, of Rock Island, Ill., Iowa champion, for the fourth time in championship tournaments. The two played matches in the national championship in a previous western meet and in the finals of the Iowa championship. Miss Allen was victor on all these occasions. Both have played well thus far. Miss Allen scored 42 two under par on the second half, while Mrs. Letts was scoring what could well have been a par 88 for the 18 holes when she won her match on the 14th green.

The other match in the upper half was between Miss Vida Llewellyn, western champion in 1909, and Miss Lois Stumer, 16 years old, who has exhibited precocious golf, downing the experienced Miss Marjorie Edwards yesterday with a better than par for the 15 holes played. In the lower half Miss Frances Hadfield, champion of Wisconsin, met Mrs. F. Colburn and Miss Elaine Rosenthal, north and south champion, crossed cleeks with Mrs. J. W. Douglass.

OH! OH! BILL! LISTEN TO WHAT THE BOYS ARE SINGING ABOUT YOU

New York, Aug. 30.—When the American soldiers go into battle they will not sing any highbrow oratorio stuff set to reinforced music, as the Germans used to do when things were going their way. They will yell parodies of familiar American tunes and zippy march songs written by men they understand, like Sousa.

The war department is getting out a book of camp songs. Half a million copies are being run off by the presses. "Nobody is going to try to write popular songs for the soldiers. They won't have them. The boys are making their own songs," says Kenneth S. Clark, formerly of Princeton Triangle club, football and reunion songs, who has done the collecting. The songs most in favor now in the army and navy camps according to Clark treat the Kaiser in a shockingly disrespectful manner. Here is the biggest hit:

"WHEN SAMMY COMES DRIVING HOME."

When Sammy goes driving to Berlin.
Hurrah! Hurrah!
With a spirit that's always bound to win.
Hurrah! Hurrah!
Old Kaiser Bill will cry for help.
But he's all in; just let him yell.
And we'll give three cheers
When Sammy comes driving home.
This is another strong favorite, sung to the tune "Dixie":
In khaki suit and army visor
All aboard to can the Kaiser.
Look away! Look away! Look away,
Germany!

In Kaiserland he reigns alone:
We'll push the Kaiser off his throne.
Look away! Look away! Look away,
Germany!

We're off to can the Kaiser,
Hurrah! Hurrah!
In Kaiserland we'll take our stand
Untill we can the Kaiser.
Let's go, let's go, let's go and can the Kaiser.
Let's go, let's go, let's go and can the Kaiser.

To the music of "Brighten the Corner" many of the camps are now singing "Back to the Corner".
Back to your corner,
The allies have licked you.
There's no doubt,
Put the gloves away,
You'll never fight another bout.
Back to your corner.
(Shouted)
Bill, you're out!
This one is stolen from the British:
"THE BELLS OF HELL."
The bells of hell go ting-a-ling-a-ling
For you but not for me.
In heaven the angels sing-a-ling-a-ling.
That's where I'm going to be.
Oh, death, where is thy sting-a-ling-a-ling.
Oh, grave thy victory?
No ting-a-ling-a-ling.
No sting-a-ling-a-ling.
But sing-a-ling-a-ling for me.
To make it 60-60 the British front in France is now ringing with the American sentimental strain "The End of a Perfect Day."

BALL PLAYER'S FUNERAL TODAY.

The funeral of Fred "Cy" Alberts, known on the diamond by many Fort Wayne fans, occurred here today. The passing of Alberts recalls many incidents of the great national pastime as it was played here, to the minds of the local fans.

Alberts was always held in high esteem and his playing was beyond reproach for clean and hard efforts. His untimely death is regarded with sorrow by many admirers who have watched him playing for Fort Wayne.

TO REVISE SCHEDULE OF PASSENGER RATES

The Decatur Traction Line Wants to Have Straight Two Cent Basis.

In order to establish a straight two cent a mile basis, the Fort Wayne and Decatur Traction company has petitioned the public service commission at Indianapolis for authority to revise its schedule of passenger rates.

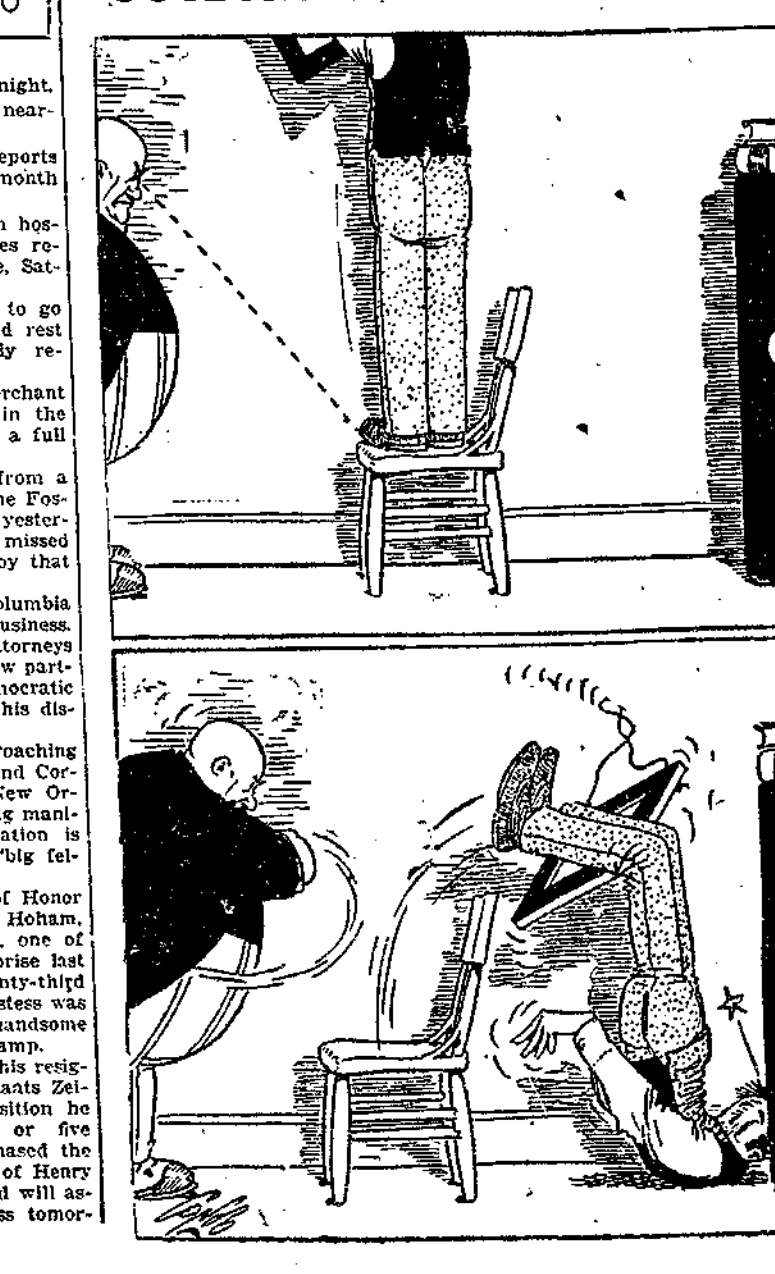

Among the things which the traction company wants to put in force under the new schedule is a minimum fare of five cents. The sale of round trip tickets for an amount less than two full fares would be discontinued.

COUNCIL RATIFIES GARBAGE CONTRACT

Rendering Company Will Take Care of City Waste for Ten Years.

Fort Wayne garbage will be taken care of by the rendering company for at least a period of ten years at no cost to the city, according to the contract between the rendering company and city officials and which was ratified by the council Wednesday evening.

The terms of the contract were agreed to by members of the board of works, Mayor W. J. Hosey, the city attorney and John F. Johnson, president of the Fort Wayne Rendering company, Wednesday evening, at 5:30 o'clock, after a conference of five hours.

There was no dissenting vote in the council when the matter of the contract was presented before the body by Councilman "Gene" Smith, vice president of the body and who acted as head of the organization in the absence of William Beyer.

Provisions of the contract are as follows:

"The rendering company is to dispose of the city garbage for a period of ten years.

"All garbage that is now collected and disposed of at the municipal incinerating plant is to be collected by the city as heretofore and to be delivered to the company's rendering plant east of the city. To make up for the extra distance from the present crematory to the rendering plant the rendering company agrees to pay to the city the sum of $1,500 toward the purchase of additional vehicles. The rendering company has the exclusive right to dispose of the city's garbage and no other person or firm shall receive any of the city's garbage during that period.

"During the same period the rendering company agrees to respond promptly to all calls for removal of animal stock, dead or alive, which the city desires to be killed or disposed of. The company also agrees to construct and maintain for the benefit of the city and animal pound where animals impounded by the city may be kept until called for by the owners or ordered to be killed by the city. A fee for feeding these animals is to be paid from impounding fees collected by the city.

"The company also agrees to accept, separate from garbage, tin cans, junk, waste paper and other waste material, and must accept garbage and dead animal matter that may be delivered by private citizens and dispose of the same without expense to the city and citizen.

"The company promises to maintain its plant in good condition, to keep the roadways upon its premises in possible condition and use modern and practical methods in disposing of the garbage and all other matter delivered at its plant.

"The city is given the right to make rigid inspections of the plant by competent men and demand an annual report on January 1 of each year. This report is to contain detailed information as to the tonnage of garbage, etc., disposed of at the plant during the past year and all other desired information.

"Within ten days after ratification of the contract by the city council the rendering company is to execute a bond of $10,000. From this bond the city is to recover $1 for each ton of material the company fails, neglects or refuses to accept or dispose of at its plant."

The war has shut off the European trade in firecrackers and fireworks generally out of Hong-Kong, but the United States continues to take perhaps $250,000 worth of such goods out of the Hong-Kong field annually. The trade the last year has been hampered by high freights and particularly by a lack of service of sailing ships from Hong-Kong to New York. Usually there are sailing ships on the berth in Hong-Kong, for the east coast of the United States and because of the cheap freights and other advantages they offer they almost invariably carry a large quantity of firecrackers for the American market.

SAVE for the SAILORS

Your Spare Change Put in a Navy League Bank
Will Provide Comforts for the Boys at Sea.

SAVE FOR THE SAILORS AND MARINES. Is the appeal now made by the Navy League of the United States to the American people. Money is needed to increase the Comforts Fund, which the League administers to provide for the welfare and comfort of the men of the U. S. Navy and the Marine Corps.

This fund provides those enlisted for the Nation's defense with extra woolen clothing for war service that is sorely needed in the cold, camp climate of the submarine zone, and by the Marines in the trenches in France. It gives the men of the Navy such comforts as kit bags with buttons, spoons of thread, scissors, and needles, and assembled to make it easier for Jack to get along aboard ship without the attentions of the ministering angels he has left behind at home. It provides them with comfort bags containing everything from soap to candy and from tobacco pouches to paper, pencils, safety pins, scrub brushes and playing cards. It gave the men of the Atlantic Fleet a 110 acre athletic field with baseball diamonds and every provision for outdoor recreation when the Fleet was ordered to a secret base upon the declaration of war. Had it not been for this athletic field, the sailors would have had no place ashore where they could go for clean, healthy sport. All this and much more the Comforts Fund does for the men of our Navy; sometimes providing for their small comforts, sometimes adding to their recreation, and oftentimes, as when woolen garments, sea boots and rubber coats are given to the men of a destroyer ordered to the war zone, making an important contribution to their health and fighting efficiency.

Now the Navy League needs more money to carry on this good work. War enlistments are increasing the personnel of the Navy and Marine Corps to three times their size six months ago. The exigencies of war service have also greatly increased the demands upon the Comforts Fund. Therefore the Navy League is calling for 10,000 patriotic Americans to help it raise money for the Comforts Fund. The League is distributing coin boxes all over the country asking persons to drop into them their spare nickels, dimes and quarters and to solicit such small contributions from their friends. If you want to help provide for the welfare and comfort of the men of the Navy or the Marines, write to the

WASHINGTON
May 18, 1917.

My dear Mrs. Frazer:

The enlisted men on board the American Destroyers now in European waters were generously furnished by your Comforts Committee with sweaters, mufflers and wristlets prior to their departure from the United States; and I am sending this letter to let you know that the same were most acceptable and genuinely appreciated.

Yours sincerely,
James Carroll Frazer

Secretary of the Navy.

Mrs. James Carroll Frazer,
1316 16th Street,
Washington, D.C.

Navy League Headquarters, 1201 Sixteenth street, N. W., Washington, D. C., asking for one of these coin boxes. The League will write you, telling you how you can obtain one of them and giving you directions for turning your savings over to the welfare fund of the sailors and marines.

In many cities the League has made arrangements with certain banks to have on hand for distribution a supply of these coin boxes. Ask at your bank for one of them, and if your bank is an agent of the League, you can get a coin box there, together with the directions sent out from the Navy League headquarters. But the League has no other authorized agents than these banks. Be certain, therefore, that you do not turn your coin box, when it is filled, over to anyone except to the Navy League headquarters in Washington, or to a bank which is an authorized agent of the League. The League will inform you whether there is a bank in your town that is authorized to act as its agent.

If only five cents a day is dropped into your coin box, in two months time you will have saved enough money to buy the wool to make some sailor's complete outfit of woolen comfort garments, which will mean a great deal to him when he goes to sea and perhaps to spend months and months on patrol duty on a destroyer in the North Sea or in the war zone where the climate is both cold and excessively damp. Good woolen clothing, with a helmet that he can pull down over his head to his shoulders, a warm sweater, a muffler and wristlets will make life much cheerier for him.

Recently the Comforts Committee of the Navy League has undertaken to supply some of these woolen garments to British, French and Russian sailors. The women of England have been engaged in this work for a long time, but the needs of the British navy, with the thousands and thousands of men they have placed in their anti-submarine patrol service, has made the demand so heavy that they welcome this assistance from their sisters in America. Also there is a very great need of these garments in some cases among French and Russian sailors. Not many of the French sailors are in northern waters, but those who are need this help from America. The Russian sailors have work to do in the northern fleet and the League is sending garments for these men to Archangel. If you like to feel that your money has gone to help the lot of these brave sailors of our allies you may so direct and the Navy League will follow your directions.

But the most of the work to be done is for the United States Navy. American women enlisted for this patriotic work with the Navy League have built up, in the short period of four months, a nation-wide industry in which more than 100,000 American women are engaged. Navy League units are in every State in the country and in every city of consequence, from Maine to Florida, from New York to California. It is a tremendous task to keep this organization going and supplied with materials. Most of the women engaged in the work, of course, buy their own materials, besides giving their labor to the making of the articles. But many of them cannot afford this. Consequently the League buys the material at the lowest prices, and then with their labor given to the work the sailors are provided with comforts of every sort.

Unless you have had service on a warship, in war time, in foreign waters, it would be difficult for you to appreciate how much the sailor man needs the endless number of small comforts that at home were provided for him—he knew not how. Some of these things he very badly needs to preserve his health—woolen clothing, for instance. Do you know that Congress does not appropriate money for the sailor to buy any renewal of his uniforms or clothing? When he enlists he is given a complete outfit, although that outfit does not include the woolen garments the League supplies him, and when that first outfit is worn out or lost, he must buy clothes to replace it with his own money and he does not get any too much pay for his services. In time of war the wear and tear on uniforms is much greater than in peace time. Even if a sailor is wounded, when he throws away his blood-stained and torn clothing, he must pay for the uniform he purchases to replace it out of his own pocket. In a great many instances, no doubt, the comfort garments which the Navy League will provide the sailors, will go to men who have been wounded to outfit them when they leave the hospital.

Besides these things that the sailor needs for the sake of his health, there are many comforts that he wants to make life cheerier for him. Suppose that a few nickels of yours had bought a pack of playing cards that a sailor fished out of a comfort bag one day when he was off duty for a few hours over on the other side, wouldn't those be about the most worth while nickels you had ever earned if they gave four sailors an hour or two of fun. Or if the needle and thread and button that your contribution to the coin box bought for him, helped that sailor keep his outfit trim, that would be worth while, too. Those are presents you would like to make. You can do it if you will write to the Navy League for one of those coin boxes.

FORT WAYNE & DECATUR WOULD REVISE RATES

Petitions Utilities Board for Authority to Make Changes of Fare.

The Fort Wayne & Decatur Traction company has filed with the Public Service Commission at Indianapolis, a petition asking for authority to revise its schedule of passenger rates on the general basis of two cents per mile.

Under the new schedule, a minimum fare of five cents is provided. The commutation ticket books are to remain in force as formerly, also the use of the One Thousand Mile mileage book. The sale of round-trip tickets at amounts less than two full fares is to be discontinued. The fares for children between five and twelve years of age, according to the petition, to be based on one cent a mile. The petition filed with the Commission states that the application of the rule for the computing of fares at present by the two cent fare law, leads to many inequalities and inconsistencies. All of the discriminatory rates charged at the present time will be eliminated; in other words, the passenger will pay for just exactly the number of miles he travels on the basis of two cents per mile. This system of charging, it is believed, will meet the approval of the public in general and will eliminate the criticisms and complaints that are frequently made, of unjust and unfair charges, made by patrons adversely affected.

Statement Made by the Company.

The following statement concerning the petition filed with the Public Service Commission has been made by the Fort Wayne & Decatur Traction company:

The new schedule of interurban fares for which the Commission has been petitioned, introduced what is known as the "Copper Zone" or "Penny Zone" system, in place of the "Nickel Zone" or "Five Cent Zone" system, which has been in use on the interurban lines as well as on the steam roads in Indiana. Under both systems, the rate of fare is two cents per mile. By the "Nickel Zone" system, the fares are computed in multiples of five, the fare being the multiple of five reached by multiplying the rate by the distance and determining the distance, the law requires that fractions less than one-half mile shall be disregarded and all other fractions counted as one mile. As a result of the calculating fares in this way, the actual rate per mile traveled varies greatly, for instance: The fare for a ride of 3.4 miles is five cents, or a little less than 1 1/2 cents per mile; the fare for a ride of 3.8 miles is ten cents, or about three cents per mile. A ride of any distance no matter how short, beyond the point where the fares change, adds five cents to the fare. The discriminatory rates which have thus been created, have been the source of many complaints, particularly in the cases of the interurban companies whose passengers are largely short ride travelers. A number of instances showing discriminations have been presented to the Commission.

Under the petition asking for the establishment of the "Copper Zone" system of fares, all fares will be calculated at the former rate of two cents per mile, but half mile zones will be calculated at one cent, instead of two and one-half miles at five cents each. As a result, passengers will pay at the same rate as nearly as possible for the distance traveled. The addition of one-half mile to the ride will make a difference of only one cent in the fare paid, instead of five cents as is frequently the case under the present system.

Taking the cases referred to, a passenger who travels 3.4 miles will pay 7 cents, instead of five cents, while a passenger who travels 3.8 miles will pay 8 cents instead of 10 cents. The increase in one case and the decrease in the other will be 2 cents. Both passengers will pay the same rate per mile as the other, instead of one paying almost twice the rate per mile as the other.

The change in fares which the new system would effect will be in some cases to increase and in other cases to decrease the present rates, while in still other cases, no change will be made. The principal reason for the change at this time in the tariff has been due to the enforcement of the portion of the Public Utility Act which refers to "discrimination." The new system will do away with the discrimination existing under the "Nickel Zone" system, but the practical objections to computing fares in odd cents have made interurban officials slow to adopt the "Copper Zone" system. The great number of just complaints concerning cases of fare discriminations under the "Nickel Zone" system, have caused the "Copper Zone" system to gain favor and it is now being used by several interurban roads in the state, while other interurban roads have on file with the Commission at the present time, petitions asking for the establishment of the "Copper Zone" system.

It is the belief of the officials of the Fort Wayne & Decatur Traction company that the new system will be generally approved by the public, as it will eliminate discrimination.—Advertisement.

THE MAN WHO WILL RUN WHEAT SUPPLY

Barnes, Uncle Sam's Grain Boss, is Big Enough for the Job.

Staff Special.

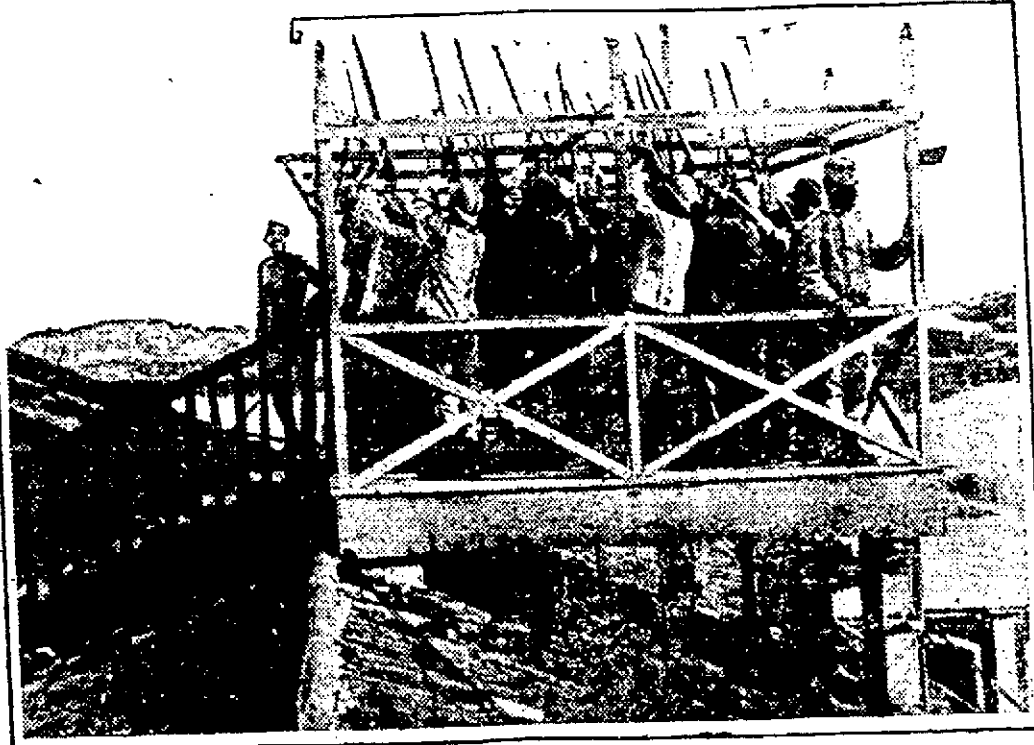

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—Julius H. Barnes, of Duluth, selected by President Wilson to head the $50,000,000 grain corporation organized under the food administration, looks big enough for the job.

He is tall, broad-shouldered, athletic, and after watching him in action a few minutes, listening to his orders, seeing the dispatch with which

trade. He developed his own concern—Barnes-Ames Co., of Duluth, Winnipeg and New York—until it was the largest wheat exporting firm in the world.

Following the declaration of war, however, the firm withdrew from business for the period of the war and Barnes volunteered his services to the government. He was placed in an advisory position with Hoover in the food administration, pending passage of the food control bill, and is now at the head of the corporation upon which the rest work of stabilizing prices and distribution of wheat and flour will rest.

Next to business, Barnes' chief interest is in good sports. In 1895 he was No. 1 stroke in the Duluth four-cared crew which won the cup at the regatta of the Winnipeg Rowing association. One mark of his interest in this sport is his gift of a fine boat club house to Duluth. Last year he promised the club, then having 1,500 members, that if it came through the regatta to be held that fall without a deficit he would give the club a natatorium. The club made good and Barnes has just turned over to it a great natatorium costing $70,000.

One hundred grain traders were at a meeting in Washington a few days ago at which Barnes' plans were revealed. All dealing in futures was to be eliminated. A large number of grain men were to be put out of business and the dealings of others greatly narrowed.

Nevertheless the plan was unanimously endorsed, although many dealers would suffer.

Before any man may become a part of the food administration, he must divest himself of any interest in the grain or food business and must serve without pay. Barnes, in picking his assistants, the men who will have charge of buying grain at terminals, for instance, simply decided on the men he would like to have, tapped them on the shoulder and asked them to volunteer.

Without exception these men gave up their businesses and stepped into the ranks to serve with Barnes. He had their confidence, their trust.

FORT WAYNE SOLDIER BOYS ARE GIVEN SOCKS

Artillery Regiment, First
by Hoosier Women.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—The thoughtfulness and love that Indiana women have for sons of the state who are ready to serve their country were represented in the countless stitches required to knit the 3,612 pairs of wool socks, which were presented to the 1,806 men and officers of the First Indiana Field Artillery regiment, soon to go overseas, in a simple ceremony at Fort Benjamin Harrison yesterday afternoon.

After Charles A. Bookwalter's address, which was received with hearty applause, the men, who had stood in massed formation, were marched to the head of their respective battery and company streets and there they received the socks from committees of women.

Trained soldiers are universally courteous and polite, and as each one of these sons of Indiana stepped forward to receive two pairs of socks he either doffed his hat or saluted. The courtesy extended won the admiration of the women.

"Size 12, please," smiled a six footer of Battery D (Fort Wayne) as he received two pairs of the socks from Mrs. W. H. Coburn. Assisting Mrs. Coburn was Miss Florence Hancock.

"I thank you so much," exclaimed a dapper young man of Battery B (Fort Wayne) as he stepped forward, raised his hat, and received his share of the socks from Miss Carolyn Conde.

Every man of Battery A (Indianapolis) lifted his hat and expressed his sincere thanks as he received two pairs of socks from Mrs. Hervey Bates, Jr., and Mrs. C. C. Krier.

The same courteous expressions came from the men of Battery C, Battery E, Battery F, the Headquarters Company and the Supply company.

at two and one-half cents. The company complied, and for a time furnished the paper, but later declared "increasing production costs compelled it to raise the price to three cents."

Got the Figures.

Senator Fletcher went to the federal trade commission for its cost of production figures, and the committee decided the International could sell for 2 1/2 cents and still make a fair profit. The situation then was laid before President Wilson, who asked Attorney General Gregory for an opinion as how far he could go under the defense act. The attorney general held that a supply of paper for the Bulletin was necessary for war purposes, and recommended the paper be taken if the two and one-half cents was a fair price.

The result was that the president directed Mr. Baker to go ahead, and the International was ordered to supply a sufficient amount of paper to print the Bulletin at two and one-half cents.

Germany because a solemn treaty was not to us a "serap of paper." We did not enter into this war because we had any selfish interest to promote or any ill-conceived ambition to gratify. We are in the war, insist on being in it, and we shall stay in it because earnestly, as a nation and as individuals, we believe in the righteousness of the cause for which we stand, because we believe that only by a complete victory for that cause can there be made a righteous, honorable and permanent peace, so that this world may be made safe for all men to live in, and so that all nations may work out their destinies untrammelled by fear.

"Mr. President and Gentlemen: Whatever the critics, half-informed, or the hired slanderers say against us, in forming your judgment of Japan we ask you only to use those splendid abilities that guide this great nation. The plotter against our good neighborhood takes advantage of the fact that at this time of the world's crisis, many things must of necessity remain untold and unrecorded in the daily newspapers, but we are satisfied that we are doing our best. In this tremendous work, as we move together, shoulder to shoulder to a certain victory, America and Japan must have many things in which the one can help the other. We have much in common and much to do in concert. That is the reason I have been sent and that is the reason you have received me here today."

"I have an earnest and abiding faith that this association of ours—in the highest, most sacred and most trying of human activities—the armed vindication of right and justice—must bring us to a still closer concord and a deeper confidence one in the other, sealing for all time the bonds of cordial friendship between our two nations."

Senator Saulsbury's Welcome.

In presenting Viscount Ishii to the senate, Senator Saulsbury, of Delaware, president pro tempore of the senate and acting in the absence of Vice President Marshall, declared the occasion "symbolizes complete international fraternity, which common consciousness of international honor has brought about."

Referring to German propaganda, Senator Saulsbury said evil attempts had been made to breed distrust and hatred among friends of the United States. "Japan," he continued, "joins our great young nation in pledging anew a continuance of our old friendship between our two nations."

ship, which the trouble makers of the earth has tried so hard to interrupt. "We now know how industriously insidious attempts have been made by the Prussian masters of the German people to bring about distrust and hatred in the world. We know what evil attempts they have made to breed hatred and distrust of us among our friends, and we welcome this opportunity to heartily congratulate our old friends who honor us today that by the capture of Tsing Tau and the German islands, Japan has completely removed from the far eastern world the only threat, as we believe, to peace and prosperity, the only threat to lasting peace in eastern Asia."

"Made in Germany." "The yellow peril" was made in Germany, and Shanghai was seized; the Slav peril was made in Germany, and Serbia was overwhelmed and Russia invaded, but the thick witted, smug, self-centered supermen of Germany entering their last attempt at conquest, have roused a real peril—a real peril to themselves—and the free nations who believe in international honor, in the binding force of treaties and in the pledged word and grins, though so sorrowfully engaged in creating, perfecting and bringing to successful issue an alliance for the benefit of all earth's people which will protect the rights of nations, small and great, and enable them to lead their lives in peace and lead them unafraid.

"Let us never permit hereafter that evil tongues or wicked propaganda shall cause even the simplest minded among our people to forget the ancient friendship of our nations or weaken the ties of mutual respect and regard in which we hold each other."

No False Peace Possible.

"Let there be no fear that rumors of peace or possibilities of a cessation of the struggle will cause us to omit one moment of our activities on sea and shore," he said. "Not until the peace treaty is actually signed will we remit one single item from our program of preparation. Our citizens need have no fear that we will be lulled into any relaxation or deceived by the mirage of peace, which is no peace, into slackening of our activities."

The secretary declared that the government had been dilatory in providing for its war needs. Had attention been given to the far-sighted advocates of preparedness, he said, the country would not have entered the war with wholly inadequate facilities.

tion north of Vaux-les-Palameix and week ending August 19. The sinking report from London, French shipping suffered less from submarine attacks than in the preceding week. The crew was saved.

Although there was a slight increase in the number of British vessels sunk last week, as shown by last night's report from London, French shipping suffered less from submarine attacks than in the preceding week. The French losses totaled four vessels, as compared with nine the week ending August 19. The sinking by a submarine of an American vessel, the schooner Laura C. Anderson, is reported today. The crew was saved.

Rome today reports the repulse of Austrian counter attacks in the Insonzo region. The Italians held all their positions firmly and even gained ground at points. They took 560 prisoners.

Strong measures apparently are being taken by the Russian military authorities to deal with disorganization among the troops on the Rumanian front. Two regiments were involved in a voluntary abandonment of trenches in the Poleshian region yesterday. The Petrograd war office reported that one of these was "dispersed" and that measures have been taken to restore the positions affected.

Previous traitorous conduct on the part of large bodies of Russian troops gave Field Marshal von Mackensen an opening in this important front of which he was quick to take advantage. Already the Russo-Rumanian lines have been pushed back some distance, and the overrunning of the remainder of Moldavia and even a push into the fertile Russian territory beyond, in the direction of Odessa, seems a possibility if the Teutonic movement gets a much greater impetus.

able from Vienna, Constantinople and Sofia.

FIRST STANDARDIZED SHIP.

London, Aug. 30.—The first of the British government standardized merchant steamers to replace tonnage lost through submarines, it is announced, has been commissioned after completing most successful trials. The keel was laid down in February, and the hull was launched in June. It is understood that six different types of vessels, varying in size from 8,000 tons downward, are being built. Many hundreds of such ships will be constructed.

MICHAELIS IN BRUSSELS.

Amsterdam, Aug. 30.—The arrival in Brussels of the German chancellor, Dr. George Michaelis, for the purpose of gathering information regarding conditions in Belgium, is reported in a Berlin telegram. The chancellor received members of the council of Flanders.

ATTACK ON FRANKFORT FAILS.

Amsterdam, Aug. 30.—An entente aerial squadron attempted to attack Frankfort-on-the-Main last Sunday, the Berliner Tageblatt reports. The squadron, which came from the west, is said to have been forced to return when half way between Mainz and Frankfurt, because of the activity of anti-aircraft guns.

KEEP HINDENBERG DAY.

Amsterdam, Aug. 30.—German newspapers print long commemorative articles of the battle of Tannenberg, in which the Russians were defeated on August 29, 1914. They praise Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General von Ludendorff, the German commanders, and hail their appointment to power as the decisive turning point in the military leadership of the central powers.

A military concert was held yesterday at the wooden statue of von Hindenburg in Berlin. It was said that $50,000 marks have been realized from the sale of nails to be driven into the statue.

about its character," says the Manchester Guardian. After declaring that the position of the president is clear and logical, the newspaper gives several extracts from Premier Lloyd George's speech at Glasgow last June, which, it says, are much the same in spirit as Mr. Wilson's message to the pope, continuing: "President Wilson's policy comes very near to the formula of peace with the Hohenzollerns, but it would be unfair not to recognize the very narrow but deep gulf that separates him from that formula. The way in which he prefers to put his policy is that no peace can be enduring without the guarantee of the German people."

PRODIGIOUS ARTILLERY WORK.

Paris, Aug. 30.—The number of artillery men employed in the recent operations in the Verdun region was greater than the number of infantrymen put into the battle line. The surprising fact is explained by the correspondence of the Temps at Verdun as being due to the difficulty of the gunners' tasks in addition to the immense number of cannon. Heavy shells had to be carried to the guns for hours at a stretch by men who were compelled to wear masks which rendered breathing difficult and obstructed their vision.

The correspondent adds that the object of the artillery now is less directed to destroying enemy guns than to forcing the German gunners to suspend service and seek shelter. For this purpose, he says, gas shells are employed largely.

PETAINE GETS DECORATION.

Verdun, Aug. 29.—(Delayed.)—President Poincare, personally presented today to General Petain, the French commander-in-chief, the grand cross of the Legion of Honor, awarded to him several days ago for the recent successes here. The presentation was made in the Place d'Armes. In his presentation address the president said: "Our enemies try in vain to disgrace history and spread among neutrals false tales made to order. They try desperately to shake off the responsibilities that crush them. In vain do the false news mongers established in imperial cities, spread clouds of black smoke for a wind to blow across the frontier. These are dispersed one after the other by the rains of truth."

UTILITIES BOARD IS BUSY WITH PETITIONS

Many Public Service Concerns Seek Authority to Increase Rates.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—Hearings on petitions of many of the public utility companies in the state furnishing heat to patrons in which the right to place sur-charges on bills is asked, began today before the Indiana public service commission. The testimony of representatives of the Noblesville Heat, Light and Power company, asking for a 30 per cent temporary sur-charge, and the Booneville Electric Light and Power company asking for a 50 per cent sur-charge which it hopes to gain permanently was heard this afternoon. Higher coal prices was the main reason for asking more money. The Noblesville company said it had expected to pay three dollars a ton for coal this winter and the price of $2.20 at the mines fixed by the president made coal cost them about that amount when the freight rate is paid.

Other companies which have petitions before the commission and which will present their case today or tomorrow are Frankfort Heating company, Logansport Heat and Power company, Indiana Railways and Lighting company, Citizens Mutual Heating company of Terre Haute, Central Indiana Lighting company, Bloomington, and Interstate Public Service company supplying service to Bedford, Newcastle, Lebanon and Fowler.

BIG FIRE IN LAFAYETTE.

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 30.—The Peerless Veneer Goods company, which has been filling government orders of this city, was totally destroyed by fire shortly before noon today and fears that nearby property was doomed caused a call to be sent for the West Lafayette fire department to assist the local force. Loss to the Peerless company is placed at $25,000 partly covered by insurance.

W. Gray, Civil War Veteran

from Lima, Ohio, Dies Suddenly.

A civil war veteran, believed to be W. Gray, of Lima, Ohio, died suddenly at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Ormston, 1122 Wells street, where he had asked for the privilege of resting a few minutes.

"I about exhausted," he told Mrs. Ormston. "Would you mind if I lie down for a while?"

NOW FOR THE OTHERS!

"WRITE A PLAY" IS ADVICE OF VILLER

Famous Dramatist Says It is Biggest Money Making
Business.

"Write a play—it is the best paying job you can get," was the advice given to people who have dramatic aspirations, by Dyer Viller, author of "The Thirteenth Chair" and "Within the Law," and one of the noted playwrights of the day, through an interview with a Sentinel reporter Thursday.

"The time has come when anything which has good idea in it is eagerly accepted by producers who cannot fill the demand for plays. Every play written now is sure of receiving consideration in the manager's office, whereas fifteen years ago it took a long time for a playwright to obtain prominence enough to have his work considered," said Mr. Viller.

The famous playwright, who is in the city to attend the opening performance of his play, "The Thirteenth Chair," in its first appearance outside of New York, said that he had made more than a quarter of a million dollars from his one play, "Within the Law," and that as much more would be made from his run in the movies. Mr. Viller declared also that he expected to make as much from his play which is appearing here with four road companies. Annie Russell will make her first appearance in "The Thirteenth Chair" Thursday night in this city.

The dramatist said that there would be eight new theaters completed in New York city within the next year and that any play written with anything of merit was sure to be taken up by the producers even for the purpose of taking over parts that are good. Mr. Viller said that "Within the Law," "The Thirteenth Chair" and "Fog o' My Heart" had been the three greatest money-making plays produced in the last ten years.

Mr. Viller was at one time a newspaper reporter and later a dramatic critic. He said that it took him two years to write the play, "Within the Law," but that he had been more than repaid for it.

ASKED TO LIE DOWN; DEATH FOLLOWS SOON

W. Gray, Civil War Veteran
Suddenly.

A civil war veteran, believed to be W. Gray, of Lima, Ohio, died suddenly at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Ormston, 1122 Wells street, where he had asked for the privilege of resting a few minutes.

"I about exhausted," he told Mrs. Ormston. "Would you mind if I lie down for a while?"

The request was readily granted and Mrs. Ormston started to leave the room. When she turned around to look at the visitor she noted something wrong with him. He was dead before she could summon help.

Coroner J. E. McArdle was immediately called and pronounced death due to heart trouble.

The Ormstons' knew little of the deceased and are not certain of his name. Mr. Ormston had met him some weeks ago. A card was found in one of his pockets bearing the name of W. Gray. It is thought that he had come to Fort Wayne early Thursday morning to spend the day. He was apparently past seventy years old, was well dressed and wore a number of civil war badges.

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ormton was fatally injured two or three weeks ago when hit by an automobile.

RUSSIAN TROOPS IN CHARGE OF CHAMBER

Finnish Parliament at Helsingfors is Prevented
from Reassembling.

Helsingfors, Finland, Aug. 29.—Russian troops occupied the parliament buildings at an early hour today to prevent the re-assembling of the diet in defiance of the decision of the Russian government. The city is calm. The Helsingfors council of workmen's and soldiers' deputies has ordered the crews of warships to return to their vessels.

During the afternoon 100 deputies endeavored to enter the parliament building but were kept out by the troops. No disorders occurred. Senator Manninen, who sent out the call to protest to Governor Stakovich against his refusal to permit the diet to meet. The governor promised to call this protest to the attention of the provisional government.

TO USE BOX CARS FOR COAL.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—Notice to all railroads on which originate car load shipments of Indiana coal urging them to notify coal operators that probably they should equip their mines with machinery for loading coal in box cars were sent out today by the Indiana public service commission that action has been taken in Ohio. The notice from the commission says it is informed there are large numbers of box cars not fit for shipment of grain which could be used for coal.

BENEFIT FRIDAY NIGHT.

Social Will Be Given by B. O. B. Girls at Lakeside Park.

The lawn fete to have been given Tuesday evening by the girls of the B. O. B. club at Lakeside park will be held Friday evening, August 31. The proceeds will be turned over to the Red Cross. A musical program has been arranged for the occasion.

INDIANAPOLIS HAS BLAZE.

Indianapolis, Aug. 30.—Fire of unknown origin in the business rooms at 112-114 South Pennsylvania street caused damage of $50,000 today. The fire was discovered on the second floor of the rooms occupied by the Indiana Tinware company. Stocks of the Art Furniture company, Goodman Hosiery company and McCune & Ross, wholesale grocers, in rooms adjoining, were damaged by smoke and water.

GRIDIRON MEN IN DEMAND.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 30.—Star football players of Indiana colleges are in demand at Canton, Akron and Massillon, Ohio, where professional football will be played in the fall. Well known players of Ohio State, Indiana, Purdue, Illinois and Wisconsin have been offered contracts in which it is provided that players will receive from $50 to $200 per game.

MUST FIX ITS SCHEDULE.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 30.—Notre Dame university must rearrange its football schedule because of the cancellation of games by Ripon, Wis., and Kalamazoo, Mich., colleges. Unless these games can be replaced Notre Dame will stack up against Wisconsin without previous practice.

WANTS $50,000 HEARTEASE.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 30.—Edmund E. Etherington, of Laporte county, was today made defendant in a breach of promise suit wherein Miss Anna B. Prater, of Three Oaks, Mich., demands $50,000. The suit cites the marriage of Etherington to Mrs. M. H. Hays, of Laporte county. He is reputed to be wealthy.

FIRM UNDERTONE IN THE TRADING IN CORN

Slight Rallies Follow Declines—Wheat Traders
Wait for Price.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—There was a firm undertone in the corn trading today, and covering by shorts was apparent in the early transactions. Opening prices, which ranged from 4c lower to 1/2c higher, with December at $1.05 1/2 to $1.06 1/2, and May at $1.05 1/4 to $1.05 3/4, were followed by slight rallies.

The closing was strong and nearly the top, 1/2c to 1c higher, with December at $1.05 1/2 and May at $1.05 1/4.

Subsequent fluctuations were within narrow limits.

Wheat traders were eagerly waiting for announcement of the government price. Cash market was narrow and light in volume, pending the determination of the official figures.

Later transactions in cash wheat were slow but the market showed a firm undertone.

Oats were firm, with opening figures from a shade to 1/2c higher. Live hog prices which advanced again today, were reflected in gains in provisions, the first opening generally from 10c to 20c higher.

LOCAL MARKETS

FAIR WEATHER BRINGS FARMERS TO MARKET

Receipts on City Scales Are Heaviest of Season—Sixty-Four Loads.

Following the stormy weather of the early part of the week, when receipts on the local markets were practically nil, business was resumed with a rush Thursday morning, farmers hastening to bring the produce to while the weather remained fair.

On the city scales sixty-four loads were weighed in all, a record for the season. Hay was abundant, thirty-eight loads coming in. This sold for $12.50 to $15.00 per ton. Three loads of corn were weighed, bringing $1.65 to $1.70 per bushel, a slight advance over the mark of the previous day.

Oats receipts were also extremely heavy Thursday, twenty-three loads being weighed at the city scales. The prices ranged from 52c to 54c per bushel, which was an advance of 2c on the bushel over the former day's price.

Local millers remain firm on wheat quotations, with $2.00 to $2.04 the ruling prices. Eggs continue their advance, the ruling figures on the best grades on the wholesale market being 37c to 38c per dozen. Retailers quote a price of 41c per dozen.

COAL ORDER MAY HIT INDIANA HARD BLOW

Cuts Off for Time Supplies Carried by the Pennsylvania Lines.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—Indiana coal consumers were hit by an order issued yesterday by Judge Robert S. Lovett, director of transportation of coal in the United States, acting under the direction of President Wilson, which ordered that coal shipments to Lake Erie ports for the northwest be given preference over the movement of fuel to other points. E. I. Lewis, chairman of the Indiana public service commission, expressed the fear yesterday that the order, directed to officials of the Pennsylvania lines, will work a great hardship on coal consumers here and at other points in the state, who are dependent upon mines located on the Pennsylvania lines for their supply of fuel.

The order affects the states included in what is known as the central competitive bituminous district. In Indiana it applies for the present to the Vincennes and St. Louis divisions of the Pennsylvania lines.

The information regarding the government's plans for relieving the coal shortage in the northwest was contained in a telegram directed to officials of the Pennsylvania lines and designated "Priority Order No. 1," in which Judge Lovett stated that he was acting under the direction of the president. The order was directed to what is known as the third district, which includes Indiana, Ohio and bituminous coal producing states in the middle west.

Measure of Defense.
It directs railroads serving Lake Erie ports to give priority to transportation of coal to them with the view of getting as much coal as possible to northern Lake Michigan and Lake Superior ports before navigation closes. The telegram to the officials of the Pennsylvania lines stated that the order was issued as a measure of national defense and security.

Chairman Lewis stated yesterday afternoon that he learned of Judge Lovett's order through coal operators on the Pennsylvania lines, who said that they had called upon the Pennsylvania officials to put in their order for cars for today and were informed that the company will be obliged for the present to divert its cars to the northwestern transportation. Several Indiana operators left for Chicago last night in the hope of obtaining cars from other lines to take care of their business.

Chairman Lewis said that he has known for some time that the government officials have been concerned about the coal situation in the northwest. On August 1 there was less than 1,000,000 tons of bituminous coal at Duluth, Minn., for the northwest consumers, whereas normally 3,000,000 tons should have been received by that date. Chairman Lewis said that he learned yesterday afternoon that following Judge Lovett's telegram an order was issued to the Pennsylvania lines by the American Railway association to divert all coal cars to the northwest market for the present.

Fear Hardship Here.
Fear was expressed by Chairman Lewis that the plan to give priority to the northwest will work a great hardship on the large coal consumers here and at other Indiana points. He is apprehensive that the public utilities which are dependent upon the mines on the Pennsylvania road for their supply of coal will be handicapped greatly.

The public service commission has been devoting itself to getting cars for the Indiana operators and it has succeeded in improving the situation. Chairman Lewis said, however, that for the last two weeks the Knox county operators depend on the Vincennes division of the Pennsylvania for an outlet for their coal.

Chairman Lewis stated that he was informed late yesterday afternoon that the Big Four railroad has not received the order that was delivered to the Pennsylvania lines. The order, as it stood last night, will affect a large part of the Indiana coal field. Chairman Lewis said that the telegram from Judge Lovett is a part of the national policy to give priority to coal shipments to the northwest until navigation is closed, but the public service commission will try to get in touch with Judge Lovett today to see what steps can be taken for the protection of Indiana consumers.

LIVED ON SAME FARM SEVENTY-TWO YEARS

Philip Berg, Pioneer of Marion Township, Passes Away of Paralysis.

Philip Berg, age 73, years, and a pioneer resident of Marion township, died Thursday morning at 3 o'clock. Death was due to paralysis, and came after an illness of two weeks. He was first stricken two weeks ago, while milking a cow at his home.

Born on October 12, 1845, Philip Berg was one of the oldest and best known farmers of Marion township. He was born on a farm near Hesse Cassel, and spent his whole life time, a period of nearly seventy-three years, on the same farm. He was active in church affairs, and always took a deep interest in the many societies of the church, near Hesse Cassel, and belonged to the St. Joseph Church society, Holy Rosary society, Holy Name society, Poor Souls society and Holy Family society.

Although nearly seventy-three years of age, Mr. Berg was the first of his immediate family to die. He leaves the wife and eight children, Frank, Anthony and Clem Berg, of Marion township; Mrs. Henry Smith and Mrs. Alexander Fox, of Marion township; Mrs. John F. Hoffman, of this city; Mrs. William McDanahy, of Detroit, and Mrs. William Denzel, of New Haven. Thirty-three grandchildren and two great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services Monday morning at 9 o'clock, standard time, at the home, and at 10 o'clock at the St. Joseph church. Interment in Hesse Cassel cemetery.

RUSHBOLT.

Charles Rushbolt, seven-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rushbolt, 116 Brackenridge street, died at the family home Thursday morning at 6 o'clock. Death was due to cholera infantum. Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home. Interment in Lindenwood.

SNYDER.

William E. Snyder, age 51 years, died at the home of his brother, Charles Snyder, 223 East Main street, Wednesday afternoon. The deceased was formerly a resident of Kalamazoo, Mich., coming to this city only one year ago, upon the death of his wife. He was a moulder by trade, and had been actively engaged in his trade until he became sick a short time ago. The brother, at whose home he died, is the only surviving relative. The remains will be sent by Klaehn and Melching to Somerset, for burial.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Advertising in The Sentinel

Lowers the Cost of Selling

This is not a time for haphazard business methods.

Clear thinking must convince you that advertising lowers the cost of selling and consequently it lowers the cost of a product to the ultimate consumer.

Advertising is the greatest price reducer of business. It brings increased demand and thus allows for economies of large production and broad scale buying. This decreases proportionate overhead. Advertising is equally effective for distributing or retailing. There is no honest product whose selling cost and hence its selling price can not be reduced by advertising of some kind. And there are very few propositions that can not be profitably merchandised through The Sentinel advertising.

The Sentinel realizes the waste of carrying advertising that does not bring profitable results. This is not a time for careless business. If The Sentinel believes your business can be helped through its advertising columns, every effort will be made through the soliciting force to show you the merits of Sentinel publicity. On the other hand if The Sentinel is convinced that its advertising will not pay you, The Sentinel will tell you so just as frankly.

Sentinel expert advertising men are at your service and ready at all times to help you solve your merchandising problems. Do not hesitate to call for one of them.
